Two Area Firms Incorporated

Wade O. Martin, Jr., secretary of state, announced Friday that two area businesses had filed articles of incorporation with his office.

The Home Office Supply company, Inc., 115 Cotton street, West Monroe, was reported to have a capital investment of $50,000. It will deal in general office supplies.

Named as officers in the corporation were Carl W. Slakter, Mrs. Betty W. Slakter and Thomas W. Leigh.

In Farmerville, the Farmerville Insurance Agency, Inc., 700 Main street, reported a total capital investment of $100,000.

The Lakeshore Subdivision, Inc., of Monroe was reported to be dissolved by Martin. The company handled the real estate in the Lakeshore and Broadmoor subdivisions near Monroe.

British Reject UN Demands To Withdraw

Lloyd Says Force To Remain At Suez For Replacements

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 23 (AP)— Britain refused today to obey a rising clamor from the United States, Soviet Union, Latin America, Asia and Africa for British, French and Israeli forces to withdraw now from Egypt.

Instead, British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd told the U. N. Assembly in firm tones that Britain will maintain her forces at Port Said in the Suez Canal zone until London feels the U. N. peace patrol can carry out effectively the tasks assigned to it.

Lloyd teamed with British commanders in Egypt in saying one battalion of British troops was being ordered out almost immediately as a token act of faith in the U. N. The British-French commander in Egypt, Gen. Sir Charles Keightley, said the withdrawal there will be "related to the United Nations buildup—as fast as the U. N. troops arrive the British and French will get out."

Lloyd spoke here as the Assembly once more suspended its discussion of general world problems to concentrate on the Middle East. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold urgently wants broad authority to use the police force now being deployed in Egypt and a number of delegations are dissatisfied at the slow pace of British, French and Israeli withdrawal.

Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov angrily charged that Lloyd was putting up conditions and said the U. N. must take action to put an end to what he called the British "stalling."

He threw his support behind a resolution introduced by 21 Asian-African nations calling on Britain, France and Israel to withdraw immediately.

This resolution also has the full backing of the United States,

Presley Defeats Jealous Husband In Ohio Fracas

CLEVELAND, Nov. 23 (UP)—A jealous 19-year-old Ohio husband began a seven-day workhouse term in Toledo Friday for sailing into rock and roll rage Elvis Presley with his fists flying.

But Louis Balint failed to land a blow, according to police, though he took more than a dozen from Presley as they fought in the plush Shalimar Room of Toledo's Commodore Perry hotel.

Officers said Balint roared into the exclusive lounge shortly after midnight Friday morning screamin "my wife carries your picture but she doesn't carry mine."

Presley, exhausted after an afternoon and evening performance which netted him a record $16,000 at the sports arena, was relaxing at a terrace table with his press agent, Oscar Davis, and three supporting musicians.

The musicians intercepted the charging husband and father of two, but Davis dumped musician Scotty Moore over the four foot terrace railing in the hassle.

Police arrived to find Balint six-feet tall, 180 pounds, and Presley locked in struggle, but with the snap-hipped singer landing all of the few blows struck.

Balint told officers he "wanted to see what this guy is made of." The remark promoted Elvis to attack anew, but the flurry was short-lived.

Balint told police he and his wife, Joann, mother of his two children, had separated three weeks ago—after he found Presley's picture, but not his own, in her billfold. She now lives in Los Angeles.

Appearing in court Friday, Balint failed to pay a $10 fine and $9.60 in costs after pleading guilty to "creating a disturbance" and was sent to the workhouse.

Hungarians Pour Across Border

VIENNA, Nov. 23 —UP— Police killed a Russian soldier who crossed the border into Austria Friday in an attempt to block Hungarian refugees fleeing to the West.

A government spokesman said another Russian was captured and a third escaped after they violated the clearly-marked frontier near Rechnitz. Austria probably will protest the incident to Russia, the spokesman said.

The clash at Rechnitz was the gravest incident of a day which saw the Russians tightening up all along the border. But half-frozen Hungarians continued to escape despite the Russians' best efforts, and the number that has reached Austria was expected to pass 70,000 during the night.

The Vienna Kurier reported that Russian guards killed 20 fleeing Hungarians Thursday night and captured "several hundred" more, but the report could not be confirmed immediately.

It was known that a record 6,000 be-draggled Hungarians struggled to freedom through frontier waterways Thursday night, increasing the total in Austria to 66,000 early Friday.

Goodfellows Start Annual Drive For Christmas Fund

Already acknowledged $175.00

Good Fellows greatly appreciate the good send-off that the fund for this holiday season has received. Thanks to good friends of this worthy cause, we have $175 in the fund. At the union Thanksgiving service held in Brown Auditorium Thursday, a substantial part of the collection received was designated for Good Fellows.

We are unable to account for the exact sum as Dr. Ben Oliphant treasurer of the Ministerial Alliance, has been called out of town. On his return Monday he will give us the figures that will be assigned to Good Fellows.

The first Good Fellow letter of the year arrived this morning. It was a heartfelt appeal from a 12-year-old boy who wrote that his grandmother was seriously ill and had been for a long time.

"There isn't much I can do," he wrote, "but I want her to have a good Christmas, for she will not have many more with me, and there are so many things that she needs and I also am in need of clothes for school. I want something nice for Grandma so that she will always remember this Christmas," the boy concluded.

It isn't every boy who thinks of others this way and we feel that this must be a really deserving case.

Let's get in the money, for this is the basis on which we work. Without it, we cannot do much for Good Fellows which is acknowl-

U.S. Expects New Change In Kremlin Leadership

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (UP)—American experts believe Russia is taking a new look at its foreign policy, particularly toward its satellites, that could spell trouble for some of the Kremlin high command.

They said Russia is confronted by the knotty question of whether its "liberalized" policies toward some satellites, its easing of tension with the West and the downgrading of Stalin have done Moscow more harm than good.

As seen here, the evidence indicates Russia may find results to date more to its detriment than gain. The outcome, particularly in view of the continuing crisis in Hungary, could mean an early shakeup in Soviet leadership, diplomats believe.

These experts were cautious, however, as to what such a shakeup might mean in terms of individual leaders. The so-called "Stalinist" wing of the Kremlin leadership, led by former foreign minister V. M. Molotov, is believed to advocate a return to the tougher policies in force under the late premier Josef Stalin.

However U.S. officials have not concluded yet that Molotov's recent appointment as minister of state control means a step toward greater power or prominence. They are watching closely for any such signs.

Diplomats said they have had no confirmation thus far of reports first heard in France that Molotov soon would take over from Nikita S. Khrushchev as Communist Party secretary, and that former premier Georgi Malenkov would replace Niklai A. Bulganin as premier.

However Khrushchev and Bulganin represent the so-called "liberal" wing of Soviet leadership that brought the new policies into effect. Any reappraisal of those policies that concluded they were unsuccessful could spell trouble for the Khrushchev-Bulganin combination.

Last-Minute Move To End Strike Fails

Government Goes Ahead With Court Action Under T-H

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)— A last-ditch move to settle the East and Gulf Coast waterfront strike fell apart today and the government moved ahead to get a strike-stopping court injunction.

Attorneys for shippers and the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. (Ind.) were alerted in advance the Justice Department would go into federal court in New York tonight or tomorrow for an 80-day back-to-work order under the Taft-Hartley law's emergency procedures.

A presidential inquiry board rushed to finish a report on the strike issues and file it at the White House, a required move under the law before President Eisenhower can instruct the Justice Department to move into court.

The White House said that even with submission of the inquiry board report tonight, President Eisenhower likely would not get it until tomorrow morning. This probably would delay the injunction move until tomorrow.

The ILA has said it will obey an injunction to return to work and this could mean resumption of docks activity on Monday.

The eight-day strike has paralyzed East and Gulf ports, tied up an estimated 200 ships and idled 60,000 dockworkers.

Director Joseph F. Finnegan of the Federal Mediation Service arranged during the day for representatives of the New York Shipping Assn. and the union to meet with him in a final effort for a strike settlement short of an injunction.

But this plan collapsed when management representatives decided against attending. Finnegan said the employer group saw "no useful purpose" in the meeting.

It was indicated the New York employers felt it inevitable the union's demand for a coastwise bargaining unit, something the employers have been steadily resisting, would come up at any such meeting and so decided to

Refugees From Hungary Arrive At Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 23 (UP)—Seventy - three Hungarian refugees, the first to be flown directly into the nation's heartland, arrived in Milwaukee Friday cheering and clapping with joy.

A "Flying Tiger" airliner brought the Hungarians to Milwaukee's Mitchell Field, ending a two-day flight from Vienna and the Communist blood bath in their native land.

The memory of Soviet oppression was so fresh that the refugees looked apprehensively at each other when a police motorcycle escort, with sirens screaming, fell in around the cars taking them from the airport.

An interpreter laughed and explained:

"This is done as an honor to you. There is nothing to worry about."

The Hungarians who came to Milwaukee were part of a gather-

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—The Defense Department today asked Selective Service to draft 450 physicians in Feburary. The Army would get 250 of them and the Air Force 200.

Russian-Yugoslav Crisis Looms After Nagy Seized

BELGRADE, Nov. 23 — UP — Yugoslavia charged Friday night that Russian soldiers and armored cars seized ousted Hungarian premier Imre Nagy in Budapest.

A Yugoslav government spokesman said Nagy was kidnaped and whished away after he left refuge in the Yugoslav embassy Thursday night under a safe conduct pledge exacted from Premier Ianos Kadar's Russian - backed Hungarian government.

The spokesman said two Yugoslav diplomats were forced to go to Soviet military headquarters with Nagy.

Diplomats escorting him protested the seizure in a long argument with Soviet army officers but eventually had to leave Nagy's bus, which was then surrounded by Soviet armored cars and whisked away, the spokesman said.

Earlier Friday, the Yugoslav government noted the "disappearance" of Nagy and his party of revolutionary leaders. It said any violation of the safe conduct granted Nagy under Yugoslav insistence would be considered a "very grave violation" of international law and friendly relations.

Budapest radio later Friday said that Nagy "and his companions" had gone to Romania of their own free will.

The official Yugoslav version said two Soviet military cars with several military officers arrived on the scene just after Nagy's party had boarded a bus placed at their disposal by the Hungarian government.

"The security officers attempted to take control of the bus and dropped the idea when Yugoslav diplomats accompanying Nagy and the rest of the party energetically protested," the Yugoslavia statement said.

"When the bus moved in the direction of the center of the city, one security officer jumped into the bus and ordered the driver to change direction and to drive to the military headquarters, which

Poland Joins Yugoslavs In Criticism Of Russian Repression Of Hungary

WARSAW, Nov. 23 —UP— Poland charged the Soviet Union Friday with a "zig-zagging lack of consistency and return to Stalinist methods" in its actions in Hungary.

The Polish government newspaper "Zycie Warszawy" said the Soviet explanation that western agents and American dollars started the Hungarian revolution was "nonsensical."

It said the people of Hungary like the people of Poland in the Poznan uprising of June 28 were striving for national sovereignty.

Poland thus joined Yugoslavia's President Tito in criticizing Russian intervention in Hungary. The Polish government organ published the Moscow reply to Tito Friday under the headline "Pravda Polemics."

The Poznan uprising led to the return to power of "Titoist" Wladislaw Gomulka as chief of Poland's Communist Party. Gomulka and Polish Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz returned only last week from a trip to Moscow to work out more freedom and sovereignty for Poland.

The Polish paper said certain basic hatreds brought on the Poznan revolt and the Hungarian revolution.

One hatred was the 'Stalin terror..the Stalinist ignoring and violating of objective laws."

Another reason was the Communist "witch trials" and "fabrication" of scapegoats for sins of the system — "Sins caused by the very violation of objective laws of industry, commerce and the whole

United Givers At $143,465 Mark In Current Campaign

The first annual campaign by the United Givers Fund which is nearing completion reports $143,465 raised toward its goal of $189,000. This represents 75.9 per cent of the goal and leaves $45,535 needed to reach the goal.

Individuals and firms who have not yet been contacted in the drive by a United Fund solicitor are urged to telephone the Fund office at 3-9418 and ask that a volunteer pick up the gift, campaign chairman Walter Kellogg said yesterday.

"We feel that some places and persons may have been missed by our volunteer workers," Kellogg continued. "Every one of us benefits either directly or indirectly by the services of the United Givers Fund agencies, and we should all feel that it is our privilege to share in supporting them."

Stating that those who wait to be called upon may be unwittingly causing a hardship they would never knowingly let happen, Kellogg requested "everyone in our area to count the blessings he or

Food Supplies In Erie Dwindling As Snow Continues

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 23 (UP)—Milk and bread supplies dwindled in this snowbound Lake Erie port Friday night where National Guardsmen, Boy Scout shovel brigades and civil defense workers relieved snow removal crews dropping from sheer exhaustion.

Army tanks, commandeered helicopters and other heavy vehicles also rushed food and other supplies to smaller nearby communities still isolated by a near-blizzard which dumped two to three feet of snow and piled up towering drifts.

The storm, which began Thanksgiving day, hit a 150-mile strip along the southern shore of Lake Erie from Ohio to western New York. But the main force of its icy blow hit Erie, the third larg-

Fair And Mild Is Forecast For Area

More of Friday's sunny, mild weather is predicted for the northeast area today. Yesterday's highest official temperature in Monroe was 70 degrees.

Weather officials said that Saturday night would be cool. The lowest mercury recording at Selman Field yesterday was 30 degrees.

Freeze Forecast For All Florida Excepting Keys

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 23 (AP)—Temperatures were expected to plunge to freezing over nearly the full length of Florida tonight after a day of chill that cleared the beaches of all but the hardiest sunbathers.

The Weather Bureau predicted a "hard freeze" for north Florida, freezing and frost in the central part of the state tapering to lows of about 32 degrees inland from the southeast coast.

The keys on the southeast waterfront will be the only places in Florida out of frost danger, the bureau said. Lows will be near 50 in the keys and the bureau predicted lows of 20 to 26 degrees in the north portion of the state. Lowest temperatures in central Florida will range from the mid-20s to the low 30s.

We are unable to account for the exact sum as Dr. Ben Oliphant treasurer of the Ministerial Alliance, has been called out of town. On his return Monday he will give us the figures that will be assigned to Good Fellows.

The first Good Fellow letter of the year arrived this morning. It was a heartfelt appeal from a 12-year-old boy who wrote that his grandmother was seriously ill and had been for a long time.

"There isn't much I can do," he wrote, "but I want her to have a good Christmas, for she will not have many more with me, and there are so many things that she needs and I also am in need of clothes for school. I want something nice for Grandma so that she will always remember this Christmas," the boy concluded.

It isn't every boy who thinks of others this way and we feel that this must be a really deserving case.

Let's get in the money, for this is the basis on which we work. Without it, we cannot do much for Good Fellows which is acknowl-

U.S. Expects New Change In Kremlin Leadership

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (UP)— American experts believe Russia is taking a new look at its foreign policy, particularly toward its satellites, that could spell trouble for some of the Kremlin high command.

They said Russia is confronted by the knotty question of whether its "liberalized" policies toward some satellites, its easing of tension with the West and the downgrading of Stalin have done Moscow more harm than good.

As seen here, the evidence indicates Russia may find results to date more to its detriment than gain. The outcome, particularly in view of the continuing crisis in Hungary, could mean an early shakeup in Soviet leadership, diplomats believe.

These experts were cautious, however, as to what such a shake-up might mean in terms of individual leaders. The so-called "Stalinist" wing of the Kremlin leadership, led by former foreign minister V. M. Molotov, is believed to advocate a return to the tougher policies in force under the late premier Josef Stalin.

However U.S. officials have not concluded yet that Molotov's recent appointment as minister of state control means a step toward greater power or prominence. They are watching closely for any such signs.

Diplomats said they have had no confirmation thus far of reports first heard in France that Molotov soon would take over from Nikita S. Khrushchev as Communist Party secretary, and that former premier Georgi Malenkov would replace Niklai A. Bulganin as premier.

However Khrushchev and Bulganin represent the so-called "liberal" wing of Soviet leadership that brought the new policies into effect. Any reappraisal of those policies that concluded they were unsuccessful could 'spell trouble for the Khrushchev-Bulganin combination.

Last-Minute Move To End Strike Fails

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)— A last-ditch move to settle the East and Gulf Coast waterfront strike fell apart today and the government moved ahead to get a strike-stopping court injunction.

Attorneys for shippers and the striking International Longshoremen's Assn. (Ind.) were alerted in advance the Justice Department would go into federal court in New York tonight or tomorrow for an 80-day back-to-work order under the Taft-Hartley law's emergency procedures.

A presidential inquiry board rushed to finish a report on the strike issues and file it at the White House, a required move under the law before President Eisenhower can instruct the Justice Department to move into court.

The White House said that even with submission of the inquiry board report tonight, President Eisenhower likely would not get it until tomorrow morning. This probably would delay the injunction move until tomorrow.

The ILA has said it will obey an injunction to return to work and this could mean resumption of docks activity on Monday.

The eight-day strike has paralyzed East and Gulf ports, tied up an estimated 200 ships and idled 60,000 dockworkers.

Director Joseph F. Finnegan of the Federal Mediation Service arranged during the day for representatives of the New York Shipping Assn. and the union to meet with him in a final effort for a strike settlement short of an injunction.

But this plan collapsed when management representatives decided against attending. Finnegan said the employer group saw "no useful purpose" in the meeting.

It was indicated the New York employers felt it inevitable the union's demand for a coastwise bargaining unit, something the employers have been steadily resisting, would come up at any such meeting and so decided to

Refugees From Hungary Arrive At Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 23 (UP)—Seventy - three Hungarian refugees, the first to be flown directly into the nation's heartland, arrived in Milwaukee Friday cheering and clapping with joy.

A "Flying Tiger" airliner brought the Hungarians to Milwaukee's Mitchell Field, ending a two-day flight from Vienna and the Communist blood bath in their native land.

The memory of Soviet oppression was so fresh that the refugees looked apprehensively at each other when a police motorcycle escort, with sirens screaming, fell in around the cars taking them from the airport.

An interpreter laughed and explained:

"This is done as an honor to you. There is nothing to worry about."

450 Physicians To Be Drafted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP)—The Defense Department today asked Selective Service to draft 450 physicians in Feburary. The Army would get 250 of them and the Air Force 200.

The Pentagon said the February quota together with those previously called for duty should meet armed forces requirements for physicians through next March.

Poland Joins Yugoslavs In Criticism Of Russian Repression Of Hungary

WARSAW, Nov. 23 —UP— Poland charged the Soviet Union Friday with a "zig-zagging lack of consistency and return to Stalinist methods" in its actions in Hungary.

The Polish government newspaper "Zycie Warszawy" said the Soviet explanation that western agents and American dollars started the Hungarian revolution was "nonsensical."

It said the people of Hungary like the people of Poland in the Poznan uprising of June 28 were striving for national sovereignty.

Poland thus joined Yugoslavia's President Tito in criticizing Russian intervention in Hungary. The Polish government organ published the Moscow reply to Tito Friday under the headline "Pravda Polemics."

The Poznan uprising led to the return to power of "Titoist" Wladislaw Gomulka as chief of Poland's Communist Party. Gomulka and Polish Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz returned only last week from a trip to Moscow to work out more freedom and sovereignty for Poland.

The Polish paper said certain basic hatreds brought on the Poznan revolt and the Hungarian revolution.

One hatred was the 'Stalin terror..the Stalinist ignoring and violating of objective laws."

Another reason was the Communist "witch trials" and "fabrication" of scapegoats for sins of the system — "Sins caused by the very violation of objective laws of industry, commerce and the whole

The first annual campaign by the United Givers Fund which is nearing completion reports $143,465 raised toward its goal of $189,000. This represents 75.9 per cent of the goal and leaves $45,535 needed to reach the goal.

Individuals and firms who have not yet been contacted in the drive by a United Fund solicitor are urged to telephone the Fund office at 3-9418 and ask that a volunteer pick up the gift, campaign chairman Walter Kellogg said yesterday.

"We feel that some places and persons may have been missed by our volunteer workers," Kellogg continued. "Every one of us benefits either directly or indirectly by the services of the United Givers Fund agencies, and we should all feel that it is our privilege to share in supporting them."

Stating that those who wait to be called upon may be unwittingly causing a hardship they would never knowingly let happen, Kellogg requested "everyone in our area to count the blessings he or

Food Supplies In Erie Dwindling As Snow Continues

ERIE, Pa., Nov. 23 (UP)—Milk and bread supplies dwindled in this snowbound Lake Erie port Friday night where National Guardsmen, Boy Scout shovel brigades and civil defense workers relieved snow removal crews dropping from sheer exhaustion.

Army tanks, commandeered helicopters and other heavy vehicles also rushed food and other supplies to smaller nearby communities still isolated by a near-blizzard which dumped two to three feet of snow and piled up towering drifts.

The storm, which began Thanksgiving day, hit a 150-mile strip along the southern shore of Lake Erie from Ohio to western New York. But the main force of its icy blow hit Erie, the third larg-

Soviets Again Double-Cross Ousted Premier

BELGRADE, Nov. 23 — UP — Yugoslavia charged Friday night that Russian soldiers and armored cars seized ousted Hungarian premier Imre Nagy in Budapest.

A Yugoslav government spokesman said Nagy was kidnaped and whished away after he left refuge in the Yugoslav embassy Thursday night under a safe conduct pledge exacted from Premier Ianos Kadar's Russian - backed Hungarian government.

The spokesman said two Yugoslav diplomats were forced to go to Soviet military headquarters with Nagy.

Diplomats escorting him protested the seizure in a long argument with Soviet army officers but eventually had to leave Nagy's bus, which was then surrounded by Soviet armored cars and whisked away, the spokesman said.

Earlier Friday, the Yugoslav government noted the "disappearance" of Nagy and his party of revolutionary leaders. It said any violation of the safe conduct granted Nagy under Yugoslav insistence would be considered a "very grave violation" of international law and friendly relations.

Budapest radio later Friday said that Nagy "and his companions" had gone to Romania of their own free will.

The official Yugoslav version said two Soviet military cars with several military officers arrived on the scene just after Nagy's party had boarded a bus placed at their disposal by the Hungarian government.

"The security officers attempted to take control of the bus and dropped the idea when Yugoslav diplomats accompanying Nagy and the rest of the party energetically protested," the Yugoslavia statement said.

"When the bus moved in the direction of the center of the city, one security officer jumped into the bus and ordered the driver to change direction and to drive to the military headquarters, which

Freeze Forecast For All Florida Excepting Keys

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 23 (AP)—Temperatures were expected to plunge to freezing over nearly the full length of Florida tonight after a day of chill that cleared the beaches of all but the hardiest sunbathers.

The Weather Bureau predicted a "hard freeze" for north Florida, freezing and frost in the central part of the state tapering to lows of about 32 degrees inland from the southeast coast.

The keys on the southeast waterfront will be the only places in Florida out of frost danger, the bureau said. Lows will be near 50 in the keys and the bureau predicted lows of 20 to 26 degrees in the north portion of the state. Lowest temperatures in central Florida will range from the mid-20s to the low 30s.

The ILA is under a federal court restraining order, issued in New York Wednesday, against insisting on a broader bargaining unit than the New York Harbor area.

The ILA claims it was "double-crossed" by the employers group on the bargaining scope issue. The union says agreement was near on a compromise for a unit from Maine to Virginia when management switched strategy and went into court in behalf of the Wednesday restraining order.

As to this, counsel Alfred Giardino said the shippers' association "never gave any assurance, commitment or intimation" of any compromise.

However, he said some individual members, without sanction of their organization itself, may have talked with the ILA about a possible compromise.

Louis Waldman, the ILA's special counsel, said on this point that he felt the employers and union probably would have reached a compromise agreement on the bargaining scope issue "if there had been no wirecrossing between one branch of the NYSA and another."

Waldman charged the stevadoring employers were "seeking to win their labor relations battles by injunction," a situation he termed "a throwback of 30 years in labor relations."

The inquiry board, headed by Thomas W. Holland, George Washington University professor, finished up its hearings in midafternoon and went to work drafting its report.

It heard from the ILA and various shipping and longshore employer groups in Atlantic and Gulf ports. It also received statements from the Defense Department and other government agencies as to the seriousness of the strike on commerce.

est city of Pennsylvania with 130,000 residents.

At least two persons, an Erie policeman and an elderly man, suffered fatal heart attacks from exertion as a result of the storm.

Erie Mayor Arthur C. Gardner, who placed his city under a state of emergency, told the United Press Friday night he was "worried" because blocked highways still prevented delivery of milk for processing at Erie dairies. He said there was not much hope of lifing the emergency until Saturday.

The record snow, whipped by bitter 45-mile-per-hour winds, brought all normal life in Erie and other northwestern Pennsylvania communities to a standstill. All road, rail and air communications to this city was shut off by huge drifts from Thursday night until Friday afternoon when highway crews finally began to get the upper hand.

But the snowing continued in on-and-off spurts with at least three more inches forecast until an expected letup late Saturday.

The isolated community of East Springfield, about 17 miles west of here near the Ohio line, sent an emergency radio appeal for food for its 300 residents. An Army tank and truck headed to the town with milk, bread and other foodstuffs late Friday afternoon. A helicopter also prepared to leave here, but officials feared darkness would hamper the air drop.

The only communication from East Springfield to the outside was by an amateur radio network.

Highway workers finally cleared all but one of the main roads leading to Erie early Friday afternoon, but most secondary routes remained plugged tight with shifting drifts, some over nine feet deep.

Industries, business and all public and private transportation came to a standstil in Erie and nearby points. A United Press survey showed thousands of motorists cooped up all night in road side motels, lonely farm houses, and even church rectories until snowplows battled through to open key highways Friday morning and late Friday afternoon.

Passengers aboard three Greyhound buses, including 35 members of a high school football team, cheerleaders and rooters, were snowbound overnight.

The soccer players decided in a body to seek asylum as political refugees.

In the Neusiedler Lake area, where the Russians dynamited most border-crossing bridges Wednesday, boatloads of heavily-armed Soviet and Hungarian soldiers patrolled border waters Friday under the direction of Russian officers.

In other places, where they were not directly under the eyes of the Russians, Hungarian troops often aided the flight of their countrymen.

The refugees braved frostbite and exposure to flee to the West to escape a double threat — the fear that Soviet infantry reinforcements pouring into Hungary soon might make it impossible to pass the border, and the danger of deportation to the slave camps of Soviet Siberia.

While refugees poured in by the thousands, western nations were able to evacuate them only by the hundreds. About 500, including 132 bound for the United States, left Austria Friday.

Crossword Puzzle

14. One can never be certain that ANY RUSE will be a success. Specifying a NEW one favors ROSE.

16. To PRY is neither manly or healthy in a boy, thus PRY is an excellent answer. Why shouldn't he CRY at certain times? Even strong men do this.

21. HAVE fits the clue's wording better. You speak of people who "HAVE no money," and of people who "don't SAVE" (not "SAVE no MONEY").

22. The word "even" favors WAITER. When you say: "even if so-and-so happens," that suggests a relatively DISTANT possibility, but a WASTER is very LIKELY to annoy you.

25. LEFT is best. The clue says "it's a fairly safe rule." This means it's not a definite or safe rule — it's just fairly safe. You definitely SHOULD NOT bet money that is LENT you. If it is LEFT you it is your own money but nevertheless it is a "fairly safe rule not to."

26. Giving up hope after losing one SET is a MISTAKE — an error of gamesmanship. There is no RIGHT or WRONG about one's reactions upon losing a PET, it being purely a question of personal reaction. Similarly BET is purely a question of personal reaction.

CLUES DOWN:

1. CALL is best. He presumably SEES the men who CALL at the house for her. He may have no knowledge whatever of men who FALL for her.

5. The phrase "TURNED OUT" is particularly applicable to some sort of PRODUCTIVE work, and definitely favors PRINTER. A PAINTER doesn't necessarily "turn out" ANYTHING — he may be a HOUSE PAINTER. Also, as an artist, he "creates" rather than "turns out."

7. A man often looks after his BOOTS because he HAS to, not because he's tidy — for example, in the armed services. Generally speaking, a man of tidy habits will look after his BOOKS automatically.

8. There is no real reason why STRING should be abit stronger than is really necessary. But, since a SPRING may be subjected to much pressure and wear, it is perhaps wise to have a little additional strength.

10. The "carefully" suggests that this is something the cartographer might make a special point of putting in, such as a FORD (in a river), something of possible military interest. A FORT would simply be included as a matter of course. FORK is not as good.

19. REST is apt. If he wins HE is the BEST, not any of the others, and if he is the winner he must beat the REST. PEST, TEST or WEST are not as good.

20. A GAP in the enemy lines, yes; but a MAP itself could hardly do so, but only in conjunction with the facts of the campaign.

22. WAD is best (a WAD of bills). The clue emphasizes that it is "the loss of one" that represents a financial setback. Loss of a WAD involves a financial setback, of course. As for WAR, it is not only in the loss of one that this is a financial setback; it can be quite as much a financial setback if won.

About 500 persons gave the Hungarians a warm "home coming" when their plane flew in from Newfoundland.

The Hungarians emerged from the plane smiling. They were tired after their long trip, but the stewardess reported they had clapped and cheered when the neared Milwaukee.

Many of the Hungarians were veterans of the fighting in the streets of Budapest. One helped destroy Russian tanks with home-made bombs. Another, who spent seven years in a Siberian slave camp, said his fellow prisoners regard President Eisenhower as "the white czar who will help the enslaved people throw off the Communist yoke."

The ex-slave camp prisoner, Soltan Varga, 32, came down the freedom ramp with his fiancee, who had walked 160 miles with him out of Budapest. They plan to be married as soon as possible.

Another fleeing couple, Otto Gero and his wife, were heartsick, despite their safe arrival. They had to leave their 4-year-old child behind in Budapest.

The refugees went to St. Emeric Catholic church for Thanksgiving services and then to the Pfister hotel, one of Milwaukee's best, to rest before beginning their new lives.

Homes and jobs have already been found for them. The Milwaukee St. Vincent De Paul society, which sponsored their trip here, said it has offers of jobs and homes for 35 Hungarian couples and 100 individuals, and "more offers are coming in."

Rayville Girl Hurt In Fall From Auto

A nine-year-old girl of near Rayville who toppled from her father's car and was run over by a front wheel was in good condition last night the Conway Memorial Hospital with no serious injuries.

Marsha Gowins, daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gowins, fell from the auto yesterday at 2:30 p.m. when the front right door suddenly opened. Gowins was turning around at his home when the door came open.

The child fell under the cutting right front wheel that ran across her right shoulder and chest. She had bruises, according to her mother, of the chest.

A physician in Rayville rendered emergency and she was brought on to the Conway.

"When the Yugoslavs told the Soviet lieutenant colonel who was in charge they requested that the bus take Imre Nagy and the rest to their homes, respecting the guarantees given to them through the Yugoslav government that nothing would be undertaken against them. The Soviet officer said he knew nothing about the Yugoslav - Hungarian agreement, but he had strict orders to stop the bus and to detain the people in the bus.

"After that the two Yugoslav diplomats came out of the bus and while they stood aside the bus was surrounded by several light armored cars and moved to an unknown destination."

About The Dreaded Sales Tax!

Mr. Salaried Man

HAVE YOU FIGURED WHAT THE SALES TAX WILL COST YOU?

How are you going to manage your budget in face of mounting taxes and living costs?

Are you prepared for another bite out of that already shrunken dollar?

Did you know that the so-called one per cent sales tax will mean far more than one per cent? It will figure as high as two and three per cent on purchases of less than one dollar, and how often do you make such purchases?

This tax, based on a weekly income of $75, will cost each family budget approximately $44 a year (or $220 for the proposed 5-year period), in view of the fact that it will mean a four per cent tax on a 25-cent purchase and a two per cent tax on a 50-cent purchase.

Are you ready for this raid on your paycheck?

THERE'S AN HONORABLE DIFFERENCE OF OPINION AS TO WHETHER OR NOT THE TERRIBLE 1c SALES TAX
SHOULD BE PASSED AT THIS TIME

Everyone agrees that in the face of tremendously rising costs of everything and the City's deplorable financial condition that more revenue is needed, but because of the honorable difference of opinion and the conflicting figures which are being discussed, wouldn't it be better to defeat the sales tax at this time and ask the City Council to employ an expert on city financing to make a more complete study and furnish a public report as soon as possible. For instance, when Mr. Huckabay was still in office he proposed a 5-point program which would eliminate the necessity for the sales tax. One of these was the garbage collection fee which was put into effect this year and is now bringing in $325,000 a year. Let's explore the possibilities of all these suggestions before we take the drastic step of voting a sales tax.

Three persons were injured, one critically, troopers said.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 23 (AP) The State Supreme Court of Appeals today refused to review a Roanoke Hustings Court order sentencing an Alabama man to death for the statutory rape of a 9-year-old girl.

Frank Jimmie Snider, 29, of Gadsden, Ala., was denied a writ of error he sought on the grounds the lower court admitted and refused to admit certain pieces of evidence.

GUATEMALA CITY, Nov. 23 (AP) —Guatemala protested to Mexico today that Mexican shrimp boats have been fishing in Guatemaian waters.

The foreign ministry said patrol planes and port authorities at Ocos on the Pacific Coast near the Mexican border reported several small Mexican boats fishing within Guatemalan territorial waters several days ago. The ministry asked Mexican Ambassador Jose Gregario Diaz to obtain an explanation from the Mexican foreign ministry.

MADISON, Ind., Nov. 23 (AP) — Santa Claus was supposed to come to town today, but he didn't. Snow stopped him.

Sponsors of a Santa Claus parade through downtown Madison called it off after 2½ inches of snow made the streets slippery.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP) — Cross examination of witnesses for the Houston Texas Gas & Oil Corp., which would deliver natural gas to statewide Florida, was completed at a Federal Power Commission hearing today.

Houston and Coastal Transmission Corp. propose to construct a 1,500-mile main pipeline from Texas and Louisiana gas fields to south of Miami. Coastal's case was completed several weeks ago.

Intervenors—those who oppose natural gas in Florida—will present their case beginning Monday

ALGIERS, Nov. 23 (UP) — French forces killed 43 Algerian rebels and captured 30 others in a three-day campaign over rough terrain 165 miles west of Algiers, Authorities reported Friday.

Authorities said large supplies of arms were captured.

SINGAPORE, Nov. 23 (UP)—A British air force transport dropping supplies to anti - Communist forces crashed and burned in the Malayan jungle Friday, killing all of the seven persons aboard.

The Valleta transport, carrying four supply handlers and an air-crew of three, plowed into a jungle-clad hillside near Fort Brooke during a supply drop in heavy overcast.

ZURICH, Switzerland, Nov. 23 (UP)—The price of gasoline went up Friday in Switzerland for the second time in two weeks because of the Suez emergency.

The new increase was two cents times (half a cent). It brought services station prices up to 62½ cents a gallon for high-test and 55.15 cents a gallon for regular fuel.

LONDON, Nov. 23 (UP)—British atomic experts plan soon to build a $9 million atom-smasher which they hope will accelerate sub-microscopic particles to speeds as high as 184,000 miles a second, it was reported Friday.

The new research instrument will be "three times the size of a circus ring" — bigger even than the University of California's massive betatron.

TANANARIVE, Madagascar, Nov. 23 (UP3—A bus plunged into a ravine on this French African island Thursday, killing 11 and injuring seven of the 18 persons on board, it was announced Friday.

MARSEILLE, Nov. 23 (AP)—The first oil tanker to reach France via the Cape of Good Hope since the Suez Canal was closed arrived here today. She is the British-owned Tribulus with crude oil from Iran.

Four more tankers are expected here via the Cape route by the end of the month. The Cape route is about 5,000 miles longer.

MOSCOW, Nov. 23 (AP) — V. G. Zhavoronkov, former minister of state control who was succeeded Wednesday by V. M. Molotov, has been appointed deputy chief of the ministry, it was announced by the Council of Ministers today. Molotov is the former foreign minister.

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 23 (AP)—For Sigismund and Gabriela Csicsery, there's small chance their honeymoon trip will be forgotten.

The 27-year old Budapest chemical engineer wed pretty red-haired Gabriela in a refugee camp in Austria last week after both fled the Soviet terror in Hungary.

Today, 6,000 miles and 25½ flying hours later, Sigismund and Gabriela arrived in Milwaukee along with 71 other Hungarian refugees in the third plane load to reach the United States.

The host city was ready for the pair. They were whisked away to the swank Pfister Hotel—to spend a few day's in the hotel's plush and secluded bridal suite.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (AP) — Elmer R. Oliver, a retired vice president of the Southern Railway, died today at his home here. He was 73.

A native of Lafayette County, Miss., Oliver had worked for the railroad in Greenville, Miss., Chicago, Louisville, Washington, New Orleans, Atlanta and Cincinnati.

In 1924, he became vice president in charge of traffic for the railroad with headquarters in Washington. Oliver retired in 1952.

LONDON, Nov. 23 (AP)—Hugh Gaitskell, leader of the British Labor party, called on the United States tonight to take the lead in bringing about a genuine peace treaty between Israel and the Arab countries.

And, he said, "we should not despair" of the prospects even with President Nasser still in power in Egypt.

"We have to take the position as it is in Egypt," Gaitskell contended. "I have said very hard things about Nasser in my time, but he holds it with effective rule and we must deal with him on this basis."

Hickman, now assistant judge advocate, succeeds Maj. Gen. Eugene M. Caffey who is retiring at the end of next month.

The President gave Hickman a recess appointment. His formal nomination will go to the Senate when Congress convenes in January.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—Police got a fright today when they found a dozen bodies sprawled on the street and sidewalk following a gas explosion in a woman's store.

The bodies, however, turned out to be dummies for clothing displays in the windows. Two store employes received slight injuries from the blast, believed caused by a gas leak.

The ILA is under a federal court restraining order, issued in New York Wednesday, against insisting on a broader bargaining unit than the New York Harbor area.

The ILA claims it was "double-crossed" by the employers group on the bargaining scope issue. The union says agreement was near on a compromise for a unit from Maine to Virginia when management switched strategy and went into court in behalf of the Wednesday restraining order.

As to this, counsel Alfred Giardino said the shippers' association "never gave any assurance, commitment or intimation" of any compromise.

However, he said some individual members, without sanction of their organization itself, may have talked with the ILA about a possible compromise.

Louis Waldman, the ILA's special counsel, said on this point that he felt the employers and union probably would have reached a compromise agreement on the bargaining scope issue "if there had been no wirecrossing between one branch of the NYSA and another."

Waldman charged the stevadoring employers were "seeking to win their labor relations battles by injunction," a situation he termed "a throwback of 30 years in labor relations."

The inquiry board, headed by Thomas W. Holland, George Washington University professor, finished up its hearings in midafternoon and went to work drafting its report.

It heard from the ILA and various shipping and longshore employer groups in Atlantic and Gulf ports. It also received statements from the Defense Department and other government agencies as to the seriousness of the strike on commerce.

est city of Pennsylvania with 130,000 residents.

At least two persons, an Erie policeman and an elderly man, suffered fatal heart attacks from exertion as a result of the storm.

Erie Mayor Arthur C. Gardner, who placed his city under a state of emergency, told the United Press Friday night he was "worried" because blocked highways still prevented delivery of milk for processing at Erie dairies. He said there was not much hope of liftng the emergency until Saturday.

The record snow, whipped by bitter 45-mile-per-hour winds, brought all normal life in Erie and other northwestern Pennsylvania communities to a standstill. All road, rail and air communications to this city was shut off by huge drifts from Thursday night until Friday afternoon when highway crews finally began to get the upper hand.

But the snowing continued in on-and-off spurts with at least three more inches forecast until an expected letup late Saturday.

The isolated community of East Springfield, about 17 miles west of here near the Ohio line, sent an emergency radio appeal for food for its 300 residents. An Army tank and truck headed to the town with milk, bread and other foodstuffs late Friday afternoon. A helicopter also prepared to leave here, but officials feared darkness would hamper the air drop.

The only communication from East Springfield to the outside was by an amateur radio network.

Highway workers finally cleared all but one of the main roads leading to Erie early Friday afternoon, but most secondary routes remained plugged tight with shifting drifts, some over nine feet deep.

Industries, business and all public and private transportation came to a standstil in Erie and nearby points. A United Press survey showed thousands of motorists cooped up all night in road side motels, lonely farm houses, and even church rectories until snowplows battled through to open key highways Friday morning and late Friday afternoon.

Passengers aboard three Greyhound buses, including 35 members of a high school football team, cheerleaders and rooters, were snowbound overnight.

The soccer players decided in a body to seek asylum as political refugees.

In the Neusiedler Lake area, where the Russians dynamited most border - crossing bridges Wednesday, boatloads of heavily-armed Soviet and Hungarian soldiers patrolled border waters Friday under the direction of Russian officers.

In other places, where they were not directly under the eyes of the Russians, Hungarian troops often aided the flight of their countrymen.

The refugees braved frostbite and exposure to flee to the West to escape a double threat — the fear that Soviet infantry reinforcements pouring into Hungary soon might make it impossible to pass the border, and the danger of deportation to the slave camps of Soviet Siberia.

While refugees poured in by the thousands, western nations were able to evacuate them only by the hundreds. About 500, including 132 bound for the United States, left Austria Friday.

Several more employee groups have reported 100 per cent support of the drive. Such firms include Dixie Moving & Storage Company, Monroe Glass Company Monroe Office Equipment Company, First National Bank of West Monroe, and the Central Savings Bank and Trust Company.

The West Monroe Police Department pledged 100 per cent to the drive, as did the Ouachita Parish Public Library employees. The Ouachita Parish Schools have completed their solicitation with over 85 per cent of the teachers and other staff members making pledges.

Murray Hudson, chairman of the Professional division, announced that the solicitation of accounting firms has been completed with all firms and over 90 per cent of the employees making pledges to the united campaign. Harry Frazer served as chairman of the Accountants unit.

More than 70 per cent of the natural gas produced in Texas is processed for its liquid hydrocarbons.

it could include WINE (e.g. a LINE of WINE).

14. One can never be certain that ANY RUSE will be a success. Specifying a NEW one favors ROSE.

16. To PRY is neither manly or healthy in a boy, thus PRY is an excellent answer. Why shouldn't he CRY at certain times? Even strong men do this.

21. HAVE fits the clue's wording better. You speak of people who "HAVE no money," and of people who "don't SAVE" (not "SAVE no MONEY").

22. The word "even" favors WAITER. When you say: "even if so-and-so happens," that suggests a relatively DISTANT possibility, but a WASTER is very LIKELY to annoy you.

25. LEFT is best. The clue says "it's a fairly safe rule." This means it's not a definite or safe rule — it's just fairly safe. You definitely SHOULD NOT bet money that is LENT you. If it is LEFT you it is your own money but nevertheless it is a "fairly safe rule not to."

26. Giving up hope after losing one SET is a MISTAKE — an error of gamesmanship. There is no RIGHT or WRONG about one's reactions upon losing a PET, it being purely a question of personal reaction. Similarly BET is purely a question of personal reaction.

CLUES DOWN:

1. CALL is best. He presumably SEES the men who CALL at the house for her. He may have no knowledge whatever of men who FALL for her.

5. The phrase "TURNED OUT" is particularly applicable to some sort of PRODUCTIVE work, and definitely favors PRINTER. A PAINTER doesn't necessarily "turn out" ANYTHING — he may be a HOUSE PAINTER. Also, as an artist, he "creates" rather than "turns out."

7. A man often looks after his BOOTS because he HAS to, not because he's tidy — for example, in the armed services. Generally speaking, a man of tidy habits will look after his BOOKS automatically.

8. There is no real reason why STRING should be abit stronger than is really necessary. But, since a SPRING may be subjected to much pressure and wear, it is perhaps wise to have a little additional strength.

10. The "carefully" suggests that this is something the cartographer might make a special point of putting in, such as a FORD (in a river), something of possible military interest. A FORT would simply be included as a matter of course. FORK is not as good.

19. REST is apt. If he wins HE is the BEST, not any of the others, and if he is the winner he must beat the REST. PEST, TEST or WEST are not as good.

20. A GAP in the enemy lines, yes; but a MAP itself could hardly do so, but only in conjunction with the facts of the campaign.

22. WAD is best (a WAD of bills). The clue emphasizes that it is "the loss of one" that represents a financial setback. Loss of a WAD involves a financial setback, of course. As for WAR, it is not only in the loss of one that this is a financial setback; it can be quite as much a financial setback if won.

About 500 persons gave the Hungarians a warm "home coming" when their plane flew in from Newfoundland.

The Hungarians emerged from the plane smiling. They were tired after their long trip, but the stewardess reported they had clapped and cheered when the neared Milwaukee.

Many of the Hungarians were veterans of the fighting in the streets of Budapest. One helped destroy Russian tanks with home-made bombs. Another, who spent seven years in a Siberian slave camp, said his fellow prisoners regard President Eisenhower as "the white czar who will help the enslaved people throw off the Communist yoke."

The ex-slave camp prisoner, Soltan Varga, 32, came down the freedom ramp with his fiancee, who had walked 160 miles with him out of Budapest. They plan to be married as soon as possible.

Another fleeing couple, Otto Gero and his wife, were heartsick, despite their safe arrival. They had to leave their 4-year-old child behind in Budapest.

The refugees went to St. Emeric Catholic church for Thanksgiving services and then to the Pfister hotel, one of Milwaukee's best, to rest before beginning their new lives.

Homes and jobs have already been found for them. The Milwaukee St. Vincent De Paul society, which sponsored their trip here, said it has offers of jobs and homes for 35 Hungarian couples and 100 individuals, and "more offers are coming in."

SLICK AIRWAYS GETS CONTRACT

Rayville Girl Hurt In Fall From Auto

A nine - year - old girl of near Rayville who toppled from her father's car and was run over by a front wheel was in good condition last night the Conway Memorial Hospital with no serious injuries.

Marsha Gowins, daughter, of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Gowins, fell from the auto yesterday at 2:30 p.m. when the front right door suddenly opened. Gowins was turning around at his home when the door came open.

The child fell under the cutting right front wheel that ran across her right shoulder and chest. She had bruises, according to her mother, of the chest.

A physician in Rayville rendered emergency and she was brought on to the Conway.

Monroe Woman Lady Of Month, Magazine Says

Mrs. Luther "Dick" Harper of Monroe has been named the "Louisiana Lady of the Month" by the Louisiana Municipal Review.

Mrs. Harper is the wife of the Monroe city engineer.

The award was started by the illustrated magazine, the monthly official journal of the Louisiana Municipal association, to give recognition and to honor the wives of municipal officials whose activities have furthered the careers of their husbands and made their work easier.

The magazine noted that Mrs. Harper's attitude toward her husband's work entered into her being selected. "Both Dick and I like people," she told the magazine writer, "so it is easy for us to get along."

In addition to being a housewife, rearing three children, she dabbles in interior decorating and does all her own sewing. She made all the drapes and did the interior decorating for their new house.

Mrs. Harper is also active in school and church work.

Selser Will Get Arlington Burial

Ross Zuberbier, of Monroe, has been notified that the body of Major General James C. Selser Jr., 44, who was killed in the crash of a small airforce plane that went down in the Potomac river early this week, has been found.

It will be given a military funeral and interment will take place in Arlington National cemetery, with full military honors.

Mr. Zuberbier received word from the officer's mother, Zuberbier's aunt, who is Mrs. Ernest P. Selser of New Orleans. He stated today he will not be able to attend the services for his first cousin.

When the outlook was bright for the reactivation of Selman field, this official spent nearly a week in Monroe and was registered at Hotel Virginia.

He leaves his wife; his mother in New Orleans; a daughter, second year in Louisiana State university; and two sons, with their mother in Washington.

Swartz Principal President Of Unit

Joseph S. Davis, principal of the Swartz Elementary school, was elected secretary of the Elementary Principals unit of the Louisiana Teachers association, which concluded this week. The meeting was held in New Orleans.

Other officers who will serve during the coming year are: Joe W. Campbell, of Alexandria, president; James King, Shreveport, vice president; and M'ss Mary Dolphin of New Orleans, representative to the National Department of Elementary Principals of the National Education Association.

Three Are Taken To Penitentiary

Three persons were transferred to the state penitentiary at Angola this morning by Deputy William Booth, Sheriff Bailey Grant said Friday. The three were recently sentenced in Fourth District Court for terms ranging from one to five years.

Sheriff Grant identified the three as Arthur McClain, 40, Negro, Ed Herring, 23, and Link Lengyon, 20-year-old Negro.

McClain begins a five-year term for simple burglary; Lengyon three years for burglary; and Herring one year for simple robbery.

Students Plan Safety Program

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 23 (AP) — Mississippi high school students today planned a series of teen-age conferences to develop a traffic safety education program designed to reduce the number of teen-agers killed on the highways.

Supt. of Education Jack Tubb said 300 students were scheduled to attend the two-day meeting beginning Dec. 14 at the University of Mississippi.

Of the 540 traffic deaths last year, Tubb said, 112 were teenagers.

Wild Life Okays Modern Marine Fish Laboratory

At the November meeting of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries commission held November 20, the commission approved the construction of a thoroughly modern marine fisheries laboratory on the western end of Grand Terre, across from Grand Isle. This action was taken after listening to a report by Marine Biologist Dr. Lyle St. Amant who, for several months, has been making a survey of similar laboratories in other Gulf Coast states. Louisiana is the only state bordering on the Gulf of Mexico that does not have such a laboratory.

Dr. St. Amant pointed out that three locations were available, all in the Grand Isle area, and that a laboratory to fill all the requirements should be built in that area as all marine biologists agree that this location is the only one on the Louisiana coast with the proper salinity needed. He also pointed out that the Grand Isle area was virtually the center for the oyster, shrimp and fish industry.

Several reasons indicated that the new laboratories should be built on Grand Terre just back of the ruins of old Fort Livingston. The state of Louisiana owns 80 acres of land at that spot making it one of the reasons for selecting such a location; another reason was the fact that the walls of the old Fort act as a buffer to prevent tidal erosion and that at that spot the sea is filling in land instead of taking it away. It is also the highest ground in that entire area and history proves that Jean Lafitte built his warehouses on Grand Terre instead of Grand Isle because the ground was more solid and higher above sea level.

The commission, in its approval, stipulated that plans were to be made as soon as possible to provide not only a thoroughly modern, well equipped marine laboratory as well as living quarters for the biologists to be stationed there and for the development of a safe harbor on the Barataria side of that point of the island. When completed it is expected that this new laboratory will be one of the finest of its kind in America, as well as the best equipped and best staffed.

Monroe Woman Lady Of Month, Magazine Says

Mrs. Luther "Dick" Harper of Monroe has been named the "Louisiana Lady of the Month" by the Louisiana Municipal Review.

Mrs. Harper is the wife of the Monroe city engineer.

The award was started by the illustrated magazine, the monthly official journal of the Louisiana Municipal association, to give recognition and to honor the wives of municipal officials whose activities have furthered the careers of their husbands and made their work easier.

The magazine noted that Mrs. Harper's attitude toward her husband's work entered into her being selected. "Both Dick and I like people," she told the magazine writer, "so it is easy for us to get along."

In addition to being a housewife, rearing three children, she dabbles in interior decorating and does all her own sewing. She made all the drapes and did the interior decorating for their new house.

Mrs. Harper is also active in school and church work.

Selser Will Get Arlington Burial

Ross Zuberbier, of Monroe, has been notified that the body of Major General James C. Selser Jr., 44, who was killed in the crash of a small airforce plane that went down in the Potomac river early this week, has been found.

It will be given a military funeral and interment will take place in Arlington National cemetery, with full military honors.

Mr. Zuberbier received word from the officer's mother, Zuberbier's aunt, who is Mrs. Ernest P. Selser of New Orleans. He stated today he will not be able to attend the services for his first cousin.

When the outlook was bright for the reactivation of Selman field, this official spent nearly a week in Monroe and was registered at Hotel Virginia.

He leaves his wife; his mother in New Orleans; a daughter, second year in Louisiana State university; and two sons, with their mother in Washington.

Swartz Principal President Of Unit

Joseph S. Davis, principal of the Swartz Elementary school, was elected secretary of the Elementary Principals unit of the Louisiana Teachers association, which concluded this week. The meeting was held in New Orleans.

Other officers who will serve during the coming year are: Joe W. Campbell, of Alexandria, president; James King, Shreveport, vice president; and Miss Mary Dolphin of New Orleans, representative to the National Department of Elementary Principals of the National Education Association.

Three Are Taken To Penitentiary

Three persons were transferred to the state penitentiary at Angola this morning by Deputy William Booth, Sheriff Bailey Grant said Friday. The three were recently sentenced in Fourth District Court for terms ranging from one to five years.

Sheriff Grant identified the three as Arthur McClain, 40, Negro, Ed Herring, 23, and Link Lengyon, 20-year-old Negro.

McClain begins a five-year term for simple burglary; Lengyon three years for burglary; and Herring one year for simple robbery.

Students Plan Safety Program

JACKSON, Miss., Nov. 23 (AP) — Mississippi high school students today planned a series of teen-age conferences to develop a traffic safety education program designed to reduce the number of teen-agers killed on the highways.

Supt. of Education Jack Tubb said 300 students were scheduled to attend the two-day meeting beginning Dec. 14 at the University of Mississippi.

Of the 540 traffic deaths last year, Tubb said, 112 were teenagers.

NEGRO DIES IN FIRE

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23 (AP) — Firemen today found a 76-year-old Negro woman dead in her flaming bed. She was identified as Lulu Reese.

Wild Life Okays Modern Marine Fish Laboratory

At the November meeting of the Louisiana Wild Life and Fisheries commission held November 20, the commission approved the construction of a thoroughly modern marine fisheries laboratory on the western end of Grand Terre, across from Grand Isle. This action was taken after listening to a report by Marine Biologist Dr. Lyle St. Amant who, for several months, has been making a survey of similar laboratories in other Gulf Coast states. Louisiana is the only state bordering on the Gulf of Mexico that does not have such a laboratory.

Dr. St. Amant pointed out that three locations were available, all in the Grand Isle area, and that a laboratory to fill all the requirements should be built in that area as all marine biologists agree that this location is the only one on the Louisiana coast with the proper salinity needed. He also pointed out that the Grand Isle area was virtually the center for the oyster, shrimp and fish industry.

Several reasons indicated that the new laboratories should be built on Grand Terre just back of the ruins of old Fort Livingston. The state of Louisiana owns 80 acres of land at that spot making it one of the reasons for selecting such a location; another reason was the fact that the walls of the old Fort act as a buffer to prevent tidal erosion and that at that spot the sea is filling in land instead of taking it away. It is also the highest ground in that entire area and history proves that Jean Lafitte built his warehouses on Grand Terre instead of Grand Isle because the ground was more solid and higher above sea level.

The commission, in its approval, stipulated that plans were to be made as soon as possible to provide not only a thoroughly modern, well equipped marine laboratory as well as living quarters for the biologists to be stationed there and for the development of a safe harbor on the Barataria side of that point of the island. When completed it is expected that this new laboratory will be one of the finest of its kind in America, as well as the best equipped and best staffed.

A Way Must Be Found To Adequately Compensate The Teachers

Louisiana Teachers Association members ended a three day convention in New Orleans Wednesday without making ironclad progress toward securing the pay raise they so desperately desire and need. They did preserve the integrity of their profession, however, when a level-headed majority wisely stopped thoughtless backers of a state-wide walkout in support of salary demands.

Growing out of the convention was the appointment of a 15-member committee assigned to solve the problems in the way of increased teacher salaries. Two distinguished and capable north Louisiana men were appointed to serve on the committee. They are Sen. James D. Sparks, a Monroe lawyer, and N. C. McGowen, president of the United Gas Corporation of Shreveport.

In a statement issued to the Morning World Thursday and carried in newspapers throughout the state Friday, Sen. Sparks advised the teachers to "take the 16 million dollars from the surplus which seems available at present and worry about the other 16 million later." The surplus he spoke of is an amount expected to be in the general fund available to be spent as the Long administration sees fit.

The surplus, which according to some estimates may run considerably more than $16 million, could be transferred to pay a salary increase for the teachers. The teachers are asking for raises that would require a total of $32 million.

An official of the Public Affairs Research Council, usually a reliable and unbiased organization, predicted last week in a speech in Shreveport that the surplus would exceed $32 million by several million dollars.

In the event the surplus does amount to over $32 million and the teachers can secure that amount for a raise, the salary problem will be solved only temporarily because there is no assurance there will continue to be enough surplus year after year to maintain the salary increase.

The teachers want a permanently dedicated revenue to finance the higher salaries they seek. In order to secure funds permanently assigned to pay the desired salaries it will be necessary to levy new taxes or to reassign taxes already being collected for some other purpose.

There is widespread sentiment against new taxes. Sen. Sparks said he would oppose any proposed increase in Louisiana taxes. The Legislature at the last regular session rejected an increase sought against the gas industry. This tax, had it passed, would have been dedicated to pay the salary increase to the teachers.

With Earl Long's poor political position at this time it is almost unthinkable that he could muster a two-thirds majority in the Legislature to pass new taxes. He may be able to secure the necessary legislation for new taxes in the event the 15-member committee should workout some formula supported by its members and acceptable to the Legislature.

When Earl Long was campaigning for governor he promised to increase the teachers' salary "without new taxes." If he knew what he was talking about now is the time for him to step forward with his plan instead of trying to coerce the teachers into drumming up legislative support for new taxes.

Long lured the teachers, and a lot of other people, to the polls with false promises and got himself elected. Now he admits he can't deliver the goods.

There still may be a chance for the governor to save face with the teachers, if he chooses to break faith with benefactors of welfare or old age assistance programs or some other state spending agency.

The governor's committee appointed to look for a source of funds to pay a teachers' raise would do well to decide early whether or not new taxes are definitely out. If a new tax is unacceptable the committee should survey the numerous spending agencies and decide which can best afford sufficient reduction to supply funds for a hike in teachers' salaries.

One thing appears certain. If the teachers get a permanent pay boost it will require the application of one of two things: The axe or the tax.

Price Fixing By Edict

Secretary of Agriculture Benson, in his new book, "Farmers At The Crossroads" (Devin-Adair Company, New York) has something wise to say about the marketing and pricing of farm products.

When farmers plan their production and marketing programs on the basis of their individual price forecasts, some make wise decisions and some do not. However, he then points out, "Aggregate errors in production judgments tend to be self-correcting, as economic ratios change and dictate such corrections." Hogs and corn provide him with a fine illustration of that principle: "If the price of hogs is high relative to corn, for example, farmers produce more hogs. As hog production and marketing increase, the ratio between hog and corn prices narrows, inducing farmers to shift to other kinds of livestock."

But what happens if government fixes the hog and corn prices? Mr. Benson answers in these words: ". . . The farmer must try to forecast changes in government edicts affecting relative prices of the two commodities, rather than to forecast economic changes in consumer demand and cost relationship. Government actions are frequently more difficult to predict than market behavior. . . . Administrative rulings are not as flexible as the market place. The price administrator moves slowly, and discovers belatedly that the support level is wrong. It takes still longer to admit the error and correct it."

The problems and dislocations that accompany price fixing by edict must always be worse than those they are supposed to solve.

THESE DAYS

Hawaii

The Republicans were anxious to have Hawaii admitted to statehood because they believed that it would give them two additional Republican senators. The Democrats favored admitting Alaska to statehood as that would give them two additional Democratic senators. As this produced a stand-off, nothing happened.

But the fact is that had Hawaii been granted statehood, the two senators might have been neither Republicans nor Democrats but Communists. For that lovely Polynesian area has become a pest-hole of communist infiltration and is controlled by Harry Bridges as though he were governor-general of the satrapy. It is for this reason that the Senate Internal Security subcommittee has already made a preliminary study of the Hawaiian Islands and is about to hold hearings there. It is to be remembered that Pearl Harbor is situated in the Hawaiian Islands and that they are the first line of defense of continental United States.

The principal sources of communist strength in Hawaii are the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union and the United Public Workers. These two unions dominate the economic and public life of the area, including radio stations and other means of communications. Curiously, the ILWU does not limit itself to longshoremen, but includes agricultural workers in the pineapple and sugar plantations which are the principal industries of the area. The population is mixed, mainly Orientals, with few emotional ties to the United States.

The leader of the ILWU in Hawaii is Jack Hall who was convicted under the Smith Act in 1953. William B. Stephenson, chairman of the Commission on Subversive Activities of the Territory of Hawaii, has stated:

"In speaking of the control which communist leaders exert in the ILWU, the commission has pointed out that if this control were exercised contrary to the best interests of the United States it could not only bring about economic chaos in Hawaii but could adversely affect the war potential and the national security of the United States. Moreover, the commission has pointed out that continuing communist control over the ILWU in Hawaii will endanger the national security of the United States in the event of war between this country and the Soviet Union."

The United States Navy has apparently been forced by circumstances to take cognizance of the enormous power of the ILWU, since it has ceased to employ workers of this union at the Pearl Harbor Navy Yard and as organized its own stevedoring service with civil service status.

The United Public Workers solicits membership among government employees and the employees of educational institutions and hospitals and related forms of employment. The Hawaiian Commission on Subversive Activities has found that:

". . . the United Public Workers was controlled by the Communist Party, that the Communist Party has exploited the UPW and its membership primarily for communist purposes, and that in conflicts of interest between the Communist Party and the rank and file membership of the union, the communist interest has prevailed.

"The commission has also stated its opinion that the communist control of this union presents a potential grave security problem in case of a national emergency, and that this problem has been intensified by the coalition of the Communist leadership of the United Public Workrs with the communist leadership of the ILWU."

In a word, the United States government staff in Hawaii is under the control of a union that has been declared communist-dominated and under leaders, some of whom have been convicted of seeking to overthrow the government of the United States.

When the record is studied, it is evident that it is not a pretty picture at all and that while the United States government was either asleep or buried under a heap of words, the Communists were making the Hawaiian Islands their own bailiwick and that if Hawaii were admitted to statehood, we might even get as United States senators, appointees of the Kremlin or of Red China. It is bad enough to have erstwhile communist stooges or converts from such causes in our national legislature but somehow we have managed to avoid an overt Kremlin agent. Even that is possible via Hawaii.

It is expected that the Senate Internal Security subcommittee will turn up a snsational situation in Hawaii which will have a profound effect upon Hawaii's chance of being admitted to statehood.

Teachers' Qualifications

We need teachers for our public schools, and need them acutely. We are advertising the profession in the newspapers and on the air in the hope of attracting young graduates to the schools.

When these young people make inquiries concerning their entering the field, they are met by a set of qulafications that startle them. Many of them have bachelors' degrees but no credits in education. They are disqualified. However, they are likely to be told that they will be given time in which to take so many hours in this and that department of educaion and then they will take the entrance examination and then if they pass they will be appointed. Many of them say politely, "No thank you," and enter business fields.

Of course, teachers need a sound education. The wider their knowledge of life and its ways, its history and its sciences, its goodness and its evil, the better. BUT — and I am going to shock a good many earnest people now — knowledge, degrees, do not make the good teacher. They are his tools and the certification that he has such tools, but they will not make him a good teacher if he has not the qualifications of a teacher.

I worked with teachers, I was a teacher, for a lifetime. I know for example, that I, proud of my earned degrees, owed the City of New York my salary for about three year, until the children taught me how to teach them. True, Dr. McMurray and Dr. John Dewey helped me to interpret what they had taught me, but it was the work in the classroom with the children that taught me to teach.

That brings me to what I want to say. There are fine teachers in the schools today who have no degrees. Maybe their colleges or schools conferred none. The fact remains these are fine teachers, often the bulwarks of the school. Why not accept the youngsters on that basis? Take their certificates of graduation and let them try themselves out for three years. If they are teachers in the true sense of the term, confirm them in their positions. Never fear — they'll do the necessary studying to enable them to keep up with their pupils. The pupils see to that.

I do not believe that holding degrees is a sound basis for salary. One of the most inefficient teachers I ever knew had all the degrees possible. He was a lovable soul, but teaching was not his field. I knew, and I know today, fine teachers who hold no degree save that conferred on them by grateful students.

Degrees are nice to have. They speak of an effort to learn. But what makes one a teacher is teaching, teaching in a classroom full of children. They will either make or break the candidate, and quickly.

GOP Was Loser In Farm Belt Seats

President Eisenhower, with many reasons for offering thanks on this Thanksgiving day, can also be thankful that he didn't lose the House of Representatives by more than he did in this unusual, confusing election year.

His party has claimed that two years ago, farmers supported the Benson plan for a flexible scale of parity payments in the congressional election, losing at most two GOP members who had voted it in 1953. But this year the casualties were greater.

At Republican Congressional headquarters, officials are saying that despite the punishing drive which the Democratic candidates staged in making the Benson farm plan an issue and demanding a return of 90 per cent parity payments, their losses were held to a minimum.

A study of the casualties, however, puts a different face on the farm subsidy situation than in 1954. The Republican losses traceable to that issue, with some other issues contributing, included 11 seats in farm districts — two in Oregon, two in California, one each in South Dakota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Washington.

That other question, such as the federal power policy, and the continuing drouth may have played a part in several of these districts is indicated by the fact that in Minnesota, where the farm price support reached its peak, with both Adlai E. Stevenson and Estes Kefauver visiting the state twice, the GOP did not lose any of the four farm districts they now held. That also was true in Wisconsin, where the warning sign went up for the Republicans on farm policy in 1953 when Rep. L. R. Johnson, a Democrat, was chosen at a special election to a seat which had been held by a veteran Republican Merlin Hull, who had died.

So it can be said that the Republicans will be weaker in the next House than in the last because of defeats in farm districts, which is enough to prove the Democrats' point that they held the advantage on the farm issue.

The price support issue will probably be fought over once more at the coming session, like an old battlefield which changes hands several times in the course of a war. But of equal importance is the future of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson, whose insistence that Flexible Supports be continued as a means of reducing the huge government-held surplus of farm products still has the support of President Eisenhower.

Those close to the secretary say he has no intention of quitting. Meanwhile, if this session produces another Democratic sponsored farm bill, it will have an excellent chance of passing both Houses, with a possible veto by the White House.

This battle between the legislative and the executive branches of the government on the farm support issue is beginning to resemble in several respects the prolonged fight between the farm bloc and two Republican presidents, Coolidge and Hoover, during the 1920's, when the rest of the country enjoyed prosperity while agriculture was in considerably worse shape than it is at present, according to economic slide rules. The McNary-Haugen bill, providing export subsidies, was fought over for six years and vetoes by both presidents. It never became law.

The administration hopes to avert another legislative test on the issue until the soil bank program, which did not become operative until the political campaign had begun has a chance to be tested. By taking a tremendous total acreage of all basic crops out of production the new Benson plan hopes to reduce the overall agricultural output to a point where the surplus will be the lowest in several years.

That, however, will not keep the Democrats from an attempt to consolidate their political gains in the farm belt. This they figure can be done by enacting an amendment changing the support payments back to a fixed basis. With a vote limited to that issue, and without including many other provisions which led to the president's veto of the first farm bill passed last year, the Democratic farm leaders figure they will get enough votes from the farm belt Republicans who were reelected to pass the new bill over a veto.

Worry Clinic

By Dr. George W. Crane

Notice this naval officer's compliment for a star salesman of religion. very clergyman is supposed to imitate St. Paul who was probably the best salesman Christianity has ever had. A good salesman, however, must sell himself before he can persuade others to accept his ideas or his wares. So clergymen must be deft Applied Psychologists.

Case T-330: Frank W. Hill, aged 27, is a capable jet pilot in the U.S. Navy, now stationed at Jacksonville, Florida.

He and my oldest son George went through aviation training together and have been firm friends ever since.

Since Frank is the type of well rounded personality typical of our best military officers, he supports the church and moral enterprises not just with lip service alone but by faithful attendance thereat.

In a recent letter, he mentioned Dr. John H. Hanger who is a pastor in Jacksonville. And Frank's praise of Dr. Hanger merits reproduction, for clergymen often fail to realize their constructive influence on the people in their audiences.

Indeed, strangers often receive such a soul tonic from a single shy visit to a church that their entire lives may be altered, yet they may never thank the clergyman face to face.

So this letter from Frank Hill reflects the helpful influence of thousands of faithful clerics everywhere.

"Dr. Hanger is truly a great man," wrote Frank Hill. "He has an unusual ability to reach the people and make each one feel important.

"He has such a relaxed way of giving a sermon. He exudes a joyous outlook on life which is contagious.

"He could speak all day long and hold the interest of his congregation. And I have also become acquainted with Mrs. Hanger and the children.

"She fits in so perfectly with her husband, for she is cheerful and also has a sincere smile and warm greeting for everybody, including the strangers.

"I heard her conduct a Sunday evening service at which her sister sang, and they both gave the program a distinct lift. The entire Hanger family sets a high standard."

Every clergyman is supposed to be a star salesman of ethics. But the cardinal rule in all sales work is that the salesman must first sell himself to the prospect or he will never be able to sell his merchandise or ideas.

So a clergyman must learn how to win friends and be popular in his own right, or he can't expect to attract converts to his religious ideas.

And among the churches where the clerics marry, this stellar salesmanship extends even to the wife and children.

Such a clergyman's family should cooperate as a team in helping show that morality is fun and religion is a happy way of life instead of a gloomy affair.

Occasionally a splendid clergyman may have a wife who fails to do her part. Or he may have children who forget their allegiance to the family team.

As a rule, however, there is a very high degree of family loyalty and cooperation in a clergyman's family, as demonstrated by the Hangers at Jacksonville.

It is largely a tribute to the talented clergymen of this generation that the percentage of church membership in America has zoomed to 60 per cent from a mere 25 per cent at the start of this 20th century.

So go to church tomorrow and pay your clergyman a deserved compliment when he makes an interesting sermon or does anything else that helps advance the cause of moral progress.

And if he isn't a good speaker, send him my booklet "Public Platform Strategy," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Clergymen are usually topnotch public speakers but sometimes they get too academic and thus put their listeners to sleep.

A Way Must Be Found To Adequately Compensate The Teachers

Louisiana Teachers Association members ended a three day convention in New Orleans Wednesday without making ironclad progress toward securing the pay raise they so desperately desire and need. They did preserve the integrity of their profession, however, when a level-headed majority wisely stopped thoughtless backers of a state-wide walkout in support of salary demands.

Growing out of the convention was the appointment of a 15-member committee assigned to solve the problems in the way of increased teacher salaries. Two distinguished and capable north Louisiana men were appointed to serve on the committee. They are Sen. James D. Sparks, a Monroe lawyer, and N. C. McGowen, president of the United Gas Corporation of Shreveport.

In a statement issued to the Morning World Thursday and carried in newspapers throughout the state Friday, Sen. Sparks advised the teachers to "take the 16 million dollars from the surplus which seems available at present and worry about the other 16 million later." The surplus he spoke of is an amount expected to be in the general fund available to be spent as the Long administration sees fit.

The surplus, which according to some estimates may run considerably more than $16 million, could be transferred to pay a salary increase for the teachers. The teachers are asking for raises that would require a total of $32 million.

An official of the Public Affairs Research Council, usually a reliable and unbiased organization, predicted last week in a speech in Shreveport that the surplus would exceed $32 million by several million dollars.

In the event the surplus does amount to over $32 million and the teachers can secure that amount for a raise, the salary problem will be solved only temporarily because there is no assurance there will continue to be enough surplus year after year to maintain the salary increase.

The teachers want a permanently dedicated revenue to finance the higher salaries they seek. In order to secure funds permanently assigned to pay the desired salaries it will be necessary to levy new taxes or to reassign taxes already being collected for some other purpose.

There is widespread sentiment against new taxes. Sen. Sparks said he would oppose any proposed increase in Louisiana taxes. The Legislature at the last regular session rejected an increase sought against the gas industry. This tax, had it passed, would have been dedicated to pay the salary increase to the teachers.

With Earl Long's poor political position at this time it is almost unthinkable that he could muster a two-thirds majority in the Legislature to pass new taxes. He may be able to secure the necessary legislation for new taxes in the event the 15-member committee should workout some formula supported by its members and acceptable to the Legislature.

When Earl Long was campaigning for governor he promised to increase the teachers' salary "without new taxes." If he knew what he was talking about now is the time for him to step forward with his plan instead of trying to coerce the teachers into drumming up legislative support for new taxes.

Long lured the teachers, and a lot of other people, to the polls with false promises and got himself elected. Now he admits he can't deliver the goods.

There still may be a chance for the governor to save face with the teachers, if he chooses to break faith with benefactors of welfare or old age assistance programs or some other state spending agency.

The governor's committee appointed to look for a source of funds to pay a teachers' raise would do well to decide early whether or not new taxes are definitely out. If a new tax is unacceptable the committee should survey the numerous spending agencies and decide which can best afford sufficient reduction to supply funds for a hike in teachers' salaries.

One thing appears certain. If the teachers get a permanent pay boost it will require the application of one of two things: The axe or the tax.

Price Fixing By Edict

Secretary of Agriculture Benson, in his new book, "Farmers At The Crossroads" (Devin-Adair Company, New York) has something wise to say about the marketing and pricing of farm products.

When farmers plan their production and marketing programs on the basis of their individual price forecasts, some make wise decisions and some do not. However, he then points out, "Aggregate errors in production judgments tend to be self-correcting, as economic ratios change and dictate such corrections." Hogs and corn provide him with a fine illustration of that principle: "If the price of hogs is high relative to corn, for example, farmers produce more hogs. As hog production and marketing increase, the ratio between hog and corn prices narrows, inducing farmers to shift to other kinds of livestock."

But what happens if government fixes the hog and corn prices? Mr. Benson answers in these words: ". . . The farmer must try to forecast changes in government edicts affecting relative prices of the two commodities, rather than to forecast economic changes in consumer demand and cost relationship. Government actions are frequently more difficult to predict than market behavior. . . . Administrative rulings are not as flexible as the market place. The price administrator moves slowly, and discovers belatedly that the support level is wrong. It takes still longer to admit the error and correct it."

The problems and dislocations that accompany price fixing by edict must always be worse than those they are supposed to solve.

THESE DAYS

Hawaii

The Republicans were anxious to have Hawaii admitted to statehood because they believed that it would give them two additional Republican senators. The Democrats favored admitting Alaska to statehood as that would give them two additional Democratic senators. As this produced a stand-off, nothing happened.

But the fact is that had Hawaii been granted statehood, the two senators might have been neither Republicans nor Democrats but Communists. For that lovely Polynesian area has become a pest-hole of communist infiltration and is controlled by Harry Bridges as though he were governor-general of the satrapy. It is for this reason that the Senate Internal Security subcommittee has already made a preliminary study of the Hawaiian Islands and is about to hold hearings there. It is to be remembered that Pearl Harbor is situated in the Hawaiian Islands and that they are the first line of defense of continental United States.

The principal sources of communist strength in Hawaii are the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union and the United Public Workers. These two unions dominate the economic and public life of the area, including radio stations and other means of communications. Curiously, the ILWU does not limit itself to longshoremen, but includes agricultural workers in the pineapple and sugar plantations which are the principal industries of the area. The population is mixed, mainly Orientals, with few emotional ties to the United States.

The leader of the ILWU in Hawaii is Jack Hall who was convicted under the Smith Act in 1953. William B. Stephenson, chairman of the Commission on Subversive Activities of the Territory of Hawaii, has stated:

"In speaking of the control which communist leaders exert in the ILWU, the commission has pointed out that if this control were exercised contrary to the best interests of the United States it could not only bring about economic chaos in Hawaii but could adversely affect the war potential and the national security of the United States. Moreover, the commission has pointed out that continuing communist control over the ILWU in Hawaii will endanger the national security of the United States in the event of war between this country and the Soviet Union."

The United States Navy has apparently been forced by circumstances to take cognizance of the enormous power of the ILWU, since it has ceased to employ workers of this union at the Pearl Harbor Navy Yard and as organized its own stevedoring service with civil service status.

The United Public Workers solicits membership among government employees and the employees of educational institutions and hospitals and related forms of employment. The Hawaiian Commission on Subversive Activities has found that:

". . . the United Public Workers was controlled by the Communist Party, that the Communist Party has exploited the UPW and its membership primarily for communist purposes, and that in conflicts of interest between the Communist Party and the rank and file membership of the union, the communist interest has prevailed.

"The commission has also stated its opinion that the communist control of this union presents a potential grave security problem in case of a national emergency, and that this problem has been intensified by the coalition of the Communist leadership of the United Public Workrs with the communist leadership of the ILWU."

In a word, the United States government staff in Hawaii is under the control of a union that has been declared communist-dominated and under leaders, some of whom have been convicted of seeking to overthrow the government of the United States.

When the record is studied, it is evident that it is not a pretty picture at all and that while the United States government was either asleep or buried under a heap of words, the Communists were making the Hawaiian Islands their own bailiwick and that if Hawaii were admitted to statehood, we might even get as United States senators, appointees of the Kremlin or of Red China. It is bad enough to have erstwhile communist stooges or converts from such causes in our national legislature but somehow we have managed to avoid an overt Kremlin agent. Even that is possible via Hawaii.

It is expected that the Senate Internal Security subcommittee will turn up a snsational situation in Hawaii which will have a profound effect upon Hawaii's chance of being admitted to statehood.

Teachers' Qualifications

We need teachers for our public schools, and need them acutely. We are advertising the profession in the newspapers and on the air in the hope of attracting young graduates to the schools.

When these young people make inquiries concerning their entering the field, they are met by a set of qulafications that startle them. Many of them have bachelors' degrees but no credits in education. They are disqualified. However, they are likely to be told that they will be given time in which to take so many hours in this and that department of education and then they will take the entrance examination and then if they pass they will be appointed. Many of them say politely, "No thank you," and enter business fields.

Of course, teachers need a sound education. The wider their knowledge of life and its ways, its history and its sciences, its goodness and its evil, the better. BUT — and I am going to shock a good many earnest people now — knowledge, degrees, do not make the good teacher. They are his tools and the certification that he has such tools, but they will not make him a good teacher if he has not the qualifications of a teacher.

I worked with teachers, I was a teacher, for a lifetime. I know for example, that I, proud of my earned degrees, owed the City of New York my salary for about three year, until the children taught me how to teach them. True, Dr. McMurray and Dr. John Dewey helped me to interpret what they had taught me, but it was the work in the classroom with the children that taught me to teach.

That brings me to what I want to say. There are fine teachers in the schools today who have no degrees. Maybe their colleges or schools conferred none. The fact remains these are fine teachers, often the bulwarks of the school. Why not accept the youngsters on that basis? Take their certificates of graduation and let them try themselves out for three years. If they are teachers in the true sense of the term, confirm them in their positions. Never fear — they'll do the necessary studying to enable them to keep up with their pupils. The pupils see to that.

I do not believe that holding degrees is a sound basis for salary. One of the most inefficient teachers I ever knew had all the degrees possible. He was a lovable soul, but teaching was not his field. I knew, and I know today, fine teachers who hold no degree save that conferred on them by grateful students.

Degrees are nice to have. They speak of an effort to learn. But what makes one a teacher is teaching, teaching in a classroom full of children. They will either make or break the candidate, and quickly.

IN WASHINGTON

GOP Was Loser In Farm Belt Seats

President Eisenhower, with many reasons for offering thanks on this Thanksgiving day, can also be thankful that he didn't lose the House of Representatives by more than he did in this unusual, confusing election year.

His party has claimed that two years ago, farmers supported the Benson plan for a flexible scale of parity payments in the congressional election, losing at most two GOP members who had voted it in 1953. But this year the casualties were greater.

At Republican Congressional headquarters, officials are saying that despite the punishing drive which the Democratic candidates staged in making the Benson farm plan an issue and demanding a return of 90 per cent parity payments, their losses were held to a minimum.

A study of the casualties, however, puts a different face on the farm subsidy situation than in 1954. The Republican losses traceable to that issue, with some other issues contributing, included 11 seats in farm districts — two in Oregon, two in California, one each in South Dakota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas and Washington.

That other question, such as the federal power policy, and the continuing drouth may have played a part in several of these districts is indicated by the fact that in Minnesota, where the farm price support reached its peak, with both Adlai E. Stevenson and Estes Kefauver visiting the state twice, the GOP did not lose any of the four farm districts they now held. That also was true in Wisconsin, where the warning sign went up for the Republicans on farm policy in 1953 when Rep. L. R. Johnson, a Democrat, was chosen at a special election to a seat which had been held by a veteran Republican Merlin Hull, who had died.

So it can be said that the Republicans will be weaker in the next House than in the last because of defeats in farm districts, which is enough to prove the Democrats' point that they held the advantage on the farm issue.

The price support issue will probably be fought over once more at the coming session, like an old battlefield which changes hands several times in the course of a war. But of equal importance is the future of Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson, whose insistence that Flexible Supports be continued as a means of reducing the huge government-held surplus of farm products still has the support of President Eisenhower.

Those close to the secretary say he has no intention of quitting. Meanwhile, if this session produces another Democratic sponsored farm bill, it will have an excellent chance of passing both Houses, with a possible veto by the White House.

This battle between the legislative and the executive branches of the government on the farm support issue is beginning to resemble in several respects the prolonged fight between the farm bloc and two Republican presidents, Coolidge and Hoover, during the 1920's, when the rest of the country enjoyed prosperity while agriculture was in considerably worse shape than it is at present, according to economic slide rules. The McNary-Haugen bill, providing export subsidies, was fought over for six years and vetoes by both presidents. It never became law.

The administration hopes to avert another legislative test on the issue until the soil bank program, which did not become operative until the political campaign had begun has a chance to be tested. By taking a tremendous total acreage of all basic crops out of production the new Benson plan hopes to reduce the overall agricultural output to a point where the surplus will be the lowest in several years.

That, however, will not keep the Democrats from an attempt to consolidate their political gains in the farm belt. This they figure can be done by enacting an amendment changing the support payments back to a fixed basis. With a vote limited to that issue, and without including many other provisions which led to the president's veto of the first farm bill passed last year, the Democratic farm leaders figure they will get enough votes from the farm belt Republicans who were reelected to pass the new bill over a veto.

"I heard her conduct a Sunday evening service at which her sister sang, and they both gave the program a distinct lift. The entire Hanger family sets a high standard."

Every clergyman is supposed to be a star salesman of ethics. But the cardinal rule in all sales work is that the salesman must first sell himself to the prospect or he will never be able to sell his merchandise or ideas.

So a clergyman must learn how to win friends and be popular in his own right, or he can't expect to attract converts to his religious ideas.

And among the churches where the clerics marry, this stellar salesmanship extends even to the wife and children.

Such a clergyman's family should cooperate as a team in helping show that morality is fun and religion is a happy way of life instead of a gloomy affair.

Occasionally a splendid clergyman may have a wife who fails to do her part. Or he may have children who forget their allegiance to the family team.

As a rule, however, there is a very high degree of family loyalty and cooperation in a clergyman's family, as demonstrated by the Hangers at Jacksonville.

It is largely a tribute to the talented clergymen of this generation that the percentage of church membership in America has zoomed to 60 per cent from a mere 25 per cent at the start of this 20th century.

So go to church tomorrow and pay your clergyman a deserved compliment when he makes an interesting sermon or does anything else that helps advance the cause of moral progress.

And if he isn't a good speaker send him my booklet "Public Platform Strategy," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Area Teachers Expected To Push Raise Campaign

A high ranking Northeast Louisiana classroom teacher last night predicted early meetings of various parish teachers' organizations to make plans to press for legislative action to fulfill a promised pay raise.

Mrs. Mary Blackiston, of West Monroe, president of the Fifth Congressional District Classroom Teachers' Association, said she expected groups in 14 Northeast Louisiana parishes and the city of Monroe to instruct their legislative committees to meet with their representatives and ask their support for measures which would assure the teachers a yearly salary boost.

The state's teachers are seeking a pay raise which was approved by the legislature last summer. A gas - gathering tax bill which would have provided the necessary funds was killed.

In reply to a question concerning a threat of political action in the voting booth at the next election when representatives who refused to approve the gas - gathering tax are seeking another term, Mrs. Blackiston said that politicans were certainly aware that many individual teachers would support candidates who favored their cause and would oppose those who did not.

Mrs. Blackiston, who is also a member of the Ouachita parish CTA legislative comittee, said her group has been and will continue to be in contact with local reprepresentatives Gilbert Faulk and Lawrence Gibbs.

Faulk opposed the tax bill, while Gibbs favored it.

According to the West Monroe school teacher, meetings will "probably" be called soon after the Thanksgiving holidays in the Fifth Congressional District. The groups will be awaiting results of recommendations made by various committees which were formed to study the problem when some of the state's teachers were threat- a work stoppage on Jan. 2.

The work - stoppage was averted by a compromise resolution approved by the recent Louisiana Teachers' Association in New Orleans.

which has been urging the invaders to pull out. In a strong demand for such action, Shepilov said, "It can be said without exaggeration that on the carrying out of this, peace in the Middle East, and not only in the Middle East depends."

After the British and French have withdrawn from the Suez Canal area, Shepilov said, the U. N. forces will have no functions there and should join the U. N. detachments which by that time should be stationed along the armistice lines between Israel and Egypt.

Egypt's foreign minister, Mahmoud Fawzi, said his country's sovereignty still is being flagrantly infringed while Britain, France and Israel ignore the Assembly recommendations.

He said the continued presence of the troops is holding up important matters, like clearing the Suez Canal.

"The invading forces must withdraw immediately," he said. "And by immediately I do mean in a matter of a very few days, just as they came in a matter of a very few days."

Lloyd followed Fawzi to the rostrum with the announcement of the imminent withdrawal of the battalion and the plan to keep the remainder of the force in Egypt until the U.N. force can handle the assignment.

Lloyd said one of those tasks is to make certain that hostilities are not resumed. He said it would take a little time for the U.N. force to be set up correctly so it would not be a "hodgepodge" of military units. He warned against rushing this organization least the U.N. force be "laughed at."

He said the orders for the battalion to withdraw were being issued as an "act of faith" in the U.N. Should Britain's faith prove to be misplaced, he said, there will be cause for alarm and despondency.

"That is our position with regard to withdrawal," Lloyd said. "It will take place as soon as the United Nations Emergency Force is effective and competent to discharge the task."

Howard Brands Tax Opponents' Reports Untrue

Mayor W. L. Howard last night promised "to fully answer" critics of the proposed one per cent city sales tax.

Howard said he would "set the record straight" concerning 'erroneous" statements issued by sales tax opponents.

Howard said he and Commissioners H. W. McSherry and W. D. H. Rodriguez along with other officials and private citizens would appear on television Monday at 7:30 p.m. to put the true facts before the people."

The one per cent sales tax issue comes up for election Tuesday.

Leading the attack against the sales tax has been a group called the Monroe Taxpayers Association, whose chairman is A. J. Behr. Through the various advertising media, the group has labelled the sales tax 'dreadful and terrible" and is asking for a survey by experts in city financing.

"The so-called Monroe Taxpayers Association," declared Howard, "has been spreading erroneous reports and information concerning the sales tax. We are going to correct this misinformation Monday night by telling the residents of Monroe just what the true facts are."

The mayor asserted that he would be pleased to have sales tax opponents call on him at city hall. He said he has continually offered to meet and talk to the group but had been refused permission to address them.

Among the points he said would be discussed Monday night were the integrated scale of the sales tax and the activities of the Utilities Commission.

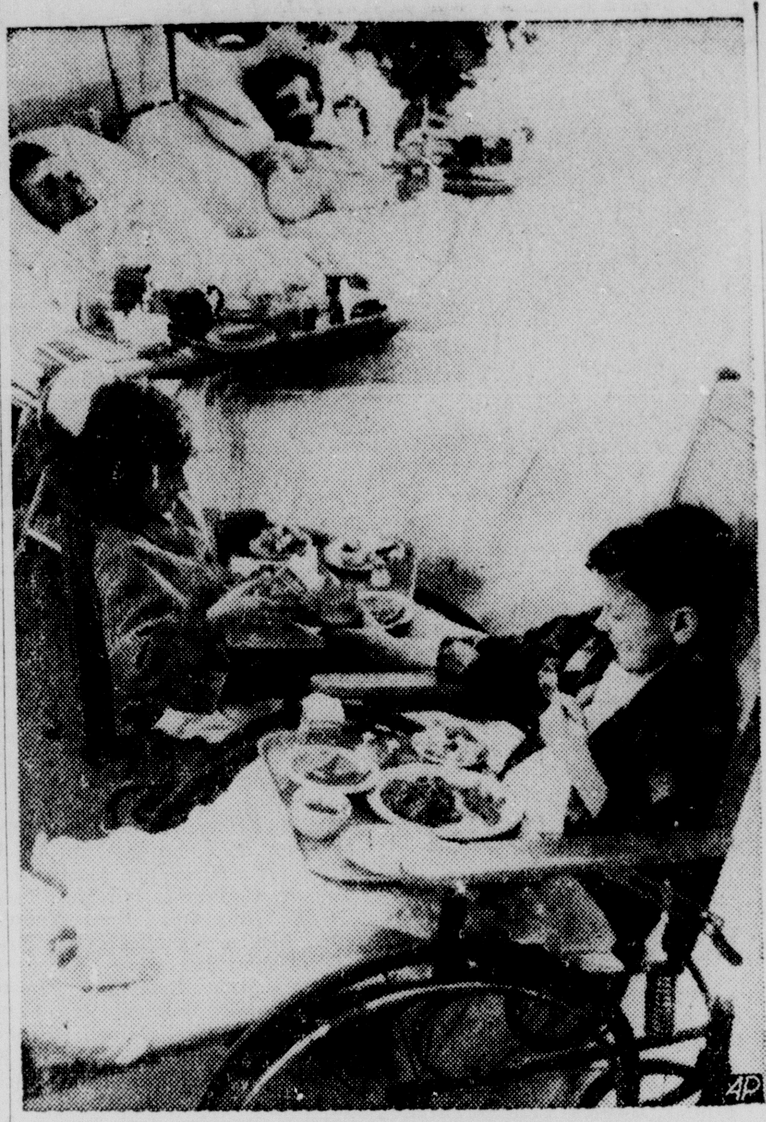
Howard said he would "correct misinformation" concerning the tax rate for 25 and 50 cent purchases. Sales tax foes have charged that the one per cent sales tax actually means that there would be a four per cent tax on a 25-cent item and a two per cent tax on a 50-cent purchase. Howard promised to show where these statements were "completely erroneous."

Striking at his opponent's recommendation for hiring a financial expert to study the city's problems, Howard pointed out that a survey and official audit had already been made and their results had appeared in the city's sales tax brochure.

"Why hire an expert to tell us what experts have already told us," he asked. "An expert would be paid to study the finances and then he would tell us exactly what we already know—that we are deeply in debt," he said.

Howard asserted that he had repeatedly asked the public to give the city ideas which might alleviate the financial plight. "If this so-called Taxpayers Association has any concrete recommendation to make which will provide the necessary funds, then we would be more than pleased to hear it," he said.

"Their only recommendation — to hire a financial expert — is impractical and would not get the job done," he declared.



THANKSGIVING REUNION IN HOSPITAL—The Thomas Pattie family of Gainesville, Va., all wearing casts as a result of an automobile accident six days earlier, gave thanks as they were reunited for Thanksgiving Day dinner at an Arlington, Va., hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Pattie ate their dinners from beds while Sharon, 8, and Tommy, 9, ate from wheelchairs. The hospital arranged to have the four moved from separate rooms and floors into one room for the reunion. (AP Wirephoto)

33 Killed When Italian Airliner Crashes At Paris

PARIS, Nov. 24 (AP)—A four-engined transatlantic Italian airliner crashed into a suburban French home near Orly Airfield early today, killing 33 of 34 persons aboard and one young boy in the house.

Two other persons in the house were badly injured.

Some Americans were reported aboard.

The four-engined plane of the Italian airline LAI carried 24 passengers and a crew of 8. All but two of the passengers boarded the plane in Rome.

The next stop after Paris was to have been Shannon Airport in Ireland before the long hop across the Atlantic.

The plane crashed into a field about a mile from Orly, the big Paris airport for international traffic.

It was reported to have crashed into two small buildings.

Flames leaping from the crash could be seen for miles.

The plane made an apparently normal takeoff run in bitter cold weather as the first traces of snow this winter were falling on Paris.

Fire trucks and ambulances of the airport rescue force raced to the scene.

The hostess aboard was French.

The DC6B made a normal takeoff run and seemed to have trouble gaining altitude.

The fire apparently burst out when the fuel tanks broke open in the crash. The scene was reported to be just behind the city hall of the little Paris suburb of Paray Vieille Poste.

Charges Filed In Fatal Accident

RAYVILLE, Nov. 23 (Special)—Charges of leaving the scene of an accident, simple drunk and the investigation of negilgent homicide have been filed against two Negroes who rammed a tractor on highway 80 Monday, resulting in the death of another Negro and the critical injuring of his wife.

Lloyd Caston, 41, 804 S. 18th, Monroe, and Alex Lenyear, 31 of Waverly are being held in the Richland parish jail. Both deny driving the auto at the time of the accident.

Killed was 40 - year - old Richard Wright and injured was Sarah Wright, who lost both legs when the auto crashed into the rear of the tractor shortly after dark.

Physicians at the Conway Memorial Hospital in Monroe said Friday that the injured woman was improving. She lost her left leg above the knee and her right below the knee.

Legion Aux. Sets Date For Party

LAKE PROVIDENCE — Saturday, December 15th, has been set as the date for the annual Christmas party, sponsored by the Powell-Martin-Barrett Unit 37, the American Legion Auxiliary, states Mrs. Minnie E. Bass, Community Service Committee Chairman. Santa Claus will be at the American Legion Home at 3:00 p.m. to greet his little friends with toys and fruit provided by the local Auxiliary, Mrs. Bass said.

The date for the party was announced at the November meeeting of the Auxiliary. A report from the rehabilitation chairman, Mrs. Nelle Erwin, given at the meeting, showed that the collection of Toys and Gifts for the Disabled Veterans had an estimated value of more than $250.00.

A personal award was presented to Mrs. Bessie Walsworth by Miss Anyse Perry, unit and department coupon chairman, for having collected more coupons than any other member of Unit 37 during the months of August, September and October. Miss Perry announced that the Junior award had been presented to Ginger Butler.

Mrs. Leon Doles Gives Review For Garden Club

Arrangements of autumn flowers were placed at points of interest in the home of Mrs. R. C. Wells this week when she entertained members of the Lake Enterprise Garden Club of Wilmot. Co-hosting the event were Mesdames Richard Bradshaw, Lee Foster and Austin Bordeaux. Prepared by the Exhibit Committee for November were the artistic floral displays to which attention was directed. Centering the long polished table in the dining room was a mass arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums interspersed with red and green foliage. For this Mrs. Joe Callaway chose as a container a low brass bowl. For an arrangement featuring harvest time, Mrs. Edwin Dunning chose a tiered tray ladened with fruit which was placed on the buffet.

During the business session which was presided over by Mrs. Joe Callaway, club president, emphasis was on the Christmas plans which include the Christmas Pilgrimage of Homes and the Outdoor Decoration Contest. Other items on the agenda included the announcement of the forthcoming Flower Schools in Wilmot and the Bastrop Country Club; and the appointment of the Garden of the Month Award Committee, which is composed of Mesdames W. B. deYampert, Bonnie Denham, and D. T. Henderson.

In her monthly horticultural report, Mrs. Earle Newton discussed the present care for roses, dahlias and shrubbery.

Gardening with Nature by Leonard Wickenden was the subject for Mrs. Leon Doles' book review which stressed the Fundamentals —"What Is Soil and How To Maintain It."

Those present included Mesdames Ralph Melton, Geo. Channell, Earle Newton, Bonnie Denham, W. B. deYampert, D. T. Henderson, Joe Callaway, A. B. Cone, Edwin Dunning, Lee Foster, Harry McDermott, J. C. Kister, Geo. Porter, Joe Waggner, Fitzhugh, I. A. Janes, Joe McGarry, M. C. Crandall, Braxton McKee, Frank Ladd and Leon Doles, and Richard Bradshaw.

Dinner Fetes Bride-Elect

Miss Marie Phillips, bride-elect, was entertained at a dinner party given Monday night by Miss Mary Messina, Miss Rosa Messina, Mrs. Buster Parker, Mrs. Ross La Dart, Mrs. Martha Messina, Mrs. Sara Dispenza and Mrs. Carey Messina.

Attending the party from Tallulah were Mrs. Charles Phillips, the honoree's mother, Miss Jennie Scurria, Miss Angelina Scurria and Mrs. Billy Finlayson.

The Earnest Home Is Scene Of Coffee

An outstanding social event of the Thanksgiving season was the coffee given Wednesday morning by Mrs. N. G. Gaston and Mrs. J. C. Earnest in the latter's home on the Sterlington road in honor of Mrs. George Mouk and Mrs. Bolling Jones, who recently moved to Monroe.

The Earnest home, overlooking Bayou DeSiard, was attractively decorated with a variety of autumn arrangements.

Among those calling beteen 10 and 12 o'clock were Mrs. Grant Boardman, Mrs. Paul Ransom, Mrs. W. T. Allen, Mrs. H. K. Touchstone, Jr., Mrs. Harold Touchstone, Mrs. M. S. Legion Aux. Sets Date For Party

LAKE PROVIDENCE — Saturday, December 15th, has been set as the date for the annual Christmas party, sponsored by the Powell-Martin-Barrett Unit 37, the American Legion Auxiliary, states Mrs. Minnie E. Bass, Community Service Committee Chairman. Santa Claus will be at the American Legion Home at 3:00 p.m. to greet his little friends with toys and fruit provided by the local Auxiliary, Mrs. Bass said.

The date for the party was announced at the November meeeting of the Auxiliary. A report from the rehabilitation chairman, Mrs. Nelle Erwin, given at the meeting, showed that the collection of Toys and Gifts for the Disabled Veterans had an estimated value of more than $250.00.

A personal award was presented to Mrs. Bessie Walsworth by Miss Anyse Perry, unit and department coupon chairman, for having collected more coupons than any other member of Unit 37 during the months of August, September and October. Miss Perry announced that the Junior award had been presented to Ginger Butler.

Mrs. Leon Doles Gives Review For Garden Club

Arrangements of autumn flowers were placed at points of interest in the home of Mrs. R. C. Wells this week when she entertained members of the Lake Enterprise Garden Club of Wilmot. Co-hosting the event were Mesdames Richard Bradshaw, Lee Foster and Austin Bordeaux. Prepared by the Exhibit Committee for November were the artistic floral displays to which attention was directed. Centering the long polished table in the dining room was a mass arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums interspersed with red and green foliage. For this Mrs. Joe Callaway chose as a container a low brass bowl. For an arrangement featuring harvest time, Mrs. Edwin Dunning chose a tiered tray ladened with fruit which was placed on the buffet.

During the business session which was presided over by Mrs. Joe Callaway, club president, emphasis was on the Christmas plans which include the Christmas Pilgrimage of Homes and the Outdoor Decoration Contest. Other items on the agenda included the announcement of the forthcoming Flower Schools in Wilmot and the Bastrop Country Club; and the appointment of the Garden of the Month Award Committee, which is composed of Mesdames W. B. deYampert, Bonnie Denham, and D. T. Henderson.

In her monthly horticultural report, Mrs. Earle Newton discussed the present care for roses, dahlias and shrubbery.

Gardening with Nature by Leonard Wickenden was the subject for Mrs. Leon Doles' book review which stressed the Fundamentals —"What Is Soil and How To Maintain It."

Those present included Mesdames Ralph Melton, Geo. Channell, Earle Newton, Bonnie Denham, W. B. deYampert, D. T. Henderson, Joe Callaway, A. B. Cone, Edwin Dunning, Lee Foster, Harry McDermott, J. C. Kister, Geo. Porter, Joe Waggner, Fitzhugh, I. A. Janes, Joe McGarry, M. C. Crandall, Braxton McKee, Frank Ladd and Leon Doles, and Richard Bradshaw.

Dinner Fetes Bride-Elect

Miss Marie Phillips, bride-elect, was entertained at a dinner party given Monday night by Miss Mary Messina, Miss Rosa Messina, Mrs. Buster Parker, Mrs. Ross La Dart, Mrs. Martha Messina, Mrs. Sara Dispenza and Mrs. Carey Messina.

Attending the party from Tallulah were Mrs. Charles Phillips, the honoree's mother, Miss Jennie Scurria, Miss Angelina Scurria and Mrs. Billy Finlayson.

The Earnest Home Is Scene Of Coffee

An outstanding social event of the Thanksgiving season was the coffee given Wednesday morning by Mrs. N. G. Gaston and Mrs. J. C. Earnest in the latter's home on the Sterlington road in honor of Mrs. George Mouk and Mrs. Bolling Jones, who recently moved to Monroe.

The Earnest home, overlooking Bayou DeSiard, was attractively decorated with a variety of autumn arrangements.

Among those calling beteen 10 and 12 o'clock were Mrs. Grant Boardman, Mrs. Paul Ransom, Mrs. W. T. Allen, Mrs. H. K. Touchstone, Jr., Mrs. Harold Touchstone, Mrs. M. S. Armed Robbery Charges Placed Against Sailor

LAWTON, Okla., Nov. 23 (UP) —Armed robbery charges were filed here Friday against an 18-year-old AWOL sailor who staged three armed robberies, stole two automobiles and eluded offices in Texas and Oklahoma for four days before his capture.

The young seaman, Bruce Hammon, Loveland, Okla., who jumped ship at San Diego last Sunday, was charged here with robbing Charles Anderson, Snyder, Okla., of his shotgun, wallet and 1956 Ford.

He will be arraigned in peace justice court here at 10 a.m. Saturday.

Officers said Hammon fled his ship, the USS Shield at San Diego and rode a bus to Verifw Tex., where he stole a 1954 Packard. He eluded roadblocks set up by Texas Rangers and drove to Jumbo, Okla., in Pushmataha county. There, Hammon pistol - whipped grocery owner George Shaw in a robbery attempt, but Shaw grabbed a shotgun and fired several shots at Hammon, who fled without injury.

From there he drove to Randlett, Okla., where he got a tankful of gasoline and drove off without paying for it. That was Tuesday night.

Wednesday, he robbed the Dixie store at Carnegie of $100 worth of clothing and fired several pistol shots into a telephone to knock it out of order.

Thursday, he robbed Anderson, who was hunting in the Wichita mountains wildlife refuge near Lawton.

He was arrested Thursday night when he tried to crash a roadblock near Grandfield, Okla. He surrendered after several shots were fired into his car.

Firm Upheld In Firing Employe For Abusive Talk

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (UP)—The U. S. Court of Appeals Friday upheld the right of a door chimes manufacturer to fire a woman employe who used "vile and obscene" language.

The court ruled that the woman's profanity was so highly flavored it amounted to a "disruptive" influence. It sustained a National Labor Relations Board order approving her discharge.

The woman was discharged by the Nutone plant at Cincinnati, Ohio, during a 1953 organizing drive by the United Steelworkers Union.

She and other employes had been laid off for economy reasons but the company refused to reinstate her with the rest. I charged she made 'vile and obscene' statements to fellow workers outside the plant.

Man Charged In Attack On Aged Miss. Farmer

LAUREL, Miss., Nov. 23 (AP) — Jasper County sheriff Fred Walters said today he filed charges of assault and battery with intent to kill against Deavours R. Ainsworth in the Nov. 11 shooting of a retired merchant.

Walters and Dist. Atty. Grover Doggett identified the wounded man as Singleton Smith, 77, and said he was shot as he stood near a fence on his farm just northwest of Sandersville.

Smith told officers he was shot with a shotgun from about 40 feet away. He was not wounded seriously.

Why Grow Old ?

By Josephine Lowman

Most persons experience frustration at middle age. The thing to do is to investigate some of the reasons.

Investigate Reasons For Distress At Middle Age

There is sometimes real frustration at middle age. This is understandable. There are many reasons for it. Since most persons experience this in some form, it might be helpful to investigate some of the reasons.

Early in life most people find themselves saddled with heavy responsibilities, financial and emotional. Because of these pressures they are pushed down a certain path for many years. If they are lucky it is the right path. If not, they are trapped, but do not have time to realize it until middle age.

With a man, the trouble may be that he is caught in a career which he would not have chosen had he not had to choose at such a young age. He married and has had the responsibility for the support of his family. He cannot afford to make a change, to work at what he is really most interested in. He is so busy with the pressure of his financial responsibility that until mid-life he never has a breather in which to wonder why he is doing what he is doing.

Then there are the emotional angles. Perhaps you married the wrong woman or man, and you suddenly take stock, and realize it. However, by this time you are so trapped by habit, by so many shared experiences (not all of them unhappy), that you do not have a chance. But just the same you take a moment and think things over.

Actually, anyone with perception and love who has invested for many years in a human relationship, especially one as close as that of a husband or wife, has many values involved. Nevertheless, you may look back at the past with a nostalgic viewpoint.

Then, of course, at middle age your energy may not be just what it once was. Also this is the time when physical weaknesses begin to show up. Maybe you always had a tendency to arthritis, or your blood pressure begins to advance at a rapid rate.

I would like to give a woman of this age a special warning. Most of the new experiences and physical disabilities which you may experience at this age are NOT due to menopause. There has been an old wives' whispering campaign about this perfectly natural phase so that women approach it with fear and blame everything unusual on the change of life.

This attitude has cost many women their happiness and others their lives. The only change menopause makes is that you can no longer have children. If you have any unusual symptoms, report them to your doctor immediately.

So, if you are feeling frustrated at middle age, remember that you are not alone. Investigate the reasons for your distress, weigh the values carefully.

If you would like to have my leaflet No. 32 "Menopause," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

New Charges Of Murder Filed In Texas Ax Killing

SAN ANGELO, Tex. Nov. 23 (UP)— New murder charges will be brought against a 32 year-old mechanic accused of the ax slaying of a companion, Sheriff Cecil Turner said Friday, because the death site turned out to be across the line in Andrews county.

John D. Burk was held here without bond after arraignment Thursday on a charge of murdering V. E. Parsons, a Western Airlines employe from Los Angeles.

Burk was picked up Tuesday in Hugo, Okla., where he had been living since the slaying last month.

Turner said Burk led officers to the scene of the killing Thursday. Because the site is in Andrews county, Turner said, the charges here will be dismissed and new charges filed at Andrews, Tex.

Burk told officers he kiled Parsons last month after an argument while they were camped beside their automobile. He said Parsons threatened to "cut my throat" and that he grabbed for something with which to defend himself.

The most handy thing, he said, turned out to be the ax. Turner said a spot of blood was still visible at the death site.

State Aid For Surfacing Asked In West Monroe

West Monroe city officials are seeking state aid from the highway department in resurfacing Trenton street and short portions of Natchitoches and Coleman.

Mayor J. Allan Norris stated that West Monroe does not have funds to improve the street sections and since they are, in effect, actual extensions of state highways, the state would be justified in bearing the cost of resurfacing.

State highway officials have stated that "there is a possibility that the proposal can be carried out" the West Monroe mayor said.

West Monroe would like for the state department to bear the cost of resurfacing Trenton street, which runs from Coleman avenue to the Arkansas road and is tied in with arterial highways, two blocks on Natchitoches between Cypress and Trenton and a stretch on Coleman between Trenton and South Sixth street.

Third Member Of Family Succumbs

TAYLOR, Tex., Nov. 23 (UP)—A third member of a Latin American family died Friday of burns received when an explosion and fire destroyed the family's farm home five miles south of Taylor.

The third victim as Josephine Renterria, 11. Earlier her sisters, Lucia, 13, and Lucinda, 7, had died. Their father, Margerito Renterria, remained in critical condition Friday.

Highlights From The Ticker Tape

The strength in issue of Pancoastal Oil company stock is due to the intention of Atlantic Refining and Pancoastal to drill an offset to the substantial Sinclair Aguasay discovery in Venezuela. Atlantic and Pancoastal jointly own about 14,000 acres offsetting Sinclair's well. Recent price is 9½.

"The Oil Days" says, "A resurvey of Gulf Coast crude movements attibutable to the middle Eastern crisis indicated Friday that more than 10 million barrels of extra oil will leave coastal ports in bankers in November alone. This figure, approximately 330,000 barrels a day, represents crude shipments over and above those anticipated before the Anglo - French attack on Egypt. Volume has risen sharply in recent days increased movements by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey group called a major factor in the increase. It was understood that all tankers required for November commitments now are available."

The Federal Reserve Board has postponed plans for a new round of increases in the discount rate. At least for the present. The reason for the delay, it can be authoritatively stated, is uncertainty among F. R. B. officials about the effect of the Middle East crisis on the U. S. business outlook. Until Middle East matters came to a head, the Reserve Board had expected to boost the discount rate again at about this time; the discount rate is the fee charged by the system on loans to member banks.

Continental Oil directors approved a proposal to split the company's common stock two for one, subject to stockholders approval.

The Pentagon decided to pay defense contractors more of their money faster. As a result, the contractors won't have their own funds tied up as long in production expenses.

Cotton

New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—Cotton futures closed 20 cents a bale lower to 20 cents higher in slow dealings today.

Much of the activity was professional in character, partly involving switching operations.

Only nearby December displayed a steady tone, with that delivery at a new season's high of 34.47 cents a pound. Monday is first notice day for nearby December.

Certificated cotton stocks were low at 3,102 bales. Traders saw no reason to expect pressure of transferable notices in the spot month.

Stock Market Makes Good Rise

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—The stock market posted its first advance of the week today with motors, rails, oils, chemicals and aircrafts setting the pace.

Pivotal issues made a good recovery during the final hour with gains ranging out to two points and more. Losses, for the most part, were held to fractions.

Brokers put special significance on the closing rallying because many traders had taken a long weekend over Thanksgiving and there was a high percentage of "absentee-ism" in Wall Street today.

The Associated Press average 60 stocks rose $1.60 to $176.00 with the industrials up $2.50, the rails up $1.50 and the utilities up 30 cents.

The rise in the average brought an estimated increase of nearly two billion dollars in the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Of 1,130 issues traded, advances outnumbered declines by 574 to 315. There were 15 new highs for the year and 102 new lows.

Volume totaled 1,880,000 shares compared with 2,310,000 on Wednesday.

Corporate bonds were lower.

Ike's Margin In Texas 220,661

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 23 (UP)—President Eisenhower's Texas margin of victory over Democratic presidential nominee Adlai E. Stevenson was 220,661 votes, an official canvass showed Friday.

This compared with Mr. Eisenhower's margin of only about 133,000 votes four years ago.

Secretary of State Tom Reavley said there was "no question, conflict or criticism" in connection with the official returns from all 254 Texas counties.

Mr. Eisenhower's vote was 1,080,619 in the Nov. 6 election, while Stevenson polled 859,958 votes. Constitution party candidate T. Coleman Andrews received 14,591 votes.

Construction Man Suffers Broken Jaw

A five - inch steel cable snapped and knocked a construction superintendent into waist - deep water, breaking his jaw yesterday at 8:00 a.m. at the new Boeuf River bridge on highway 80.

Hospitalized in the St. Francis was Shelby Cooper, 50, of Rayville. He was doing all right yesterday afternoon.

Cooper was standing on a platform eight feet above the water when the cable, being used to drive piling, broke and struck him in the face.

Construction worker L. M. Murphy, also of Rayville, and two Negro laborers pulled him out of the creek below the bridge. He was rushed to the St. Francis.

Absentee Ballot Deadline At Noon

Absentee balloting in the city sales tax election will close at noon today. The election is slated for Tuesday.

According to the Clerk of Court's office, 15 absentee ballots had been cast through yesterday.

Figures released yesterday by the Registrar of Voters office showed 13,108 Monroe voters on the rolls as of October. Ward three, which has ten precincts, shows 6,221 qualified voters. There are 6,887 qualified to vote in Ward ten, which has 12 precincts.

Deer Hunter Tells Of Nephew's Death

MUNISING, Mich., Nov. 23 (UP)—A deer hunter told Friday how his nine - year - old nephew froze to death in his arms when the two became lost in the upper peninsula forests during a swirling blizzard.

Searchers found Emil Mannisto, 59, propped up against a tree in two feet of snow shortly before day - break Friday. The dazed, nearly - frozen hunter mumbled that his nephew, Charles Mannisto, was dead but he didn't remember when he left the body.

A short while later the boy's body was found imbedded in snow about a half mile away.

After searchers built a fire in a clearing, Mannisto was able to recall that Charles died in his arms as he wandered aimlessly through the snow Thursday looking for shelter.

Lantrip Convicted

NACOGDOCHES, Tex., Nov. 23 (UP)—William Thomas Lantrip of Nacogdoches was convicted Friday of the murder of Bobby Wicker last May and given a two-to-five-year suspended sentence.

Wicker was shot at a drive-in restaurant here after an argument. At an earlier trial, the jury was unable to reach a verdict.

Senate Candidate In Texas Predicts Spring Election

PASADENA, Tex., Nov. 23 (UP)—James P. Hart, a candidate for the U. S. Senate post held by Gov.-Elect Price Daniel, predicted Friday that the special election to fill Daniel's post would not be held "until next spring."

Hart, an Austin lawyer and former Texas Supreme Court justice and chancellor of the University of Texas, spoke to a meeting of campaign workers here.

"The date when that election will be held is still unsettled," he said. "Based on news reports, I judge it will not be until next spring. Whenever it may be and whoever may be the other candidates, I am in to stay and win."

Hart added, "In the meantime, I plan to give my full time first to studying the question that will have to be decided in the Senate and second to meeting as many Texans as possible and telling them what I think about those questions."

Hart also discussed the economic status of small businessmen, farmers and ranchers, the Texas water problem, labor-management relations and constitutional rights and liberties.

He said the water problem was actually of national concern. He advocated federal help to the states in solving the problem of water shortage. Research projects, he said, should include the possibility of converting sea water. He predicted this would eventually be economically feasible.

The world's largest cash fruit and vegetable market is located at Benton Harbor, Mich. It covers 14 acres and is municipally operated.

Three Sentenced For Burglary, Theft, Robbery

One person received a six months jail sentence yesterday on charges of receiving stolen goods in a short afternoon session of District Court before presiding Judge David I. Garrett.

The man, Willie Hardin, was found guilty by a five-man jury, of receiving stolen goods, a radio valued at $19.

Earlier, Hardin had been charged with receiving stolen goods valued at $35. The reduced charge is a misdemeanor and carried the six months jail sentence.

In the morning session, three persons were sentenced to the Louisiana state penitentiary on charges of simple burglary, theft, and simple robbery.

Sentenced were Edward Richard Rozell, 18, Billy Bell, 28, and William Martin Barrett, 29.

Rozzell was sentenced to three year terms for each of two counts of simple burglary and theft with sentences to run concurrently. Bell and Barrett are to begin terms for simple robbery.

In other cases, Judge Garrett sentenced Sylinger A. Myers, 24, to 12 months in the parish jail for theft, and Lorraine Moore, 30, one year on aggravated battery charges. She was placed on active probation.

John C. Carroll and Donald Cecil Smith were each fined $300 and costs of court after pleading guilty to operating motor vehicles while under the influence of intoxicating liquors.

The camel stores water inside his stomach, where there are several pounches holding five to six quarts.

Robbery, Car Theft Believed Affiliated

West Monroe police theorized yesterday afternoon that the $100 robbery of the Pic and Pack Grocery, 2408 North seventh late Thursday and the theft of an automobile four blocks from the robbery scene "were closely related."

The proximity of the vehicle and the time of its disappearance "fits in closely with robbery," police said.

Police said entrance to the grocery store was gained through a transom over a rear door to the building. Approximately $100 in cash was reported taken.

The auto, a 1952 model chevrolet, owned by Clarence Curbow, 3014 Cypress street, was stolen between 11 p.m. Thursday and 6 a.m. Friday police said.

The robbery time was set at a similar period.

The stolen vehicle was described as a two - door black Chevrolet, heavy iron rear bumper to which a trailer hitch was attached. The car bore 1956 Louisiana license number 418 - 471.

Highlights From The Ticker Tape

The strength in issue of Pancoastal Oil company stock is due to the intention of Atlantic Refining and Pancoastal to drill an offset to the substantial Sinclair Aguasay discovery in Venezuela. Atlantic and Pancoastal jointly own about 14,000 acres offsetting Sinclair's well. Recent price is 9½.

"The Oil Days" says, "A resurvey of Gulf Coast crude movements attibutable to the middle Eastern crisis indicated Friday that more than 10 million barrels of extra oil will leave coastal ports in bankers in November alone. This figure, approximately 330,000 barrels a day, represents crude shipments over and above those anticipated before the Anglo - French attack on Egypt. Volume has risen sharply in recent days increased movements by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey group called a major factor in the increase. It was understood that all tankers required for November commitments now are available."

The Federal Reserve Board has postponed plans for a new round of increases in the discount rate. At least for the present. The reason for the delay, it can be authoritatively stated, is uncertainty among F. R. B. officials about the effect of the Middle East crisis on the U. S. business outlook. Until Middle East matters came to a head, the Reserve Board had expected to boost the discount rate again at about this time; the discount rate is the fee charged by the system on loans to member banks.

Continental Oil directors approved a proposal to split the company's common stock two for one, subject to stockholders approval.

The Pentagon decided to pay defense contractors more of their money faster. As a result, the contractors won't have their own funds tied up as long in production expenses.

Cotton

New York

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—Cotton futures closed 20 cents a bale lower to 20 cents higher in slow dealings today.

Scattered liquidation and hedging met only limited trade demand.

Only nearby December displayed a steady tone, with that delivery at a new season's high of 34.47 cents a pound. Monday is first notice' day for nearby December.

Certificated cotton stocks were low at 3,102 bales. Traders saw no reason to expect pressure of transferable notices in the spot month.

Stock Market Makes Good Rise

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—The stock market posted its first advance of the week today with motors, rails, oils, chemicals and aircrafts setting the pace.

Pivotal issues made a good recovery during the final hour with gains ranging out to two points and more. Losses, for the most part, were held to fractions.

Brokers put special significance on the closing rallying because many traders had taken a long weekend over Thanksgiving and there was a high percentage of "absentee-ism" in Wall Street today.

The Associated Press average 60 stocks rose $1.60 to $176.00 with the industrials up $2.50, the rails up $1.50 and the utilities up 30 cents.

The rise in the average brought an estimated increase of nearly two billion dollars in the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Of 1,130 issues traded, advances outnumbered declines by 574 to 315. There were 15 new highs for the year and 102 new lows.

Volume totaled 1,880,000 shares compared with 2,310,000 on Wednesday.

Corporate bonds were lower.

Ike's Margin In Texas 220,661

AUSTIN, Tex., Nov. 23 (UP)—President Eisenhower's Texas margin of victory over Democratic presidential nominee Adlai E. Stevenson was 220,661 votes, an official canvass showed Friday.

This compared with Mr. Eisenhower's margin of only about 133,000 votes four years ago.

Secretary of State Tom Reavley said there was "no question, conflict or criticism" in connection with the official returns from all 254 Texas counties.

Mr. Eisenhower's vote was 1,080,619 in the Nov. 6 election, while Stevenson polled 859,958 votes. Constitution party candidate T. Coleman Andrews received 14,591 votes.

Construction Man Suffers Broken Jaw

A five - inch steel cable snapped and knocked a construction superintendent into waist - deep water, breaking his jaw yesterday at 8:00 a.m. at the new Boeuf River bridge on highway 80.

Hospitalized in the St. Francis was Shelby Cooper, 50, of Rayville. He was doing all right yesterday afternoon.

Cooper was standing on a platform eight feet above the water when the cable, being used to drive piling, broke and struck him in the face.

Construction worker L. M. Murphy, also of Rayville, and two Negro laborers pulled him out of the creek below the bridge. He was rushed to the St. Francis.

Absentee Ballot Deadline At Noon

Absentee balloting in the city sales tax election will close at noon today. The election is slated for Tuesday.

According to the Clerk of Court's office, 15 absentee ballots had been cast through yesterday.

Figures released yesterday by the Registrar of Voters office showed 13,108 Monroe voters on the rolls as of October. Ward three, which has ten precincts, shows 6,221 qualified voters. There are 6,887 qualified to vote in Ward ten, which has 12 precincts.

Deer Hunter Tells Of Nephew's Death

MUNISING, Mich., Nov. 23 (UP)—A deer hunter told Friday how his nine - year - old nephew froze to death in his arms when the two became lost in the upper peninsula forests during a swirling blizzard.

Searchers found Emil Mannisto, 39, propped up against a tree in two feet of snow shortly before day - break Friday. The dazed, nearly - frozen hunter mumbled that his nephew, Charles Mannisto, was dead but he didn't remember when he left the body.

A short while later the boy's body was found imbedded in snow about a half mile away.

After searchers built a fire in a clearing, Mannisto was able to recall that Charles died in his arms as he wandered aimlessly through the snow Thursday looking for shelter.

Lantrip Convicted

NACOGDOCHES, Tex., Nov. 23 (UP)—William Thomas Lantrip of Nacogdoches was convicted Friday of the murder of Bobby Wicker last May and given a two-to-five-year suspended sentence.

Wicker was shot at a drive-in restaurant here after an argument. At an earlier trial, the jury was unable to reach a verdict.

Senate Candidate In Texas Predicts Spring Election

PASADENA, Tex., Nov. 23 (UP)—James P. Hart, a candidate for the U. S. Senate post held by Gov.-Elect Price Daniel, predicted Friday that the special election to fill Daniel's post would not be held "until next spring."

Hart, an Austin lawyer and former Texas Supreme Court justice and chancellor of the University of Texas, spoke to a meeting of campaign workers here.

"The date when that election will be held is still unsettled," he said. "Based on news reports, I judge it will not be until next spring. Whenever it may be and whoever may be the other candidates, I am in to stay and win."

Hart added, "In the meantime, I plan to give my full time first to studying the question that will have to be decided in the Senate and second to meeting as many Texans as possible and telling them what I think about those questions."

Hart also discussed the economic status of small businessmen, farmers and ranchers, the Texas water problem, labor-management relations and constitutional rights and liberties.

He said the water problem was actually of national concern. He advocated federal help to the states in solving the problem of water shortage. Research projects, he said, should include the possibility of converting sea water. He predicted this would eventually be economically feasible.

The world's largest cash fruit and vegetable market is located at Benton Harbor, Mich. It covers 14 acres and is municipally operated.

Three Sentenced For Burglary, Theft, Robbery

One person received a six months jail sentence yesterday on charges of receiving stolen goods in a short afternoon session of District Court before presiding Judge David I. Garrett.

Earlier, Hardin had been charged with receiving stolen goods valued at $35. The reduced charge is a misdemeanor and carried the six months jail sentence.

In the morning session, three persons were sentenced to the Louisiana state penitentiary on charges of simple burglary, theft, and simple robbery.

Rozzell was sentenced to three year terms for each of two counts of simple burglary and theft with sentences to run concurrently. Bell and Barrett are to begin terms for simple robbery.

In other cases, Judge Garrett sentenced Sylinger A. Myers, 24, to 12 months in the parish jail for theft, and Lorraine Moore, 30, one year on aggravated battery charges. She was placed on active probation.

John C. Carroll and Donald Cecil Smith were each fined $300 and costs of court after pleading guilty to operating motor vehicles while under the influence of intoxicating liquors.

The camel stores water inside his stomach, where there are several pounches holding five to six quarts.

Robbery, Car Theft Believed Affiliated

West Monroe police theorized yesterday afternoon that the $100 robbery of the Pic and Pack Grocery, 2408 North seventh late Thursday and the theft of an automobile four blocks from the robbery scene "were closely related."

The proximity of the vehicle and the time of its disappearance "fits in closely with robbery," police said.

Police said entrance to the grocery store was gained through a transom over a rear door to the building. Approximately $100 in cash was reported taken.

The auto, a 1952 model chevrolet, owned by Clarence Curbow, 3014 Cypress street, was stolen between 11 p.m. Thursday and 6 a.m. Friday police said.

The robbery time was set at a similar period.

The stolen vehicle was described as a two - door black Chevrolet, heavy iron rear bumper to which a trailer hitch was attached. The car bore 1956 Louisiana license number 418 - 471.

Oil Leases In Parish Sell For Good Prices

Seven oil, gas and mineral leases filed in the office of the Ouachita parish clerk of court Friday morning involve slightly more than 4,965 acres and call for total lease contracts of $74,339.40. The price averaged approximately $17 per acre.

The National Gasoline Company of Louisiana, Inc., granted the leases to Johnie W. Adkins of Shreveport.

Reason for the relatively high price of the per-acreage leases was not known Friday, but Duncan' S. Cook, manager of the Monroe office, department of conservation, minerals division, said a well is slated to begin in section 25, township 16 north, range 3 east of Richland parish, just across the parish line. The proposed well, to be drilled by Stanolind Oil company, is relatively close to the Ouachita parish properties, all of which are located in townships 16 and 17.

The leases will be for five years and "as long thereafter as oil, gas and other mineral is produced from said land or land with which said land is pooled hereunder."

The seven leases as filed are:

All of section 1 and the east half of the northeast quarter and the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 2, all in township 16 north, range 4 east, containing 730.93 acres, lease price, $10,963.95.

Section 14, township 16 north, range 4 east, less and except the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 14, containing 605.18 acres for $9,027.70.

All those portions of section 5, 6 and 7, township 16 north, range 5 east, that lie north and west of LaFourche Bayou, containing 541.26 acres for $8,118.90.

The east half of section 11 and all of section 12, all in township 16 north, range 4 east, containing 992.03 acres for $14,880.455.

The southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 35, and all of section 36, all in township 17 north, range 4 east, containing 692.36 acres, for $10,385.540.

That portion of section 13, township 16 north, range 4 east, that lies west of Bayou LaFourche, containing 498.65 acres for $7,479.75.

All of section 31, and that portion of section 32, that lies north and west of LaFourche Bayou, all in township 17 north, range 5 east, containing 895.75 acres, for $13,436.25.

Arsenic Found In Well Water Of Stricken Family

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Nov. 23 (AP)—Traces of arsenic were discovered today in the Kidwell family's well water.

The 44-year-old father and two of the Kidwell children have died from arsenic poisoning. The 32-year-old mother and the seven remaining youngsters are hospitalized. The oldest child, Molly Louise, 13, is in critical condition and may not live.

The arsenic was found in samples of water examined by Dr. Henry Freimuth, state toxicologist.

Dr. Freimuth said he was told the Kidwell house at nearby Kearneysville, W. Va., was at the edge of an apple orchard. Arsenic is used in tree sprays.

Some of the poison could have been introduced accidentally into the water supply through dusting of the nearby trees, he said.

Stanolind Plans To Bring Parker No. 1 Wildcat In

The Tina Parker No. 1, a wildcat test located west of the Olin Mathieson Paper Mill and being drilled as a commercial gas well, is expected to be "brought in" in the next "couple of days," the state conservation department announced Friday.

Drilling is being done by the Stanolind Oil and Gas Company.

The casing was perforated earlier this week between 9603 and 9611 feet in a sand which a drill - stem test taken some time ago reportedly showed a potential production of 850,000 cubic feet of gas per day.

The sand at 9603 feet was being tested after no shows were found at deeper levels. The total depth of the hole is 9931 feet.

Shooting Places Pair In Hospital

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 23 (UP)—Two persons are in the Fort Worth hospital, one in serious condition and the other very critical, as the result of a shooting Friday.

Deputy Sheriff Pat Smith said 40-year-old dirt contractor Charles Bilger shot his bookkeeper, Mrs. Lorene Nation, 34, in her Richland Hill home and then shot himself.

Both were rushed to the hospital for surgery. Doctors said she was in serious condition and Bilger very critical.

A neighbor, Mrs. Lillie Franks, was visiting the Nation home and was holding a ribbon while Mrs. Nation was tying a knot in wrapping a Christmas package at the time of the shooting.

Smith said the shooting took place after Mrs. Nation told Bilger she was going to stop being his bookkeeper.

Bilger, who lives in the Hurst community, had been taking business phone calls at the Nation house.

Eden En Route To Jamaica For Two Weeks Rest

LONDON, Nov. 23 (AP)—Prime Minister Eden took off by plane tonight for a rest cure in Jamaica after declaring Britain's policy in the Middle East crisis 'has not changed." And he made plain, too that he has no intention of giving up his job.

Looking tired and drawn, Eden told newsmen at the airport:

"I am deeply sorry at having to leave the country at this time. I am going because the doctors say I must and it is the quickest way to get well.

"I am assured that on my return to this country I shall feel completely fit, ready to resume my duties at once and fully."

'I have discussed with my colleagues and determined with them the broad lines of our policy," Eden said. "Our position has not changed.

'It was made very clear by Mr. Butler in the House of Commons yesterday and I agree with all he said."

Richard A. Butler, the lord privy seal and government leader in the House of Commons, is sitting in for Eden during his absence—tentatively fixed for about three weeks.

For the moment Eden's Conservatives seem to have patched up the differences among themselves. But his government still faces continuing demands by Hugh Gaitskell's opposition Laborites for an impartial investigation of charges that Britain, France and Israel acted in collusion in attacking Egypt.

British government spokesmen have denied the charge, but their answers have not satisfied the Laborites.

Hawaiian Strike To Protest Senate Hearings Planned

HONOLULU, Nov. 23 (AP)—Jack Hall, regional director for the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, said today waterfront, sugar and pineapple workers will start an island-wide protest walkout and mass demonstration when the Senate Internal Security subcommittee opens a hearing next week on communism.

The subcommittee is headed by James O. Eastland (D Miss). The date for the opening of the hearing hasn't been set.

The ILWU, headed by Harry Bridges, has contended the Eastland committee hearings is aimed at wrecking the independent longshore union in the islands.

Hall said the walkout "may well last" for a week if the hearings continue that long. The walkout would affect 6,200 ILWU members in three basic industries.

Missing $70,000 Just Packed Good

GALVESTON, Tex., Nov. 23 (UP) — A retired railroad man who brought $70,000 in bonds and checks from Chicago to Galveston in a suitcase called off a search for the papers Friday. He said they were not lost or stolen, just "packed too good" by his wife.

The traveler, Frank Vlaciha, 73, had called police and Santa Fe Railroad detectives to report the bonds and checks missing.

He said they disappeared sometime during his trip here from Chicago. But when he looked through one of the 11 suitcases he had checked in the baggage car, he found the papers at the bottom.

"My wife packed 'em too good," he told officers.

City Court

MONROE

The following cases were heard in court Friday by Judge W. M. Harper.

Texas Attorney Commits Suicide

BORGER, Tex., Nov. 23 (UP)—The body of Eugene E. Piper, a 39-year-old Borger lawyer, was found near his automobile three miles northwest of Skellytown, Tex., Friday, and the death was ruled a suicide.

Piper was shot with a .38-caliber pistol, found still in his hand. He was a member of the Borger law firm of Piper, Gassaway and Allen here.

GSA To Spend $40 Million On Texas Buildings

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (UP)—The General Services Administration announced Friday that it is going to spend a total of $40.2 million on new Federal buildings in Dallas and Houston.

The buildings will be constructed under the lease-purchase plan. That means they will be built by private capital and leased to the government. Eventually, they will become government property.

The GSA plans a $24.9 million building in Dallas. It will be built somewhere in the area bounded by Houston, Young, Ross and Central Expressway and property owners in that area are invited to offer their land for sale.

In Houston, the site of a $15.3 million federal building is the block bounded by Rusk, Brazos, Capitol and Smith streets.

Judge Resigns In Water Rights, Rio Grande Case

EDINBURG, Tex., Nov. 23 (UP)—District Judge Cullen Briggs of Corpus Christi, who has been presiding over a complicated Lower Rio Grande Valley water suit here, resigned Friday. He said he had too much work in his own county to handle the case.

Briggs had made frequent trips to Edinburg to sit as special judge in a suit that seeks readjudication of all rights of water use from the Rio Grande and in the lake behind Falcon dam.

The case involves thousands of defendants spread over the 800-mile length of the meandering international river.

District Judge Fidencio Guerra of the 139th district court here disqualified himself because he owns property involved in the suit.

After Briggs resigned, District Judge S. N. McWhorter of Edinburg was appointed to replace him. Lawyers said the suit would probably end up in the U. S. Supreme Court.

Briggs commended that legal questions involved in the suit were "reaching such large proportions that the suit has turned into career litigation that will require much more time and attention in the future and may take months to dispose of."

Against Coleman Peace Justices Organize Fight

COLUMBUS, Miss., Nov. 23 (AP)—Justices of the peace from 13 northeast Mississippi counties plan a meeting Tuesday to combat the governor's proposal to revise JP courts.

T. H. Cone, spokesman for the Columbus JPs, said all JPs from northeast Mississippi were invited but acceptances came from only Clay, Chickasaw, Monroe, Webster, Oltibbeha, Lee, Itawamba, Winston, Noxubee, Grenda, Alcorn, Prentiss, and Lowndes counties.

Gov. J. P. Coleman has said he prefers a system of magistrate courts with definite requirements for who can hold office, fixed sites for holding court and a definite schedule for fees.

Coleman said the present system, virtually unchanged since 1817, permits abuse of the office.

FORMER JUDGE DIES

MOUNT PLEASANT, Tex., Nov. 23 (UP)—Former District Judge J. A. Ward, 88, died at his home Friday. He was first judge of the 76th Judicial District. The State Bar of Texas honored him two years ago for completing 50 years of legal practice.

Pravda Denounces Tito As Would-Be Red Leader

MOSCOW, Nov. 23 (UP) — The Communist organ Pravda assailed Yugoslav President Tito Friday for seeking aid from the United States and accused him of trying to take over the leadership of the Communist world.

Pravda devoted three of its six pages to a 6,000-word editorial expanding its rejection of Tito's recent criticism of Russian intervention in Hungary and other Soviet policies in eastern Europe.

The editorial sharply rejected Tito's statement that the use of Soviet troops in Hungary was a "mistake," saying that nothing else could have prevented the victory of 'Fascist counter revolutionaries" there.

It also took him to task for urging other East European countries to "go it alone," saying that the shortcomings of the Yugoslav economy made it impractical for "other Socialist countries" to follow its example.

At the same time, however, Pravda expressed hope for 'continued cooperation between Russia and Yugoslavia in terms indicating that there will be no complete break between the two countries if Moscow can help it.

The party organ charged that Tito is trying to establish Yugoslavia's approach to Communism as "the most correct and even the only possible way" but added that his position was weakened by acceptance of aid from "capitalist countries, expecially the United States."

The editorial charged that capitalist nations use aid as a device to "fan controversy between Socialist countries."

Pravda repeated the Soviet charge that Tito is 'interfering in the internal affairs of other Communist countries," but added that such recurring Yugoslav problems as a serious grain shortage made it impossible for other 'Socialist countries" to follow the Yugoslav example.

It cited Red China as an example of a Communist country developing along its own lines without trying to carry other "Socialist nations" to its beliefs.

The editorial rejected Tito's charge that one-man rule is inherent in the Communist system, and said the tone of his accusations suggested the bitterness that existed between 1948 to 1955, when relations between Russia and Yugoslavia reached a postwar low.

Oil Leases In Parish Sell For Good Prices

Seven oil, gas and mineral leases filed in the office of the Ouachita parish clerk of court Friday morning involve slightly more than 4,965 acres and call for total lease contracts of $74,339.40. The price averaged approximately $17 per acre.

The National Gasoline Company of Louisiana, Inc., granted the leases to Johnie W. Adkins of Shreveport.

Reason for the relatively high price of the per-acreage leases was not known Friday, but Duncan S. Cook, manager of the Monroe office, department of conservation, minerals division, said a well is slated to begin in section 25, township 16 north, range 3 east of Richland parish, just across the parish line. The proposed well, to be drilled by Stanolind Oil company, is relatively close to the Ouachita parish properties, all of which are located in townships 16 and 17.

The leases will be for five years and "as long thereafter as oil, gas and other mineral is produced from said land or land with which said land is pooled hereunder."

The seven leases as filed are:

All of section 1 and the east half of the northeast quarter and the southeast quarter of the southeast quarter of section 2, all in township 16 north, range 4 east, containing 730.93 acres, lease price, $10,963.95.

Section 14, township 16 north, range 4 east, less and except the northwest quarter of the northwest quarter of section 14, containing 605.18 acres for $9,027.70.

All those portions of section 5, 6 and 7, township 16 north, range 5 east, that lie north and west of LaFourche Bayou, containing 541.26 acres for $8,118.90.

The east half of section 11 and all of section 12, all in township 16 north, range 4 east, containing 992.03 acres for $14,880,455.

The southeast quarter of the northeast quarter of section 35, and all of section 36, all in township 17 north, range 4 east, containing 692.36 acres, for $10,385.540.

That portion of section 13, township 16 north, range 4 east, that lies west of Bayou LaFourche, containing 498.65 acres for $7,479.75.

All of section 31, and that portion of section 32, that lies north and west of LaFourche Bayou, all in township 17 north, range 5 east, containing 895.75 acres, for $13,436.25.

Arsenic Found In Well Water Of Stricken Family

HAGERSTOWN, Md., Nov. 23 (AP)—Traces of arsenic were discovered today in the Kidwell family's well water.

The 44-year-old father and two of the Kidwell children have died from arsenic poisoning. The 32-year-old mother and the seven remaining youngsters are hospitalized. The oldest child, Molly Louise, 13, is in critical condition and may not live.

The arsenic was found in samples of water examined by Dr. Henry Freimuth, state toxicologist.

Dr. Freimuth said he was told the Kidwell house at nearby Kearneysville, W. Va., was at the edge of an apple orchard. Arsenic is used in tree sprays.

Some of the poison could have been introduced accidentally into the water supply through dusting of the nearby trees, he said.

Stanolind Plans To Bring Parker No. 1 Wildcat In

The Tina Parker No. 1, a wildcat test located west of the Olin Mathieson Paper Mill and being drilled as a commercial gas well, is expected to be "brought in" in the next "couple of days," the state conservation department announced Friday.

Drilling is being done by the Stanolind Oil and Gas Company.

The casing was perforated earlier this week between 9603 and 9611 feet in a sand which a drill - stem test taken some time ago reportedly showed a potential production of 850,000 cubic feet of gas per day.

The sand at 9603 feet was being tested after no shows were found at deeper levels. The total depth of the hole is 9931 feet.

Shooting Places Pair In Hospital

FORT WORTH, Tex., Nov. 23 (UP)—Two persons are in the Fort Worth hospital, one in serious condition and the other very critical, as the result of a shooting Friday.

Deputy Sheriff Pat Smith said 40-year-old dirt contractor Charles Bilger shot his bookkeeper, Mrs. Lorene Nation, 34, in her Richland Hill home and then shot himself.

Both were rushed to the hospital for surgery. Doctors said she was in serious condition and Bilger very critical.

A neighbor, Mrs. Lillie Franks, was visiting the Nation home and was holding a ribbon while Mrs. Nation was tying a knot in wrapping a Christmas package at the time of the shooting.

Smith said the shooting took place after Mrs. Nation told Bilger she was going to stop being his bookkeeper.

Bilger, who lives in the Hurst community, had been taking business phone calls at the Nation house.

Eden En Route To Jamaica For Two Weeks Rest

LONDON, Nov. 23 (AP)—Prime Minister Eden took off by plane tonight for a rest cure in Jamaica after declaring Britain's policy in the Middle East crisis 'has not changed." And he made plain, too that he has no intention of giving up his job.

Looking tired and drawn, Eden told newsmen at the airport:

"I am deeply sorry at having to leave the country at this time. I am going because the doctors say I must and it is the quickest way to get well.

"I am assured that on my return to this country I shall feel completely fit, ready to resume my duties at once and fully."

'I have discussed with my colleagues and determined with them the broad lines of our policy,' Eden said. "Our position has not changed.

'It was made very clear by Mr. Butler in the House of Commons yesterday and I agree with all he said."

Richard A. Butler, the lord privy seal and government leader in the House of Commons, is sitting in for Eden during his absence—tentatively fixed for about three weeks.

For the moment Eden's Conservatives seem to have patched up the differences among themselves. But his government still faces continuing demands by Hugh Gaitskell's opposition Laborites for an impartial investigation of charges that Britain, France and Israel acted in collusion in attacking Egypt.

British government spokesmen have denied the charge, but their answers have not satisfied the Laborites.

Hawaiian Strike To Protest Senate Hearings Planned

HONOLULU, Nov. 23 (AP)—Jack Hall, regional director for the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, said today waterfront, sugar and pineapple workers will start an island-wide protest walkout and mass demonstration when the Senate Internal Security subcommittee opens a hearing next week on communism.

The subcommittee is headed by James O. Eastland (D Miss). The date for the opening of the hearing hasn't been set.

The ILWU, headed by Harry Bridges, has contended the Eastland committee hearings is aimed at wrecking the independent longshore union in the islands.

Hall said the walkout "may well last" for a week if the hearings continue that long. The walkout would affect 6,200 ILWU members in three basic industries.

Missing $70,000 Just Packed Good

GALVESTON, Tex., Nov. 23 (UP) — A retired railroad man who brought $70,000 in bonds and checks from Chicago to Galveston in a suitcase called off a search for the papers Friday. He said they were not lost or stolen, just "packed too good" by his wife.

The traveler, Frank Vlaciha, 73, had called police and Santa Fe Railroad detectives to report the bonds and checks missing.

He said they disappeared sometime during his trip here from Chicago. But when he looked through one of the 11 suitcases he had checked in the baggage car, he found the papers at the bottom.

"My wife packed 'em too good," he told officers.

GSA To Spend $40 Million On Texas Buildings

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (UP)—The General Services Administration announced Friday that it is going to spend a total of $40.2 million on new Federal buildings in Dallas and Houston.

The buildings will be constructed under the lease-purchase plan. That means they will be built by private capital and leased to the government. Eventually, they will become government property.

The GSA plans a $24.9 million building in Dallas. It will be built somewhere in the area bounded by Houston, Young, Ross and Central Expressway and property owners in that area are invited to offer their land for sale.

Texas Attorney Commits Suicide

BORGER, Tex., Nov. 23 (UP)—The body of Eugene E. Piper, a 39-year-old Borger lawyer, was found near his automobile three miles northwest of Skellytown, Tex., Friday, and the death was ruled a suicide.

Piper was shot with a .38-caliber pistol, found still in his hand. He was a member of the Borger law firm of Piper, Gassaway and Allen here.

Judge Resigns In Water Rights, Rio Grande Case

EDINBURG, Tex., Nov. 23 (UP)—District Judge Cullen Briggs of Corpus Christi, who has been presiding over a complicated Lower Rio Grande Valley water suit here, resigned Friday. He said he had too much work in his own county to handle the case.

Briggs had made frequent trips to Edinburg to sit as special judge in a suit that seeks readjudication of all rights of water use from the Rio Grande and in the lake behind Falcon dam.

The case involves thousands of defendants spread over the 800-mile length of the meandering international river.

District Judge Fidencio Guerra of the 139th district court here disqualified himself because he owns property involved in the suit.

After Briggs resigned, District Judge S. N. McWhorter of Edinburg was appointed to replace him. Lawyers said the suit would probably end up in the U. S. Supreme Court.

Briggs commended that legal questions involved in the suit were "reaching such large proportions that the suit has turned into career litigation that will require much more time and attention in the future and may take months to dispose of."

Against Coleman Peace Justices Organize Fight

COLUMBUS, Miss., Nov. 23 (AP)—Justices of the peace from 13 northeast Mississippi counties plan a meeting Tuesday to combat the governor's proposal to revise JP courts.

T. H. Cone, spokesman for the Columbus JPs, said all JPs from northeast Mississippi were invited but acceptances came from only Clay, Chickasaw, Monroe, Webster, Oltibbeha, Lee, Itawamba, Winston, Noxubee, Grenda, Alcorn, Prentiss, and Lowndes counties.

Gov. J. P. Coleman has said he prefers a system of magistrate courts with definite requirements for who can hold office, fixed sites for holding court and a definite schedule for fees.

Coleman said the present system, virtually unchanged since 1817, permits abuse of the office.

FORMER JUDGE DIES

MOUNT PLEASANT, Tex., Nov. 23 (UP)—Former District Judge J. A. Ward, 88, died at his home Friday. He was first judge of the 76th Judicial District. The State Bar of Texas honored him two years ago for completing 50 years of legal practice.

Pravda Denounces Tito As Would-Be Red Leader

MOSCOW, Nov. 23 (UP) — The Communist organ Pravda assailed Yugoslav President Tito Friday for seeking aid from the United States and accused him of trying to take over the leadership of the Communist world.

Pravda devoted three of its six pages to a 6,000-word editorial expanding its rejection of Tito's recent criticism of Russian intervention in Hungary and other Soviet policies in eastern Europe.

The editorial sharply rejected Tito's statement that the use of Soviet troops in Hungary was a "mistake," saying that nothing else could have prevented the victory of 'Fascist counter revolutionaries" there.

It also took him to task for urging other East European countries to "go it alone," saying that the shortcomings of the Yugoslav economy made it impractical for "other Socialist countries" to follow its example.

At the same time, however, Pravda expressed hope for 'continued cooperation between Russia and Yugoslavia in terms indicating that there will be no complete break between the two countries if Moscow can help it.

The party organ charged that Tito is trying to establish Yugoslavia's approach to Communism as "the most correct and even the only possible way" but added that his position was weakened by acceptance of aid from "capitalist countries, expecially the United States."

The editorial charged that capitalist nations use aid as a device to "fan controversy between Socialist countries."

Pravda repeated the Soviet charge that Tito is 'interfering in the internal affairs of other Communist countries," but added that such recurring Yugoslav problems as a serious grain shortage made it impossible for other 'Socialist countries" to follow the Yugoslav example.

It cited Red China as an example of a Communist country developing along its own lines without trying to carry other "Socialist nations" to its beliefs.

The editorial rejected Tito's charge that one-man rule is inherent in the Communist system, and said the tone of his accusations suggested the bitterness that existed between 1948 to 1955, when relations between Russia and Yugoslavia reached a postwar low.

3 Conference Races, 1 Bowl Date Up For Settlement

Clemson Battling Duke For Chance In Orange Classic

By BOB HOOBING
The Associated Press

Three conference races and at least one bowl position will be settled today in traditional close-out football games while national pace-setters Oklahoma and Tennessee reach semifinal tests in their bids for perfect seasons.

Clemson and Duke are in two spotlight games with the Atlantic Coast Conference championship and an Orange Bowl bid hanging in the balance.

Clemson (3-0-1 in the ACC) meets Virginia, and Duke (3-1) is at North Carolina.

Though they are not committed to pick the titleholder, the Atlantic Coast representatives will name their "most representative team" tomorrow to play Colorado of the Big Seven on New Year's Day. South Carolina, a third possibility, has finished its season with a 5-2 ACC record.

Yale needs to get by Harvard in their 73rd classic to be assured of the first official Ivy League crown. The Elis, who clinched at least a tie by smothering runnerup Princeton last week, are solid favorites to make a clean sweep of the Ivies and gain their first undisputed "Big Three" title since 1946.

Though Iowa already has at least a share of the coveted Big Ten championship and a Rose Bowl trip assured, Ohio State can salvage a title deadlock by whipping Michigan.

Ohio State, which lost a chance at a third consecutive unblemished championship to Iowa last week, still can become only the sixth club in 61 years to grab at least a piece of the crown three years running. Michigan has done it three times and Minnesota twice.

Oklahoma isn't worried about extending its winning streak to 39 games against Nebraska. The nation's foremost collegiate power has too much class for Big Seven opponents and only a catastrophe can prevent the Sooners from making it 40 in a row in next week's windup with Oklahoma A&M.

Tennessee, No. 2 in the latest Associated Press poll, expected much tougher sledding against the pesky Kentucky Wildcats. The Volunteers lead the Southeastern Conference (4-0) but still have two league games remaining.

Coach Bowden Wyatt's Knoxville contingent, after two rough meetings with Georgia Tech and Mississippi, runs into a Kentucky eleven which has spurted to five consecutive triumphs after losing three of its first four games.

Since 1951, when Tennessee won the national championship, the Vols haven't been able to handle the Wildcats — the same Kentuckians who spoiled perfect records for the Vols with ties in 1928, 1929 and 1931.

Like the SEC, the Southwest Conference has another action-packed week after this one, but Texas Christian hopes to move closer to a Cotton Bowl berth by defeating Rice today. League-leading Texas A&M is ineligible for post-season action.

A cross-town rivalry spiced by the desire of two penalty-ridden teams to prove their continued grid superiority is the national television fare with UCLA and Southern California in starring roles.

Notre Dame would like to bolster its sagging prestige in the midst of its worst season on record by upsetting Iowa. The Hawkeyes, in turn, are out to show they mean business, all of which points to a full afternoon.

Unbeaten Miami Punch Way Past Mountaineers, 18-0

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 23 (AP)—The University of Miami Hurricanes took another long stride toward an undefeated football season tonight when they whipped West Virginia, 18-0 for their seventh victory before 37,073 shivering fans in the Orange Bowl.

The Hurricanes, with only a 7-7 tie with Georgia to blemish their record, outrushed and outgained the hefty West Virginians all the way and only once did the visitors seriously threaten.

They drove to the Miami 8 where Bob Steward intercepted Mickey Trimarki's third-down pass late in the third quarter.

A field goal, two touchdowns and a safety produced Miami's scoring. The first half was all Miami's as the Hurricanes scored first on Ed Oliver's 16-yard field goal—his first of the season—with 5:42 left in the first period.

AIC Spills Basile, 7-0; Meet Islanders In State Playoffs

BASILE, La., Nov. 23 (AP)—Joe Anding, a 145-pound sprinter, exploded through the Basile line on a 65-yard touchdown dash tonight to give Opelousas AIC a 7-0 victory in a playoff for the district 4B fotball championship.

Anding dashed through a big hole and cut down the sidelines far out of reach of the Basile defenders. Mickey Mills added the conversion.

Basile quarterback Ken Reed tossed a 33-yard scoring pass to end Jackie McClelland in the third period, but the play was nullified by penalty. Basile drove 70 yards to the AIC four, but Butch Bollich dropped Reed's fourth down pass on the goal.

AIC will meet Sicily Island's district 3B champions in the first round of the state title playoff.

Stockholders Will Fight Give-Away Of Louisville Club

TAMPA, Fla., Nov. 23 (AP) — A representative of stockholders of the Louisville baseball club of the American Assn. said today the stockholders will fight a proposal to give the franchise free to the city of Louisville.

Phil J. O'Hara of Tampa, public relations counselor for the stockholders, said W. G. "Rosy" Ryan of the Minneapolis club, after a meeting of league directors, offered to give the franchise to Mayor Andrew Broaddus of Louisville.

The club has been thrown into receivership because of debts. There has been talk of moving the franchise to some other city.

O'Hara said the stockholders, headed by Joe Cambria of Havana Cuba, have been "ready, willing and able to re-finance their Louisville operation but have been prevented from doing so by the interference of other members of the league's directorship."

O'Hara also said the debts are much lower than have been reported publicly and the sale value to other cities is higher than the amount owed. He said the exact amount of the indebtedness would not be known until completion of a court-ordered audit.

He said the stockholders' attorney, Harry Hargadon of Louisville, will take court action to bring all these matters out in the open.

Bogalusa Stops Tennessee Rival In 26-6 Contest

BOGALUSA, La., Nov. 23 (AP) — Bogalusa rolled up a 20-0 first half lead tonight and went on to score a 26-6 victory over Bradley High of Cleveland, Tenn.

Bogalusa drove 70 yards with the opening kickoff for its first touchdown and added two more tallies in the second period and one in the fourth.

Bogalusa led 19-5 in first downs and 291-137 in yards from scrimmage.

Near-Plane Crash Slows Tech Trip To Florida Game

A warning light showed the nose wheel was not locked in position when the plane prepared to land. After circling several minutes to use excess gasoline, the pilot landed.

The nose wheel held up and the fire truck which followed the plane down the runway wasn't needed.

Dodd and his players landed earlier in the other plane. His wife was among the wives and children of coaches and players who along with faculty members were on the troubled plane.

Those aboard didn't know about the trouble. Dodd and the others on the ground did and watched anxiously until the plane was safe.

Ortega Awarded Divided Verdict In DeMarco Bout

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—Gaspar Ortega, a 4 to 1 underdog from Mexicali, Mexico, fenced in Tony DeMarco in the early rounds and matched the ex-welter champ punch for punch down the stretch to win a surprise split decision in a 10-round match tonight at Madison Square Garden. DeMarco weighed 145¼, Ortega 147½.

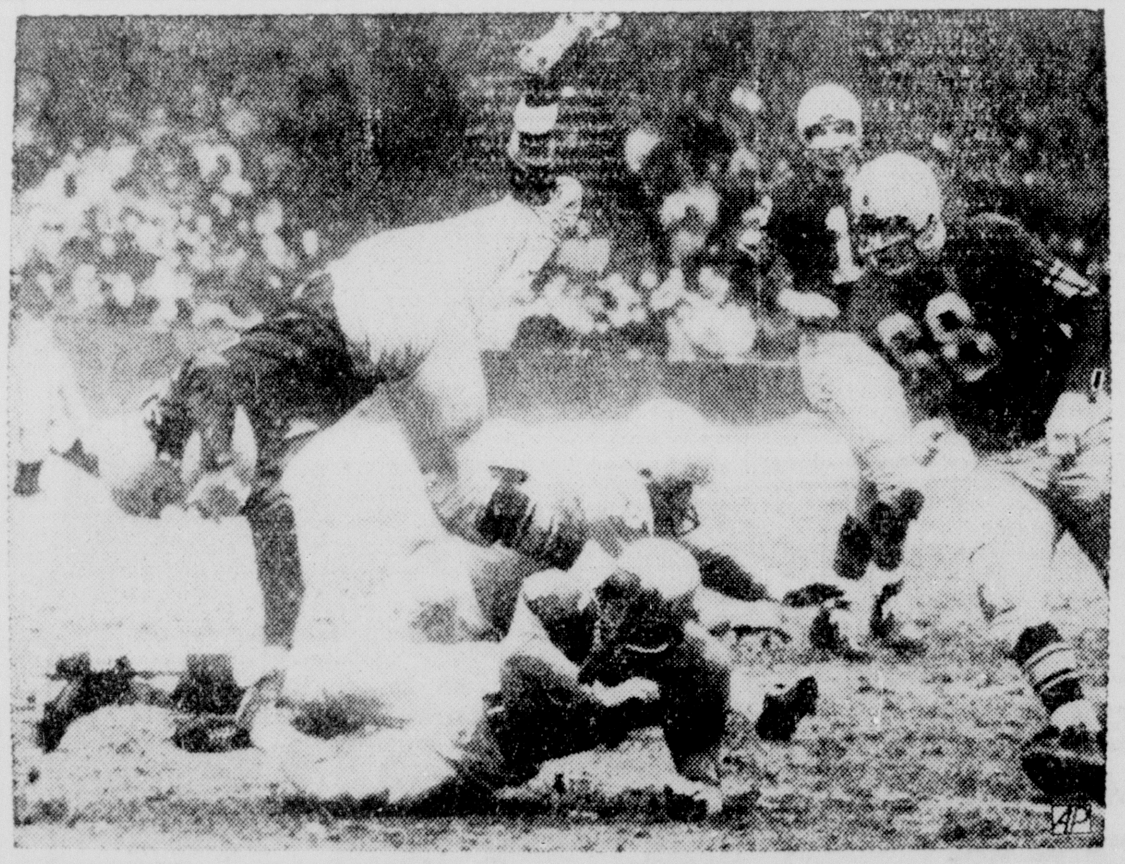
Ortega's corner crew staged a wild celebration that usually goes with a title victory after ring announcer Johnny Addie announced he had upset the chunky Boston slugger.

Referee Al Berl voted 6-3-1 for Ortega, judge Jack Gordon 5-4 1 for Ortega but judge Frank Forbes scored it in favor of DeMarco 6-4. The AP card had it for Ortega 5-4-1. Forbes' vote was booed by many.

Ortega's speed and rapier jab piled up points against the low-moving DeMarco in the early rounds, but the ex - champ cut loose in the fourth and fifth with a withering attack that slowed down the Mexican.

In the fourth DeMarco chased Ortega to the ropes and measured him for a right hand punch he was unable to put across. In the fifth DeMarco spun the underdog with a left hook, his best punch, and wobbled him with a right to the chin. Ortega slipped down in the fifth but referee Berl ruled no knockdown.

Ortega outsped Tony in the seventh and took charge in the eighth and ninth when he had the better of a series of wild flurries. The Mexican found his mark repeatedly with a long right to the head and a left hook.



OVER HE GOES — Fullback Howie Ferguson of the Green Bay Packers is about to turn a somersault after he was hit by two Detroit Lions players, back Yale Lary (on ground in foreground) and back Joe Schmidt (56, behind Lary), on a run through the center of the line that netted Green Bay one yard. Green Bay player at right is guard Len Szafaryn (68). The action occurred in the second period of their game played in Detroit, Mich. (AP Wirephoto)

Davidson Passes Backfire, Furman Romps To Victory

CHARLOTTE, N.C., Nov. 23 (AP)—Furman's ball hawks turned three pass interceptions into touchdowns tonight as they trimmed Davidson 26-13 in a Southern Conference football game to win their second game in nine starts this season.

Fullback Jimmy Grant sped 73 yards with an intercepted pass to score in the closing minute of the first half as Furman registered in every quarter.

Other pass interceptions set up first and fourth period touchdowns with freshman quarterback Bill Baker throwing to end Tom Avery from the 10 and halfback Jackie Powers plunging six yards in the fourth period.

Furman .... 7 7 6 7—27
Davidson .... 0 0 6 7—13

Furman scoring: Touchdowns—Avery (10, pass-run from Baker), Grant (73, run with intercepted pass), Penland (40, run), Powers (6, plunge). Conversions: Edge 3.

Davidson scoring: Touchdowns—McRee (40, run), Warden (6, plunge). Conversion—McRee.

Istrouma Trips Terrebonne, Tie For District Flag

HOUMA, La., Nov. 23 (AP) — Don Smith's two touchdowns in the fourth quarter gave Istrouma a 14-0 victory over Terrebonne tonight and a tie for the southeast district triple-A title.

Istrouma marched 63 yards in eight plays before Smith scored on a six-yard dash. His second tally came on a six-yard run.

Smith booted the first conversion and Lynn Amadee added the second.

Istrouma, which fought to a scoreless tie with Baton Rouge High in their regular-season meeting, will play Baton Rouge next Friday night at Louisiana State University stadium to break the deadlock. The winner will meet the New Orleans district champion in the first round of the state playoff.

Fumble Snatchers Pave Way For Reb Freshman Victory

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Nov. 23 (AP)—Mississippi Freshmen recovered seven of 10 fumbles by Mississippi State Freshmen in rambling to a 46-6 victory today.

A fumble recovery 47 seconds after the kickoff put Mississippi into scoring position and Bobby Franklin went over from the one. A pass interception set up the next touchdown four minutes later when James Grantham caught a five-yard touchdown pass from Cowboy Woodruff. James Hall made the first quarter score 18-0 by returning a punt 69 yards for a touchdown.

Billy Landers scored two touchdowns in the second period. He went around right end 10 yards for one and caught a 16-yard pass from Franklin for the other.

Woodruff scored from nine yards out in the third period, and Tommy McCann ran 22 yards in the fourth to wind up Mississippi scoring. Both scores came after fumble recoveries.

A 55-yard pass and run play from Ernie Bullock to end Malone Merritt in the final period resulted in the Mississippi State touchdown.

The game ended the season for both teams.

SUSPENDED—Cliff Blair, hammer thrower from Bingham, Mass., was eliminated from the U. S. Olympic team yesterday before getting a chance to compete at Melbourne, Australia. An Olympic spokesman said Blair had broken the "amateur code" by writing Olympic stories for a Boston newspaper. (AP Wirephoto)

Veteran Columbia Pilot Ends Career At Rutgers Today

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Nov. 23 (AP) — Lou Little, veteran Columbia football coach, bows out of the gridiron world Saturday, when his team goes against Rutgers.

The annual hall of fame game, which will end the Little era, is one in an ancient and historical series.

The Rutgers - Columbia rivalry is the second oldest on the record books. Rutgers was Columbia's first football opponent in 1870.

Little, noted for the passing quarterbacks he has tutored, will bring one of his finest passers to New Brunswick for his final game.

Claude Benham, hampered by a shoulder injury in recent weeks, will start against Rutgers. His strong, deadly arm has kept the Lions alive as a threat in spite of their poor season's showing.

More than 15,000 fans are expected to bid Little A, sentimental farewell, at halftime, representatives of the football hall of fame, which is located here, and of both football teams will form a guard of honor while Rutgers presents Little with a citation.

Shipping Blair Home On First Available Plane

MELBOURNE, Saturday, Nov. 24 (UP)—American Olympic hammer thrower Cliff Blair will be returned to the United States on "the first available" aircraft now that he has been dropped from the team for allegedly writing newspaper articles for a Boston paper.

J. L. Bingham, the American assistant chief of mission, said Blair had been sacked by the team's executive committee after repeated—and ignored — warnings to stop his writings on Olympic activities in Melbourne.

Blair, a Boston University student who placed second in the Olympic trials, admitted he should "have been more careful."

"It is a big disappointment," Blair said, "because I was hoping to do real well in the games. I never received any payment from the paper, and the articles were merely letters written to the sports editor, who is a friend of mine.

Bingham said it was "regrettable" that Blair had to be dropped from the American team, but he emphasized that the hammer thrower had been thrice warned that his published letters were a violation of the Olympic rules, and he should cease the writings immediately.

"One of these warnings," Bingham said, "was even given Blair in the States before we came down here."

Blair Pins His Olympic Woes On Coach, Not Pen

MELBOURNE, Saturday, Nov. 24 (AP) — Hammer thrower Cliff Blair contended today that he was kicked off the United States Olympic track team not for writing newspaper articles as charged but because of personality clashes with head track Coach Jim Kelly.

"I think Mr. Kelly was out to get me booted off the team and he succeeded," the giant athlete from Himgham, Mass., said. "I am not the only person on the track team who has had trouble with Mr. Kelly He is awfully edgy."

Blair was suspended from the Olympic team yesterday for what Olympic officials said was violation of the amateur athletic code. He was specifically charged with writing letters to a Boston newspaper (The Globe) after being frequently told not to do so.

Blair said he was stripped of his Olympic badge and identity card and moved from his room to other quarters in the Heidelberg village.

"I was not even able to go and see the track meet yesterday," he said.

Blair said he was waiting further notice from the Olympic committee on what would be done with him. He indicated he might like to remain in Australia to do some writing and picture taking.

"I have no one much to blame except myself," he said. "I think they acted on a trivial matter and my theory is that when it gets so you can't exist and perform on the track too, it is time to give up the track."

The hammer thrower said he thought his suspension was the result of an incident earlier in the week which he described this way:

"We were having our official track team pictures made and we were asked to strip down to our track suits. It was 45 degrees weather and windy. I refused and so did Fortune Gordien. Mr. Kelly blew his top. He said if any of us didn't want to have our picture taken we could catch the next plane home. Fortune and I got out of the picutre but the coach was boiling mad although later he treated it as a joke."

Blair acknowledged that he had been told about the writing. He said that while in Los Angeles Pinky Sober of the Amateur Athletic Union told him about the rule.

"I asked to see the rule and they hedged. I asked Irving Schoolman, our assistant manager and trainer, two or three times and he kept saying he would do it later but he never did. I thought they were just bluffing so I continued."

Blair said he got notice early yesterday that he had been suspended by the A.A.U. and later in the day was advised of the action of the United States Olympic Committee.

"If Mr. Kelly had not been so insistent I think everything would have been all right," he said.

He said that later Lyman Bingham, executive director of the Olympic committee, talked with him and showed him the rule.

"It was a rather vague rule about writing without permission and I had been told that such writing was permissible so long as I did not get paid for it. I had a letter from the publisher declaring I was not receiving pay. I still feel that it is just an excuse and I am being kicked off the team because of my difficulties with Mr. Kelly."

Record-Breaking Kuts Says Briton Impaired His Run

MELBOURNE, Nov. 23 (UP)—Vladimir Kuts of Russia touched off the first "rhubarb" of the Olympics Friday when he accused Gordon Pirie of Britain of impeding his stride shortly after setting a new Olympic record in winning the 10,000-meter title.

Kuts won the race handily in 28 minutes and 45.6 seconds but he claimed Pirie touched his heels repeatedly and made him nervous during the race.

Kuts' accusation against Pirie, who stayed close to him for 21 of the 25 laps, was made in an official statement for "the press and radio" released through the Olympic Press Office.

Pirie, who finished eighth, admitted he was so close to the Russian runner's heels that he touched them "several times." He added, however, it was "quite unintentional" and resulted from an inability "to control my stride."

Kuts' statement said, "at times Pirie touched his heels and this made him more nervous. He moved over to the other track and waved Pirie on but the Britisher would not take the lead. Pirie failed to accept the challenge."

To answer Kuts' charges, Pirie issued a similar statement in which he said he did not accept the red-haired Soviet runner's challenge because he was "unable" to do so.

While Kuts' statement failed to have a single kind word for Pirie, the Briton's statement said the Russian was "terrific."

"He is a magnificent runner who deserved to win," Pirie added. "He is unquestionably the greatest 10,000-meter runner in the world and he was too good for me."

Kuts led for all the 25 laps.

Winnsboro Quintet Opening With Fort Necessity Tuesday

WINNSBORO, La., Nov. 23 (Special) — Glyndell Ebarb, Winnsboro High School boys basketball coach, has his 19-man squad hard at work this week in preparation for the season opener at Fort Necessity next Tuesday night.

With football play out of the way full attention is now being given to basketball.

Coach Ebarb has five lettermen returning to the squad this year. They are Jesse Walker, 6'6" center; Don Cheek, 6'2" and James Sullivan, 6'3", forwards; and Newt Slaughter 5'6", and Hugh Priest 5'9", guards. Other members of the squad include Cecil Kaufman, 6'1"; Larry Ellerman, 6'1"; Jerry Simon, 6'; Richard Kinard, 6'3" George Busby, 6'7; Donald Walker, 5'11"; Buddy Rhodes, 5'5"; William Livingston, 5'6"; Benny Wiggins, 5'10"; Johnny Etheridge, 5'6"; Buddy Ritchie, 5'5"; Frank Peoples, 5'3"; Pete Moore, 5'8"; and Marvin Bryan, 5'8".

There are seven seniors, two juniors, and 10 sophomores, on this years basketball squad.

High Jumper Is Low On Books, Harvard

MELBOURNE, Saturday, Nov. 24 (UP) — Olympic high jump champion Charley Dumas of Los Angeles is known to be somewhat this side of the world's best scholar, but he takes all kidding about it with serenity.

As he came away from his winning performance, someone jokingly suggested that besides the gold medal he might even get a scholarship to Harvard.

"What," asked Charlie Casually, "is Harvard?"

Near-Plane Crash Slows Tech Trip To Florida Game

A warning light showed the nose wheel was not locked in position when the plane prepared to land. After circling several minutes to use excess gasoline, the pilot landed.

The nose wheel held up and the fire truck which followed the plane down the runway wasn't needed.

Dodd and his players landed earlier in the other plane. His wife was among the wives and children of coaches and players who along with faculty members were on the troubled plane.

Those aboard didn't know about the trouble. Dodd and the others on the ground did and watched anxiously until the plane was safe.

Ortega Awarded Divided Verdict In DeMarco Bout

NEW YORK, Nov. 23 (AP)—Gaspar Ortega, a 4 to 1 underdog from Mexicali, Mexico, fenced in Tony DeMarco in the early rounds and matched the ex-welter champ punch for punch down the stretch to win a surprise split decision in a 10-round match tonight at Madison Square Garden. DeMarco weighed 145¼, Ortega 147½.

Ortega's corner crew staged a wild celebration that usually goes with a title victory after ring announcer Johnny Addie announced he had upset the chunky Boston slugger.

Referee Al Berl voted 6-3-1 for Ortega, judge Jack Gordon 5-4-1 for Ortega but judge Frank Forbes scored it in favor of DeMarco 6-4. The AP card had it for Ortega 5-4-1. Forbes' vote was booed by many.

Ortega's speed and rapier jab piled up points against the low-moving DeMarco in the early rounds, but the ex-champ cut loose in the fourth and fifth with a withering attack that slowed down the Mexican.

In the fourth DeMarco chased Ortega to the ropes and measured him for a right hand punch he was unable to put across. In the fifth DeMarco spun the underdog with a left hook, his best punch, and wobbled him with a right to the chin. Ortega slipped down in the fifth but referee Berl ruled no knockdown.

Ortega outsped Tony in the seventh and took charge in the eighth and ninth when he had the better of a series of wild flurries. The Mexican found his mark repeatedly with a long right to the head and a left hook.

Davidson Passes Backfire, Furman Romps To Victory

CHARLOTTE, N.C., Nov. 23 (AP)—Furman's ball hawks turned three pass interceptions into touchdowns tonight as they trimmed Davidson 26-13 in a Southern Conference football game to win their second game in nine starts this season.

Fullback Jimmy Grant sped 73 yards with an intercepted pass to score in the closing minute of the first half as Furman registered in every quarter.

Other pass interceptions set up first and fourth period touchdowns with freshman quarterback Bill Baker throwing to end Tom Avery from the 10 and halfback Jackie Powers plunging six yards in the fourth period.

Furman	7	7	6	7—27
Davidson	0	0	6	7—13

Furman scoring: Touchdowns—Avery (10, pass-run from Baker), Grant (73, run with intercepted pass), Penland (40, run), Powers (6, plunge). Conversions: Edge 3.

Davidson scoring: Touchdowns—McRee (40, run), Warden (6, plunge). Conversion—McRee.

Istrouma Trips Terrebonne, Tie For District Flag

HOUMA, La., Nov. 23 (AP) — Don Smith's two touchdowns in the fourth quarter gave Istrouma a 14-0 victory over Terrebonne tonight and a tie for the southeast district triple-A title.

Istrouma marched 63 yards in eight plays before Smith scored on a six-yard dash. His second tally came on a six-yard run.

Smith booted the first conversion and Lynn Amadee added the second.

Istrouma, which fought to a scoreless tie with Baton Rouge High in their regular-season meeting, will play Baton Rouge next Friday night at Louisiana State University stadium to break the deadlock. The winner will meet the New Orleans district champion in the first round of the state playoff.

Fumble Snatchers Pave Way For Reb Freshman Victory

UNIVERSITY, Miss., Nov. 23 (AP)—Mississippi Freshmen recovered seven of 10 fumbles by Mississippi State Freshmen in rambling to a 46-6 victory today.

A fumble recovery 47 seconds after the kickoff put Mississippi into scoring position and Bobby Franklin went over from the one. A pass interception set up the next touchdown four minutes later when James Grantham caught a five-yard touchdown pass from Cowboy Woodruff. James Hall made the first quarter score 18-0 by returning a punt 69 yards for a touchdown.

Billy Landers scored two touchdowns in the second period. He went around right end 10 yards for one and caught a 16-yard pass from Franklin for the other.

Woodruff scored from nine yards out in the third period, and Tommy McCann ran 22 yards in the fourth to wind up Mississippi scoring. Both scores came after fumble recoveries.

A 55-yard pass and run play from Ernie Bullock to end Malone Merritt in the final period resulted in the Mississippi State touchdown.

The game ended the season for both teams.

Veteran Columbia Pilot Ends Career At Rutgers Today

The annual hall of fame game, which will end the Little era, is one in an ancient and historical series.

The Rutgers - Columbia rivalry is the second oldest on the record books. Rutgers was Columbia's first football opponent in 1870.

Little, noted for the passing quarterbacks he has tutored, will bring one of his finest passers to New Brunswick for his final game.

Claude Benham, hampered by a shoulder injury in recent weeks, will start against Rutgers. His strong, deadly arm has kept the Lions alive as a threat in spite of their poor season's showing.

More than 15,000 fans are expected to bid Little A, sentimental farewell, at halftime, representatives of the football hall of fame, which is located here, and of both football teams will form a guard of honor while Rutgers presents Little with a citation.

Shipping Blair Home On First Available Plane

MELBOURNE, Saturday, Nov. 24 (UP)—American Olympic hammer thrower Cliff Blair will be returned to the United States on "the first available" aircraft now that he has been dropped from the team for allegedly writing newspaper articles for a Boston paper.

J. L. Bingham, the American assistant chief of mission, said Blair had been sacked by the team's executive committee after repeated—and ignored — warnings to stop his writings on Olympic activities in Melbourne.

Blair, a Boston University student who placed second in the Olympic trials, admitted he should "have been more careful."

"It is a big disappointment," Blair said, "because I was hoping to do real well in the games. I never received any payment from the paper, and the articles were merely letters written to the sports editor, who is a friend of mine.

Bingham said it was "regrettable" that Blair had to be dropped from the American team, but he emphasized that the hammer thrower had been thrice warned that his published letters were a violation of the Olympic rules, and he should cease the writings immediately.

"One of these warnings," Bingham said, "was even given Blair in the States before we came down here."

Blair Pins His Olympic Woes On Coach, Not Pen

MELBOURNE, Saturday, Nov. 24 (AP) — Hammer thrower Cliff Blair contended today that he was kicked off the United States Olympic track team not for writing newspaper articles as charged but because of personality clashes with head track Coach Jim Kelly.

"I think Mr. Kelly was out to get me booted off the team and he succeeded," the giant athlete from Himgham, Mass., said. "I am not the only person on the track team who has had trouble with Mr. Kelly He is awfully edgy."

Blair was suspended from the Olympic team yesterday for what Olympic officials said was violation of the amateur athletic code. He was specifically charged with writing letters to a Boston newspaper (The Globe) after being frequently told not to do so.

Blair said he was stripped of his Olympic badge and identity card and moved from his room to other quarters in the Heidelberg village.

"I was not even able to go and see the track meet yesterday," he said.

Blair said he was waiting further notice from the Olympic committee on what would be done with him. He indicated he might like to remain in Australia to do some writing and picture taking.

"I have no one much to blame except myself," he said. "I think they acted on a trivial matter and my theory is that when it gets so you can't exist and perform on the track too, it is time to give up the track."

The hammer thrower said he thought his suspension was the result of an incident earlier in the week which he described this way:

"We were having our official track team pictures made and we were asked to strip down to our track suits. It was 45 degrees weather and windy. I refused and so did Fortune Gordien. Mr. Kelly blew his top. He said if any of us didn't want to have our picture taken we could catch the next plane home. Fortune and I got out of the picutre but the coach was boiling mad although later he treated it as a joke."

Blair acknowledged that he had been told about the writing. He said that while in Los Angeles Pinky Sober of the Amateur Athletic Union told him about the rule.

"I asked to see the rule and they hedged. I asked Irving Schoolman, our assistant manager and trainer, two or three times and he kept saying he would do it later but he never did. I thought they were just bluffing so I continued."

Blair said he got notice early yesterday that he had been suspended by the A.A.U. and later in the day was advised of the action of the United States Olympic Committee.

"If Mr. Kelly had not been so insistent I think everything would have been all right," he said.

He said that later Lyman Bingham, executive director of the Olympic committee, talked with him and showed him the rule.

"It was a rather vague rule about writing without permission and I had been told that such writing was permissible so long as I did not get paid for it. I had a letter from the publisher declaring I was not receiving pay. I still feel that it is just an excuse and I am being kicked off the team because of my difficulties with Mr. Kelly."

Record-Breaking Kuts Says Briton Impaired His Run

MELBOURNE, Nov. 23 (UP)—Vladimir Kuts of Russia touched off the first "rhubarb" of the Olympics Friday when he accused Gordon Pirie of Britain of impeding his stride shortly after setting a new Olympic record in winning the 10,000-meter title.

Kuts won the race handily in 28 minutes and 45.6 seconds but he claimed Pirie touched his heels repeatedly and made him nervous during the race.

Kuts' accusation against Pirie, who stayed close to him for 21 of the 25 laps, was made in an official statement for "the press and radio" released through the Olympic Press Office.

Pirie, who finished eighth, admitted he was so close to the Russian runner's heels that he touched them "several times." He added, however, it was "quite unintentional" and resulted from an inability "to control my stride."

Kuts' statement said, "at times Pirie touched his heels and this made him more nervous. He moved over to the other track and waved Pirie on but the Britisher would not take the lead. Pirie failed to accept the challenge."

To answer Kuts' charges, Pirie issued a similar statement in which he said he did not accept the red-haired Soviet runner's challenge because he was "unable" to do so.

While Kuts' statement failed to have a single kind word for Pirie, the Briton's statement said the Russian was "terrific."

"He is a magnificent runner who deserved to win," Pirie added. "He is unquestionably the greatest 10,000-meter runner in the world and he was too good for me."

Kuts led for all the 25 laps.

Winnsboro Quintet Opening With Fort Necessity Tuesday

WINNSBORO, La., Nov. 23 (Special) — Glyndell Ebarb, Winnsboro High School boys basketball coach, has his 19-man squad hard at work this week in preparation for the season opener at Fort Necessity next Tuesday night.

With football play out of the way full attention is now being given to basketball.

Coach Ebarb has five lettermen returning to the squad this year. They are Jesse Walker, 6'6" center; Don Cheek, 6'2" and James Sullivan, 6'3", forwards; and Newt Slaughter 5'6", and Hugh Priest 5'9", guards. Other members of the squad include Cecil Kaufman, 6'1"; Larry Ellerman, 6'1"; Jerry Simon, 6'; Richard Kinard, 6'3" George Busby, 6'7; Donald Walker, 5'11"; Buddy Rhodes, 5'5"; William Livingston, 5'6"; Benny Wiggins, 5'10"; Johnny Etheridge, 5'6"; Buddy Ritchie, 5'5"; Frank Peoples, 5'3"; Pete Moore, 5'8"; and Marvin Bryan, 5'8".,

There are seven seniors, two juniors, and 10 sophomores, on this years basketball squad.

High Jumper Is Low On Books, Harvard

MELBOURNE, Saturday, Nov. 24 (UP) — Olympic high jump champion Charley Dumas of Los Angeles is known to be somewhat this side of the world's best scholar, but he takes all kidding about it with serenity.

As he came away from his winning performance, someone jokingly suggested that besides the gold medal he might even get a scholarship to Harvard.

"What," asked Charlie Casually, "is Harvard?"

Frogs, Bears, Ponies Put Bowl Hopes Up For Grabs

By UNITED PRESS

Texas Christian, Baylor and Southern Methodist put their bowl hopes on the line Saturday in the feature games of a Texas college football schedule that all but winds up the season.

Only a handfull of games are on tap and even less than that will remain to be played next week.

Baylor and Southern Methodist face each other in Dallas, but their Cotton Bowl hopes will also be riding on the outcome of TCU's game at Houston against Rice.

Since Texas A&M, already in as at least a co-champion, is barred from the Cotton Bowl, the other three clubs all have chances at the host team role.

TCU can sew it up by beating rice if Baylor whips SMU as expected. Baylor's hopes hinge on sweeping past SMU and then Rice while both Rice and SMU defeat TCU. SMU can take the honor by beating both Baylor and TCU.

Baylor, however, has high hopes of landing either a Sugar Bowl or Gator Bowl berth if it misses out on the Cotton Bowl bid, and an invitation to one of these new Year's Day classics may be forthcoming Saturday night if the Bears beat SMU and TCU whips Rice.

Another Southwest Conference team, Arkansas, also figures in the Gator Bowl picture if it gets by Louisiana State in its season finale at Shreveport, La., tomorrow afternoon.

And, Border Conference champion Texas Western, almost certain to be the Sun Bowl host team, entertains Trinity, a co-champion of the Gulf Coast Conference, at El Paso Saturday night.

Hardin-Simmons and New Mexico A&M, neither of which have been able to win a Border Conference game, meet at Carlsbad, N. M., while Arizona State hosts College of Pacific at Tempe and Arizona hosts Orange Bowl bound Colorado at Tucson.

Ambehaving, Six Others Run Today In Pimlico Event

BALTIMORE, Nov. 23 (AP) —New Jersey, which has sent forth only two winners of the Kentucky Derby, will be watching Ambehaving in tomorrow's Pimlico Futurity for further encouragement as its hope in next year's classic at Louisville.

If Ambehaving can knock off the half dozen other 2 - year - olds in the mile and sixteenth race it will be his fifth major triumph this year. The $71,735 first money would hike Ambehaving's bankroll in his first season on the race tracks to $188,125.

That would put him ahead of Calumet Farm's Barbizon and Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler, two of the year's most highly regarded 1957 Derby candidates who have quit racing until next year.

Out to throw a stumbling block in Ambehaving's path tomorrow will be Greentree stable's Cohoes, John A. Morris' Missile, Ada L. Rice's pair of Indian Creek and Man Up Stairs, Brandywine stable's Cannon Fire and Maine Chance farm's Jet Ex.

Ambehaving beat Missile and Cohoes Nov. 8 in the Remsen Handicap in New York and it was that race which pushed the New Jersey colt into derby speculations.

Before, he had been looked upon only as champ in his own backyard by winning three stakes limited to colts born in New Jersey. He also was fourth in the Garden State at Camden, N. J., behind Barbizon, but partisans argue he had poor racing luck in the large field of 19.

Ambehaving was foaled at Moorestown, N. J., as the property of Mrs. Richard C. DuPont of Wilmington, Del. His father is Ambiorix and his mother Dentrifice.

New Jersey's last Kentucky Derby winner was Cavalcade in 1934. The other was Regret, the only victorious filly, in 1915.

Although Ambehaving beat them in the Remsen, Missile and Cohoes are rated capable of turning the tables. Missile has won three other major races, the Dover, Flash and Babylon, and Cohoes Annexed the Grand Union Hotel.

Spurring on the owners of the seven entries is the first prize which is the largest stacked up in 34 runnings of the Pimlico Futurity. The total purse is $83,105 of which the owners of throughbreds put up $58,105 in nominating and starting fees spread over three years.

Televiewers throughout the nation will be able to watch the race (CBS) at 2:55 p.m. CST.

Quincy, Ill., Drops Out Of 3-I League

QUINCY, Ill., Nov. 23 (AP)—The Quincy Gems baseball team has dropped out of the Three-I League, it was announced formally.

Acting board president, Charles Ehrhardt, told a stockholders meeting the club will not operate next year because of a lack of funds.

Earlier this week, the New York Yankees, affiliated with the Gems the past 11 years, dropped its working agreement with the club. Efforts to set up agreements with five other major league clubs, failed, Ehrhardt said.

Russell Steers Uncle Sam Cage Team Past Japs

MELBOURNE, Nov. 23 (AP) — Fabulous Bill Russell brought the United States from a two-point deficit to a 44-point lead during a brilliant performance tonight as the championship favorites defeated Japan 98-40 in an Olympic games elimination basketball game.

The 6-10 All America center from San Francisco scored 20 points and held the Japanese to a mere three during his crowd-pleasing 13 minute appearance.

The Japanese, with only one player over six feet tall compared to the Americans who have only one man under six feet, surprised the U. S. with a fast break attack which kept them in the lead for most of the first half.

By halftime, Bill had moved the U. S. in front 32-20.

In other games the Phillipines defeated Thailand 94-55 and France whipped Singapore 81-54.

The smooth - functioning Brazilians meet Australia tomorrow night in what will be the Aussies' first test against top flight international competition.

The U. S. favorite to win its third Olympic basketball crown since World War II, got off to a quick start when K. C. Jones, flashy playmaker from San Francisco, scored on a 20 - foot two-hander at 1:50.

After the game Russell told reporters "it was a pleasure to play against the Japanese. They were a very clean team. Their only trouble was that they were too short."

Tarleton State Expecting Shot At Junior Rose

Three junior colleges have been listed as top prospects. Besides Tarleton State, they are Arlington State and Pearl River of Mississippi.

Tarleton ended a nine - game schedule last Saturday with a 30-7 victory over Arlington State. The Plowboys wound up their best season in 21 years with seven victories, one loss and one tie.

Selection of the Junior Rose Bowl teams is expected to be announced Sunday.

Americans Expect To Nab More Gold On Today's Show

MELBOURNE, Nov. 23 (AP) — Suspension of hammer thrower Cliff Blair in a case reminiscent of the Eleanor Holm incident of 1936 threw a cloud over the U. S. forces in the Olympic Games but the Yanks hoped to down their troubles in a cascade of gold medals Saturday.

Led by Charley Dumas, a lanky 19-year-old Los Angeles collegian, who set a new Olympic high jump mark, Uncle Sam's athletes already have captured three gold medals and were given a good chance to capture four more medals in track and field — the 400-meter hurdles, 100-meter dash, broad jump and hammer throw—and could grab a third weightlifting crown where middleweight Pete George of Akron, Ohio, ranks as world king.

Two Americans, Charles Vinci of York, Pa., and Isaac Berger of Brooklyn, won gold medals by breaking world and Olympic records in the weightlifting competition. Vinci, a 23-year-old shipping clerk, captured the bantamweight title by lifting a total of 752 1-3 pounds. Berger, who was born in Israel and became a U. S. citizen less than a year ago, won the featherweight title with a lift of 776.6 pounds.

Despite the three gold medals, the United States placed no higher than fourth in the unofficial point standings, trailing Russia, Germany and Sweden. The point totals includes all events completed through Friday together with the six equestrian events decided at Stockholm last July.

Russia, with one gold medal, led with 44 points. Germany was second with 39½ points. Then came Sweden with 38 and the United States fourth with 34.

Except for a surprise defeat by the Yale crew in the eight-oared competition at Ballarat, the suspension of the hammer thrower and the barring of two boxers because of overweight, things ran true to form for the strong American team.

Dumas won a dramatic duel with an unheralded Australian with a leap of 6 feet, 11½ inches — one inch short of his own world record of 7 feet, ½ inch, and 3 inches better than the Olympic mark set by an American, Walter Davis at Helsinki in 1952.

Olympic records were bettered in two other final events. Russia's Vladimir Kouts, running away from the field in the last four laps, won the 10,000 meter run (a little better than six miles) in 28 minutes, 45.6 seconds, easily defeating Gordon Pirie of Great Britain, who matched strides with him until the final four laps.

Czechoslovakia's Olga Fikotova shattered the women's discus record with a toss of 176 feet, 1½ inches in a startling upset of Russia's Nina Ponomareva — the girl shoplifter of London notoriety. Earlene Brown of Los Angeles was a surprising fourth.

The United States qualified all of its entries in the 10-meter Dash, 400-meter hurdles and 800-meter run — with expected ease. Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian College and Ira Murchison of Chicago equalled the olympic record of 10.3 seconds in the 100.

A 1-2-3 sweep loomed in the 100 dash finals with Thane Baker of Elkhart, Kan., almost certain to join Morrow and Murchison. Greg Bell of Bloomington, Ind., and John Bennett of Grand Forks, N. D., two men who have jumped more than 26 feet, are likely to fight it out in the broad jump competition while Glenn Davis, Eddie Sothern and Josh Culbreath of Norristown, Pa., look like the best in the 400-meter hurdles.

Carville's Golf Event Resumed; Meet Next Month

CARVILLE, La. (AP) — The U.S. Public Health Service Hospital today announced it would hold its semi-annual invitation golf tournament Dec. 9.

Normally the patient-visitor tournament would have been held last month.

Dr. Gordon raised a storm of objections from patients and their families and friends in his brief stay as medical officer in charge when he canceled the golf tournament "in the interest of public health" and set up other restrictions on patient housing and contact with nonpatients.

Dr. Johnwick stressed resumption of the tournament was based on consideration of the factors involved and was not a reflection on the judgment of his predecessor. He said there was room for a difference of opinion on any subject.

Patterson, Moore Okayed For Next Week's Battle

CHICAGO, Nov. 23 (AP)—Youthful Floyd Patterson's once-fractured right hand has mended satisfactorily for his heavyweight bout with Archie Moore a week from tonight, the Illinois State Athletic Commission today agreed.

Following the examination, the commission conducted a customary pre-fight briefing of the fighters and their handlers and it set some sort of a record for lack of arguments.

The reason might have been because chairman Frank Gilmer shut out reporters for about 20 minutes. When the scribes finally entered the meeting room, the only controversy appeared to center on an objection by Moore's manager, Charlie Johnston, to the Illinois rule which permits a fighter 20 seconds to return if he is knocked clear out of the ring.

Johnston contended it should be only 10 seconds, the same as for a knockout within the ring or on the apron.

Gilmer told reporters that under the Illinois code, the Moore-Patterson match conceivably could end in a draw. Boxing tradition has it that a close fight goes to the champion. In this instance, there is no champion.

Gilmer stressed the fact this will be the first big fight to be scored under the National Boxing Association's new "five-must" system. This provides for a round winner to get a maximum of five points and the round loser any lesser number.

Gilmer said the new system has worked "wonderfully well" in Illinois so far with unanimous decisions on all main events and pronounced uniformity in point totals.

The Illinois chairman told both fighters and their managers the fight would have "good officiating." He took note of a report that Patterson's manager, Cus D' Amato, feared Chicago officiating.

"We feel this is going to be one of the best heavyweight title bouts ever seen," said Gilmer. "We're proud of our officials and we will give you men capable of handling such a bout."

Truman Gibson, secretary of the sponsoring International Boxing Club, injected that Illinois long has had the practice of official scoring with ink or indelible pencil. New York, he pointed out, recently adopted use of a ball-point pen for such work.

Gibson also noted that the I.B.C. has some $103,000 in the till for the bout and that low price tickets are moving better than expected. Ringside seats always move fast, he said.

For the bout to be televised nationally with the Chicago area blacked out, Moore will wear black trunks with white stripes and Patterson white trunks with black stripes.

Colonials Named By Sun Bowl As Visiting Machine

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 23 (AP) — George Washington University of Washington, D.C., will play in the Sun Bowl here on New Year's Day probably against Texas Western College of El Paso.

Official announcement of the selection of Texas Western as host team is expected Saturday night after the Miners complete their football season against Trinity (Tex.) University.

Kolliner said today he had talked with officials at George Washington and they had accepted the invitation.

Known as the Colonials, the George Washington team has a 7-1-1 record this season.

They have beaten Miami of Ohio, Furman, Hardin-Simmons, Virginia Military Institute, William and Mary, Richmond and The Citadel. They lost to West Virginia 14-0 and tied Boston University 20-20.

Head coach is Eugene Sherman.

It will be the second appearance of a Washington team in the Sun Bowl in recent years. Georgetown University played in 1950, losing to Texas Western.

The host team for the bowl, which dates back to 1935, is usually the winner of the Border Conference football title. Texas Western had a clean sweep of conference opposition this season and has an overall record of eight victories and one defeat. The Miners lost to North Texas State early in the season.

Tulane Continues To Prepare For Tiger Encounter

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23 (AP) — Tulane today reviewed offense and defense without contact in preparing for its season-ending game Dec. 1 with Louisiana State.

Coach Andy Pilney said he probably would give the team its only contact work before the LSU game in scrimmage tomorrow.

Backs Virgil Jester, Willie Hof and Johnny Caruso continued working in sweat clothes. Pilney said he had not determined if their injuries would keep them out of action in the final game.

Vanderbilt Halfback Hurt In Rugged Drill

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 23 (AP)—The Vanderbilt Commodores went through a rugged defensive scrimmage today in which sophomore halfback Jeff Davis suffered a dislocated left shoulder.

Dr. Brant Lipscomb, team physician, said there was no fracture but that the injury would keep the Atlanta, Ga., second string back out of the Dec. 1 game with Tennessee.

The Commodores, with an open date tomorrow, were given the weekend off. Drills will be resumed Monday.

Robinson Gets Stiff Post-Holiday Drill

Robinson, who now has boxed 44 rounds, including a 10-round bout last week, did two rounds with Lee Williams of Augusta, Ga. and Abdul Ali of Brooklyn.

Arkansas 2 Touchdown Choice To Defeat L.S.U.

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 23 (AP) — Steadily - improving Arkansas was a two-touchdown favorite tonight to whip Louisiana State tomorrow, a trick the Razorbacks haven't turned since 1929.

LSU, in the depths of one of its worst seasons in history, has won only one game while dropping seven this year. Arkansas has six victories against three losses.

The LSU line was in good shape for its effort to halt the Arkansas attempts to gain on the ground. Both split-T teams concentrate on hard running in preference to air attacks.

LSU coach Paul Dietzel planned a starting backfield with M. C. Reynolds at quarterback, Joe May and J. W. Brodnax at halfback and Jimmy Taylor at full.

Arkansas will have Don Christian at quarterback, Donnie Stone and Ron Underwood at halfbacks and Gerald Nesbitt at fullback.

It will be the final regular game of the season for Arkansas. On Dec. 1 LSU will meet its traditional foe Tulane.

Approximately 20,000 fans were expected to find cool weather at the 2 p.m. (CST) kickoff.

Southerners May Earn Bowl Clash Via 'Bama Upset

Alabama-Miss. Southern

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Nov. 23 (AP) —Alabama's Crimson Tide goes against a big Mississippi Southern team tomorrow which has lost only one game this season — 20 - 9 to Florida State last week.

Alabama, seekin its third victory this season, is figured as a touchdown favorite, but Head Coach J. B. Whitworth is taking nothing for granted. Southern upset Alabama in both of their last two meetings.

"They're big, they're rough and mean and they throw the football. We've got to go after them, and all the way," said Whitworth.

If Pie Vann's Southerners win, they are expected to accept a New Year's Day invitation to the Tangerine Bowl in Orlando, Fla.

Both teams are in good physical condition, with the Southerners counting out only one player. He is reserve end Bob Yencho.

Alabama will be without center John Snoderly and fullback Eddie Pharo. Snoderly was hurt in the first game of the season and Pharo has been out about a month.

Alabama mostly fears Southern's passing and has been working on a pass defense all week. Southern is placing most of its passing chores in the hands of 6-foot-5 Bobby Hughes and Doug Barfield.

Alabama will be trying for big gains on the ground, with 200-pound halfbacks Don Comstock, George Salem and Jim Loftin, along with equally big fullbacks Max Kelley and Don Kinderknecht.

A crowd of about 15,000 is expected to see the game. Kickoff is at 2 p.m. (CST).

Maroons Hold Closed Scrimmage Today

STATE COLLEGE, Miss., Nov. 23 (AP)—Mississippi State held a light morning workout today as it continued preparations for its Dec. 1 Southeastern Conference finale at Mississippi.

Coach Wade Walker checked timing of plays as his charges ran through the snappy drill. Walker said barring practice injuries the team would be in good physical shape for Mississippi.

Fullmer Nearing Top Shape For Robinson

Fullmer boxed two rounds apiece with Paul Perkins of Salt Lake City, Utah, and Floyd McCoy of Schenectady, N.Y., and said after the workout he felt he was nearing tip-top shape for "the fight of my life."

Frogs, Bears, Ponies Put Bowl Hopes Up For Grabs

By UNITED PRESS

Texas Christian, Baylor and Southern Methodist put their bowl hopes on the line Saturday in the feature games of a Texas college football schedule that all but winds up the season.

Only a handfull of games are on tap and even less than that will remain to be played next week.

Baylor and Southern Methodist face each other in Dallas, but their Cotton Bowl hopes will also be riding on the outcome of TCU's game at Houston against Rice.

Since Texas A&M, already in as at least a co-champion, is barred from the Cotton Bowl, the other three clubs all have chances at the host team role.

TCU can sew it up by beating rice if Baylor whips SMU as expected. Baylor's hopes hinge on sweeping past SMU and then Rice while both Rice and SMU defeat TCU. SMU can take the honor by beating both Baylor and TCU.

Baylor, however, has high hopes of landing either a Sugar Bowl or Gator Bowl berth if it misses out on the Cotton Bowl bid, and an invitation to one of these new Year's Day classics may be forthcoming Saturday night if the Bears beat SMU and TCU whips Rice.

Another Southwest Conference team, Arkansas, also figures in the Gator Bowl picture if it gets by Louisiana State in its season finale at Shreveport, La., tomorrow afternoon.

And, Border Conference champion Texas Western, almost certain to be the Sun Bowl host team, entertains Trinity, a co-champion of the Gulf Coast Conference, at El Paso Saturday night.

Hardin-Simmons and New Mexico A&M, neither of which have been able to win a Border Conference game, meet at Carlsbad, N. M., while Arizona State hosts College of Pacific at Tempe and Arizona hosts Orange Bowl bound Colorado at Tucson.

Ambehaving, Six Others Run Today In Pimlico Event

BALTIMORE, Nov. 23 (AP) —New Jersey, which has sent forth only two winners of the Kentucky Derby, will be watching Ambehaving in tomorrow's Pimlico Futurity for further encouragement as its hope in next year's classic at Louisville.

If Ambehaving can knock off the half dozen other 2 - year - olds in the mile and sixteenth race it will be his fifth major triumph this year. The $71,735 first money would hike Ambehaving's bankroll in his first season on the race tracks to $188,125.

That would put him ahead of Calumet Farm's Barbizon and Wheatley Stable's Bold Ruler, two of the year's most highly regarded 1957 Derby candidates who have quit racing until next year.

Out to throw a stumbling block in Ambehaving's path tomorrow will be Greentree stable's Cohoes, John A. Morris' Missile, Ada L. Rice's pair of Indian Creek and Man Up Stairs, Brandywine stable's Cannon Fire and Maine Chance farm's Jet Ex.

Ambehaving beat Missile and Cohoes Nov. 8 in the Remsen Handicap in New York and it was that race which pushed the New Jersey colt into derby speculations.

Before, he had been looked upon only as champ in his own backyard by winning three stakes limited to colts born in New Jersey. He also was fourth in the Garden State at Camden, N. J., behind Barbizon, but partisans argue he had poor racing luck in the large field of 19.

Ambehaving was foaled at Moorestown, N. J., as the property of Mrs. Richard C. DuPont of Wilmington, Del. His father is Ambiorix and his mother Dentrifice.

New Jersey's last Kentucky Derby winner was Cavalcade in 1934. The other was Regret, the only victorious filly, in 1915.

Although Ambehaving beat them in the Remsen, Missile and Cohoes are rated capable of turning the tables. Missile has won three other major races, the Dover, Flash and Babylon, and Cohoes Annexed the Grand Union Hotel.

Spurring on the owners of the seven entries is the first prize which is the largest stacked up in 34 runnings of the Pimlico Futurity. The total purse is $83,105 of which the owners of throughbreds put up $58,105 in nominating and starting fees spread over three years.

Televiewers throughout the nation will be able to watch the race (CBS) at 2:55 p.m. CST.

Quincy, Ill., Drops Out Of 3-1 League

QUINCY, Ill., Nov. 23 (AP)—The Quincy Gems baseball team has dropped out of the Three-I League, it was announced formally.

Acting board president, Charles Ehrhardt, told a stockholders meeting the club will not operate next year because of a lack of funds.

Earlier this week, the New York Yankees, affiliated with the Gems the past 11 years, dropped its working agreement with the club. Efforts to set up agreements with five other major league clubs, failed, Ehrhardt said.

Russell Steers Uncle Sam Cage Team Past Japs

MELBOURNE, Nov. 23 (AP) — Fabulous Bill Russell brought the United States from a two-point deficit to a 44-point lead during a brilliant performance tonight as the championship favorites defeated Japan 98-40 in an Olympic games elimination basketball game.

The 6-10 All America center from San Francisco scored 20 points and held the Japanese to a mere three during his crowd-pleasing 13 minute appearance.

The Japanese, with only one player over six feet tall compared to the Americans who have only one man under six feet, surprised the U. S. with a fast break attack which kept them in the lead for most of the first half.

By halftime, Bill had moved the U. S. in front 32-20.

The American triumph made it an all victorious day for Western hemisphere Basketball teams.

Earlier Uraguay toppled Bulgaria 70-65 in what was considered an upset. Brazil defeated a South American neighbor, Chile, 78-59.

In other games the Phillipines defeated Thailand 94-55 and France whipped Singapore 81-54.

The smooth - functioning Brazillians meet Australia tomorrow night in what will be the Aussies' first test against top flight international competition.

The U. S. favorite to win its third Olympic basketball crown since World War II, got off to a quick start when K. C. Jones, flashy playmaker from San Francisco, scored on a 20 - foot two-hander at 1:50.

Then the Japanese took over until Russell entered the contest to settle matters.

Forwards Hiroshi Saito and Kenichi Imaizu shared the losers' scoring honors with six points apiece.

After the game Russell told reporters "it was a pleasure to play against the Japanese. They were a very clean team. Their only trouble was that they were too short."

Tarleton State Expecting Shot At Junior Rose

STEPHENVILLE, Tex., Nov. 23 (UP) — Tarleton State College was regarded Friday as one of three top contenders for a Junior Rose Bowl game berth Dec. 8 at Pasadena, Calif.

Three junior colleges have been listed as top prospects. Besides Tarleton State, they are Arlington State and Pearl River of Mississippi.

Tarleton ended a nine - game schedule last Saturday with a 30-7 victory over Arlington State. The Plowboys wound up their best season in 21 years with seven victories, one loss and one tie.

Selection of the Junior Rose Bowl teams is expected to be announced Sunday.

U.S. Ready For Rush Of Olympic Medals

Americans Expect To Nab More Gold On Today's Show

MELBOURNE, Nov. 23 (AP) — Suspension of hammer thrower Cliff Blair in a case reminiscent of the Eleanor Holm incident of 1936 threw a cloud over the U. S. forces in the Olympic Games but the Yanks hoped to down their troubles in a cascade of gold medals Saturday.

Led by Charley Dumas, a lanky 19-year-old Los Angeles collegian, who set a new Olympic high jump mark, Uncle Sam's athletes already have captured three gold medals and were given a good chance to capture four more medals in track and field — the 400-meter hurdles, 100-meter dash, broad jump and hammer throw—and could grab a third weightlifting crown where middleweight Pete George of Akron, Ohio, ranks as world king.

Two Americans, Charles Vinci of York, Pa., and Isaac Berger of Brooklyn, won gold medals by breaking world and Olympic records in the weightlifting competition. Vinci, a 23-year-old shipping clerk, captured the bantamweight title by lifting a total of 752 1-3 pounds. Berger, who was born in Israel and became a U. S. citizen less than a year ago, won the featherweight title with a lift of 776.6 pounds.

Despite the three gold medals, the United States placed no higher than fourth in the unofficial point standings, trailing Russia, Germany and Sweden. The point totals includes all events completed through Friday together with the six equestrian events decided at Stockholm last July.

Russia, with one gold medal, led with 44 points. Germany was second with 39½ points. Then came Sweden with 38 and the United States fourth with 34.

Except for a surprise defeat by the Yale crew in the eight-oared competition at Ballarat, the suspension of the hammer thrower and the barring of two boxers because of overweight, things ran true to form for the strong American team.

Dumas won a dramatic duel with an unheralded Australian with a leap of 6 feet, 11½ inches — one inch short of his own world record of 7 feet, ½ inch, and 3 inches better than the Olympic mark set by an American, Walter Davis at Helsinki in 1952.

Olympic records were bettered in two other final events. Russia's Vladimir Kouts, running away from the field in the last four laps, won the 10,000 meter run (a little better than six miles) in 28 minutes, 45.6 seconds, easily defeating Gordon Pirie of Great Britain, who matched strides with him until the final four laps.

Czechoslovakia's Olga Fikotova shattered the women's discus record with a toss of 176 feet, 1½ inches in a startling upset of Russia's Nina Ponomareva — the girl shoplifter of London notoriety. Earlene Brown of Los Angeles was a surprising fourth.

The United States qualified all of its entries in the 10-meter Dash, 400-meter hurdles and 800-meter run — with expected ease. Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian College and Ira Murchison of Chicago equalled the olympic record of 10.3 seconds in the 100.

A 1-2-3 sweep loomed in the 100 dash finals with Thane Baker of Elkhart, Kan., almost certain to join Morrow and Murchison. Greg Bell of Bloomington, Ind., and John Bennett of Grand Forks, N. D., two men who have jumped more than 26 feet, are likely to fight it out in the broad jump competition while Glenn Davis, Eddie Sothern and Josh Culbreath of Norristown, Pa., look like the best in the 400-meter hurdles.

Carville's Golf Event Resumed; Meet Next Month

CARVILLE, La. (AP) — The U.S. Public Health Service Hospital today announced it would hold its semi-annual invitation golf tournament Dec. 9.

Carville is the only United States hospital for Hansen's disease (leprosy).

Thomas Rickman, director of community relations, said invitations would be mailed monday to participants in previous tournaments with qualifying rounds set Saturday, Dec. 8.

Normally the patient-visitor tournament would have been held last month.

Dr. Gordon raised a storm of objections from patients and their families and friends in his brief stay as medical officer in charge when he canceled the golf tournament "in the interest of public health" and set up other restrictions on patient housing and contact with nonpatients.

Dr. Johnwick stressed resumption of the tournament was based on consideration of the factors involved and was not a reflection on the judgment of his predecessor. He said there was room for a difference of opinion on any subject.

Patterson, Moore Okayed For Next Week's Battle

CHICAGO, Nov. 23 (AP)—Youthful Floyd Patterson's once-fractured right hand has mended satisfactorily for his heavyweight bout with Archie Moore a week from tonight, the Illinois State Athletic Commission today agreed.

Following the examination, the commission conducted a customary pre-fight briefing of the fighters and their handlers and it set some sort of a record for lack of arguments.

The reason might have been because chairman Frank Gilmer shut out reporters for about 20 minutes. When the scribes finally entered the meeting room, the only controversy appeared to center on an objection by Moore's manager, Charlie Johnston, to the Illinois rule which permits a fighter 20 seconds to return if he is knocked clear out of the ring.

Johnston contended it should be only 10 seconds, the same as for a knockout within the ring or on the apron.

Gilmer told reporters that under the Illinois code, the Moore-Patterson match conceivably could end in a draw. Boxing tradition has it that a close fight goes to the champion. In this instance, there is no champion.

Gilmer stressed the fact this will be the first big fight to be scored under the National Boxing Association's new "five-must" system. This provides for a round winner to get a maximum of five points and the round loser any lesser number.

Gilmer said the new system has worked "wonderfully well" in Illinois so far with unanimous decisions on all main events and pronounced uniformity in point totals.

The Illinois chairman told both fighters and their managers the fight would have "good officiating." He took note of a report that Patterson's manager, Cus D' Amato, feared Chicago officiating.

"We feel this is going to be one of the best heavyweight title bouts ever seen," said Gilmer. "We're proud of our officials and we will give you men capable of handling such a bout."

Truman Gibson, secretary of the sponsoring International Boxing Club, injected that Illinois long has had the practice of official scoring with ink or indelible pencil. New York, he pointed out, recently adopted use of a ball-point pen for such work.

Gibson also noted that the I.B.C. has some $103,000 in the till for the bout and that low price tickets are moving better than expected. Ringside seats always move fast, he said.

For the bout to be televised nationally with the Chicago area blacked out, Moore will wear black trunks with white stripes and Patterson white trunks with black stripes.

Colonials Named By Sun Bowl As Visiting Machine

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 23 (AP) — George Washington University of Washington, D.C., will play in the Sun Bowl here on New Year's Day probably against Texas Western College of El Paso.

The announcement of the choice of George Washington came late today from Robert Kolliner, chairman of the team selection committee.

Official announcement of the selection of Texas Western as host team is expected Saturday night after the Miners complete their football season against Trinity (Tex.) University.

Kolliner said today he had talked with officials at George Washington and they had accepted the invitation.

Known as the Colonials, the George Washington team has a 7-1-1 record this season.

They have beaten Miami of Ohio, Furman, Hardin-Simmons, Virginia Military Institute, William and Mary, Richmond and The Citadel. They lost to West Virginia 14-0 and tied Boston University 20-20.

Head coach is Eugene Sherman.

It will be the second appearance of a Washington team in the Sun Bowl in recent years, Georgetown University played in 1950, losing to Texas Western.

The host team for the bowl, which dates back to 1935, is usually the winner of the Border Conference football title. Texas Western had a clean sweep of conference opposition this season and has an overall record of eight victories and one defeat. The Miners lost to North Texas State early in the season.

Tulane Continues To Prepare For Tiger Encounter

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23 (AP) — Tulane today reviewed offense and defense without contact in preparing for its season-ending game Dec. 1 with Louisiana State.

Coach Andy Pilney said he probably would give the team its only contact work before the LSU game in scrimmage tomorrow.

Backs Virgil Jester, Willie Hof and Johnny Caruso continued working in sweat clothes. Pilney said he had not determined if their injuries would keep them out of action in the final game.

Vanderbilt Halfback Hurt In Rugged Drill

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 23 (AP)—The Vanderbilt Commodores went through a rugged defensive scrimmage today in which sophomore halfback Jeff Davis suffered a dislocated left shoulder.

Dr. Brant Lipscomb, team physician, said there was no fracture but that the injury would keep the Atlanta, Ga., second string back out of the Dec. 1 game with Tennessee.

The Commodores, with an open date tomorrow, were given the weekend off. Drills will be resumed Monday.

Robinson Gets Stiff Post-Holiday Drill

Robinson, who now has boxed 44 rounds, including a 10-round bout last week, did two rounds with Lee Williams of Augusta, Ga. and Abdul Ali of Brooklyn.

Arkansas 2 Touchdown Choice To Defeat L.S.U.

SHREVEPORT, La., Nov. 23 (AP) — Steadily - improving Arkansas was a two-touchdown favorite tonight to whip Louisiana State tomorrow, a trick the Razorbacks haven't turned since 1929.

LSU, in the depths of one of its worst seasons in history, has won only one game while dropping seven this year. Arkansas has six victories against three losses.

The LSU line was in good shape for its effort to halt the Arkansas attempts to gain on the ground. Both split-T teams concentrate on hard running in preference to air attacks.

LSU coach Paul Dietzel planned a starting backfield with M. C. Reynolds at quarterback, Joe May and J. W. Brodnax at halfback and Jimmy Taylor at full.

Arkansas will have Don Christian at quarterback, Donnie Stone and Ron Underwood at halfbacks and Gerald Nesbitt at fullback.

It will be the final regular game of the season for Arkansas. On Dec. 1 LSU will meet its traditional foe Tulane.

Approximately 20,000 fans were expected to find cool weather at the 2 p.m. (CST) kickoff.

Southerners May Earn Bowl Clash Via 'Bama Upset

Alabama-Miss. Southern

TUSCALOOSA, Ala., Nov. 23 (AP) —Alabama's Crimson Tide goes against a big Mississippi Southern team tomorrow which has lost only one game this season — 20 - 9 to Florida State last week.

Alabama, seekin its third victory this season, is figured as a touchdown favorite, but Head Coach J. B. Whitworth is taking nothing for granted. Southern upset Alabama in both of their last two meetings.

"They're big, they're rough and mean and they throw the football. We've got to go after them, and all the way," said Whitworth.

If Pie Vann's Southerners win, they are expected to accept a New Year's Day invitation to the Tangerine Bowl in Orlando, Fla.

Both teams are in good physical condition, with the Southerners counting out only one player. He is reserve end Bob Yencho.

Alabama will be without center John Snoderly and fullback Eddie Pharo. Snoderly was hurt in the first game of the season and Pharo has been out about a month.

Alabama mostly fears Southern's passing and has been working on a pass defense all week. Southern is placing most of its passing chores in the hands of 6-foot-5 Bobby Hughes and Doug Barfield.

Alabama will be trying for big gains on the ground, with 200-pound halfbacks Don Comstock, George Salem and Jim Loftin, along with equally big fullbacks Max Kelley and Don Kinderknecht.

A crowd of about 15,000 is expected to see the game. Kickoff is at 2 p.m. (CST).

Maroons Hold Closed Scrimmage Today

Coach Wade Walker checked timing of plays as his charges ran through the snappy drill. Walker said barring practice injuries the team would be in good physical shape for Mississippi.

Fullmer Nearing Top Shape For Robinson

Fullmer boxed two rounds apiece with Paul Perkins of Salt Lake City, Utah, and Floyd McCoy of Schenectady, N.Y., and said after the workout he felt he was nearing tip-top shape for "the fight of my life."

SUSPENDED — Chicago Cardinals' quarterback Lamar McHan, former University of Arkansas All-Southwest Conference back, has been suspended for rest of the football season and fined $3,000 for "insubordination" in game against Pittsburgh Steelers Nov. 18.

Raging Tide Hits Finish Line First At Fair Grounds

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 23 (AP) — Clover Leaf Farms' Raing Tide led all the way to win the featured $1,800 Cotlogomor race at the Fair Grounds by a nose today.

Raging Tide returned $17.40, $6.40 and $4. Dark Buster paid $3.40 and $3. Rod Man returned $4.20.

Policeman's Son Freed In Robbery

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Nov. 23 (AP)—A circuit court jury has freed a policeman's son of charges of armed robbery.

Sidney Carlton Creel, 20, was declared innocent yesterday of the armed robbery of Charles Tilghman in May 1955.

Creel testified that Tilghman gave him the money and jewelry.

WHEN HE SHOWS YOU THE DOOR — USE IT!

By DOROTHY DIX

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I was 16 when I met and fell in love with Leon. Two years later, when we were about to become engaged, he told me he had been married and divorced. However, I didn't mind as he said he had never loved his wife. My parents objected to our marriage, but when they saw how wonderful he was to me, they relented. Leon still hates them, though, and refuses to let me visit them. He says if I want to see them, I can stay with them. In fact, he's always telling me to go back to them.

We live with his people, who aren't very nice to me. How can I get him to overcome his dislike of my folks, and how can I get his parents to treat me better?

Mamie

DEAR MAMIE: I'm sure you wouldn't buy a dress just because it looked nice! You'd make quite sure quality of material backed up its style. Yet you accept a man merely on the ground that he's charming, with not even a second look to see what hides behind the window dressing. A man deceived you for two years, and you "don't mind"! He "said" he never loved his wife, so you don't even challenge the why's and wherefore's! It apparently isn't evident to you, even now, that she was quickly fed up with "charm."

Leon's repeated invitations for you to go home to your folks would seem to link you with them in his overall dislike. For all you'll ever get out of Leon or his family, you'd better accept the invitation to go.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I'm engaged to a boy overseas who will be gone ten more months. I'm getting tired sitting home while my girl friends go out, and have written to tell him so. I asked what he thought of me dating, as long as the boy knew I was engaged. His reply was for me to return the ring to his mother and when he came back we'd decide whether to pick up again or call it quits. I want to date but don't want to lose him.

Beatrice

DEAR BEATRICE: You want your cake, you want to eat it, and you want enough crumbs left for pudding. Obviously you're confronted with a choice — to be or not to be engaged. Since your fettered state is bringing so much discontent, give back the ring and try your freedom. Remember, your fiance may discover a new heart interest, too.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My husband earns a good salary, which we have always managed very well. We had quite a nice bank balance, but were talked into a business deal that failed. Our savings were wiped out and we owe quite a sum of money. I can't work as I have my invalid mother-in-law to nurse. We have several loans in various places; would it be possible to consolidate them to ease the payments? We have security.

Stephanie

DEAR STEPHANIE: You could probably finance an overall loan through a bank — but stay away from anything else. Many banks advertise their loan departments and will give you every consideration.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My mother-in-law lives near us, and is in the habit of spending just about every evening at our house. I like to go to church at night, but don't want to leave her alone. She won't come with me, and refuses to visit her other children. Must I stay in all the time to please her?

Winnie

DEAR WINNIE: There certainly must be some attraction at your house — and my guess is it's an easy-going daughter-in-law who wouldn't hurt a fly.

You aren't the type to make a fuss, but perhaps this system would work. Tell mother-in-law in advance that you're going to church on a certain night, in fact, that you intend to make it a habit. If she comes anyway, park her in front of TV, give her a snack, and leave. Come home with some interesting chit-chat about the service, the sermon or just people. Easy breaking-in will solve the problem.

Send your problem to Dorothy Dix. Or write for her free leaflet D-1, "Broken Romances." In all cases, be sure to enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, and send request to her, care of this newspaper.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

U.S. Missing Chance For Dramatic Refugee Airlift

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The United States appears to have let much of the drama of the Hungarian airlift slip through its fingers.

There seems to be less urgency behind this great movement of human beings than went into the movement of coal into Berlin during the 1948 blockade.

A few planes are coming in daily when there might have been dramatic armadas. Perhaps things will step up as the movement gets going.

First arrivals were requested to applaud the American flag, that emblem which cannot be truly loved unless it is freely loved.

They were asked to applaud Americans who had helped arrange their trip, when all they needed was a broad bosom of liberty on which to weep for their homeland.

The refugees come from a country where for a thousand years the people have had enough of bowing to foreign emblems and foreign leaders.

They come from a people who have fought incessantly for liberty though seldom enjoying it. Many of them have just been fighting again.

Conditions regarding the handling of the refugees in Austria are becoming increasingly bad. The little neutral country is rapidly running out of even the barest transit facilities as thousands continue to pour across the border.

The movement of these people cannot be merely a matter of duty. It is also a matter of the heart.

For these people, even as did the founding fathers of America, are casting their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor into a malestrom. They only hope that all will be returned one day upon the living waters of freedom for Hungary.

Oklahoman Held For Manslaughter

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Nov. 23 (UP)— Cecil Sidney Elston of Miami, Okla., was brought here Friday by officers to face a second degree manslaughter charge filed after a woman hitchhiker died in a traffic mishap near here.

A woman, tentatively identified as Mrs. William E. Bynum of Grand Prairie, Tex., was killed when a truck driven by Elston plunged off the Arkansas river bridge on U.S. 69 north of here.

The truck driver said he had given the woman a ride while enroute north from Dallas. Elston said the woman told him she was hitchhiking from California to St. Louis.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

AXYDLBAAXR
is LONGFELLOW

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Policeman's Son Freed In Robbery

HATTIESBURG, Miss., Nov. 23 (AP)—A circuit court jury has freed a policeman's son of charges of armed robbery.

Sidney Carlton Creel, 20, was declared innocent yesterday of the armed robbery of Charles Tilghman in May 1955.

Creel testified that Tilghman gave him the money and jewelry.

WHEN HE SHOWS YOU THE DOOR — USE IT!

By DOROTHY DIX

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I was 16 when I met and fell in love with Leon. Two years later, when we were about to become engaged, he told me he had been married and divorced. However, I didn't mind as he said he had never loved his wife. My parents objected to our marriage, but when they saw how wonderful he was to me, they relented. Leon still hates them, though, and refuses to let me visit them. He says if I want to see them, I can stay with them. In fact, he's always telling me to go back to them.

We live with his people, who aren't very nice to me. How can I get him to overcome his dislike of my folks, and how can I get his parents to treat me better?

Mamie

DEAR MAMIE: I'm sure you wouldn't buy a dress just because it looked nice! You'd make quite sure quality of material backed up its style. Yet you accept a man merely on the ground that he's charming, with not even a second look to see what hides behind the window dressing. A man deceived you for two years, and you "don't mind"! He "said" he never loved his wife, so you don't even challenge the why's and wherefore's! It apparently isn't evident to you, even now, that she was quickly fed up with "charm."

Leon's repeated invitations for you to go home to your folks would seem to link you with them in his overall dislike. For all you'll ever get out of Leon or his family, you'd better accept the invitation to go.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I'm engaged to a boy overseas who will be gone ten more months. I'm getting tired sitting home while my girl friends go out, and have written to tell him so. I asked what he thought of me dating, as long as the boy knew I was engaged. His reply was for me to return the ring to his mother and when he came back we'd decide whether to pick up again or call it quits. I want to date but don't want to lose him.

Beatrice

DEAR BEATRICE: You want your cake, you want to eat it, and you want enough crumbs left for pudding. Obviously you're confronted with a choice — to be or not to be engaged. Since your fettered state is bringing so much discontent, give back the ring and try your freedom. Remember, your fiance may discover a new heart interest, too.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My husband earns a good salary, which we have always managed very well. We had quite a nice bank balance, but were talked into a business deal that failed. Our savings were wiped out and we owe quite a sum of money. I can't work as I have my invalid mother-in-law to nurse. We have several loans in various places; would it be possible to consolidate them to ease the payments? We have security.

Stephanie

DEAR STEPHANIE: You could probably finance an overall loan through a bank — but stay away from anything else. Many banks advertise their loan departments and will give you every consideration.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: My mother-in-law lives near us, and is in the habit of spending just about every evening at our house. I like to go to church at night, but don't want to leave her alone. She won't come with me, and refuses to visit her other children. Must I stay in all the time to please her?

Winnie

DEAR WINNIE: There certainly must be some attraction at your house — and my guess is it's an easy-going daughter-in-law who wouldn't hurt a fly.

You aren't the type to make a fuss, but perhaps this system would work. Tell mother-in-law in advance that you're going to church on a certain night, in fact, that you intend to make it a habit. If she comes anyway, park her in front of TV, give her a snack, and leave. Come home with some interesting chit-chat about the service, the sermon or just people. Easy breaking-in will solve the problem.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

U.S. Missing Chance For Dramatic Refugee Airlift

By J. M. ROBERTS
Associated Press News Analyst

The United States appears to have let much of the drama of the Hungarian airlift slip through its fingers.

There seems to be less urgency behind this great movement of human beings than went into the movement of coal into Berlin during the 1948 blockade.

A few planes are coming in daily when there might have been dramatic armadas. Perhaps things will step up as the movement gets going.

First arrivals were requested to applaud the American flag, that emblem which cannot be truly loved unless it is freely loved.

They were asked to applaud Americans who had helped arrange their trip, when all they needed was a broad bosom of liberty on which to weep for their homeland.

The refugees come from a country where for a thousand years the people have had enough of bowing to foreign emblems and foreign leaders.

They come from a people who have fought incessantly for liberty though seldom enjoying it. Many of them have just been fighting again.

Conditions regarding the handling of the refugees in Austria are becoming increasingly bad. The little neutral country is rap ly running out of even the bar transit facilities as thousan continue to pour across the bord

The movement of these peo cannot be merely a matter of du It is also a matter of the heart.

For these people, even as the founding fathers of Ameri are casting their lives, their f tunes and their sacred honor i a malestrom. They only hope t all will be returned one day u the living waters of freedom Hungary.

The director announces that 80,000 plates for the Baton Rouge area will go on sale from the new offices.

While the legislature ordered that "Sportsman's Paradise" appear on the new tags, the order came too late to be placed thereon.

The outlook is that several hard of hearing, needy children in the Monroe area may receive as Christmas gifts, hearing aids this year.

If any reader knows of a case of this nature he or she is asked to notify V. L. Gloege, 1611 Jackson street. He represents here the Sonotone system that is ready to make the donation as a Christmas gift.

Well, again the Good Fellows are out on their labor of love. From now until December 24 we shall, in this office, be ready to receive notification of worthy cases of need and shall endeavor to do to the utmost to fill immediate needs at the holiday season.

For many years this has been a project dear to the hearts of many who are prompted to prove eager to perform a helpful service to those who have no other way to secure essentials of life and to make the youngsters of the family realize that they do have friends around them.

The Selman Football squad was the center of attraction at Selman Elementary School the other afternoon. They were named guests of honor at a party planned by the seventh grade girls and Mrs. Jake Humphries.

During general assembly, after the third grade from Mrs. Faye Cook's room presented a delightful Thanksgiving play, Coach Billy Watson presented the football team to the group. In his introduction he pointed out that the boys were named champions of their league, having been undefeated by any other conference contender. The games played were: Woodlawn (2) scores 20-0; 26-13; Shady Grove (2) 19-0; 26-13; Lenwil (2) 7-0; 13-0. Two other games played (not conference games resulted in defeats — but did not mar the boys record. Freddie Mann, captain was presented with a trophy which he in turn presented to the school, Mrs. Katie M. Zell, principal, accepting.

Cash Registers Ring In Biggest Business Season

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (UP)—Cash registers have started ringing up what is expected to be the biggest Christmas season ever experienced by America's merchants.

While Christmas shoping traditionaly starts the day after Thanksgiving many store owners have tried to push the selling season back earlier this year — advertising in special yuletide catalogs even before Halloween.

Fuller employment and the longer period of yuletide promotion lead to estimate this year's Christmas spending will top last year's by per cent.

Before World War II the Himalayan kingdom of Nepal had permitted only 230 westerners to come within its boarders. Today it welcomes tourists.

It takes a GIANT to move mountains

It takes a giant to move mountains of merchandise, too. In the world of selling there is a giant who lives in every town—the newspaper.

Nothing develops the rich ore of responsive customers like the newspaper because:

1. Over 56,000,000 newspapers are sold every day.
2. Over 88% of U. S. homes got a newspaper yesterday.*
3. 64% of men and 73% of women read the general news pages with advertising.†

More and more, retailers, wholesalers and distributors are exploiting people's daily habit of newspaper reading by advertising in newspapers regularly.

If you want to move merchandise, you need a giant's help. You need the newspaper.

Missouri Pacific May Dispose Of Bus Operations

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 23 (AP) — The Missouri Pacific Railroad announced today it is negotiating for sale of its bus-operating subsidiary, the Missouri Pacific Transportation Co., which operates in nine state.

Paul J. Neff, president of the railroad, said "negotiations are going on, and there may be a sale in the next few days." Prospective buyers were not named.

The railroad owns 100 per cent of the stock of the bus company, which officials said has been losing money since World War II and in 1955 had a deficit of $453,389.

The bus firm operates 170 buses over a 5,300-mile route in Missouri, Illinois, Arkansas, Kansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Nebraska, Tennessee and Texas.

A hospital and medical clinic in Kayseri, Turkey which was established 750 years ago, in 1206, still stands.

Workman Killed

CLEVELAND, Miss., Nov. 23 (AP)—A Kansas construction worker, J. R. Barnes Jr., 20, of Greensburg, was killed last night when he fell 57 feet from a concrete bucket dangling from a grain elevator.

Police Chief W. C. Dempsey said officials of Chalmers & Barton Construction Co. of Hutchinson, Kan., told him Barnes was "playing" on the elevator and fell from the bucket when he waved to a friend on the ground.

The body was sent to Greensburg today for services and burial.

Breaux is to make removal of his office immediately prior to the opening of the sale.

The director announces that 80,000 plates for the Baton Rouge area will go on sale from the new offices.

While the legislature ordered that "Sportsman's Paradise" appear on the new tags, the order came too late to be placed thereon.

The outlook is that several hard of hearing, needy children in the Monroe area may receive as Christmas gifts, hearing aids this year.

If any reader knows of a case of this nature he or she is asked to notify V. L. Gloege, 1611 Jackson street. He represents here the Sonotone system that is ready to make the donation as a Christmas gift.

Well, again the Good Fellows are out on their labor of love. From now until December 24 we shall, in this office, be ready to receive notification of worthy cases of need and shall endeavor to do to the utmost to fill immediate needs at the holiday season.

For many years this has been a project dear to the hearts of many who are prompted to prove eager to perform a helpful service to those who have no other way to secure essentials of life and to make the youngsters of the family realize that they do have friends around them.

The Selman Football squad was the center of attraction at Selman Elementary School the other afternoon. They were named guests of honor at a party planned by the seventh grade girls and Mrs. Jake Humphries.

During general assembly, after the third grade from Mrs. Faye Cook's room presented a delightful Thanksgiving play, Coach Billy Watson presented the football team to the group. In his introduction he pointed out that the boys were named champions of their league, having been undefeated by any other conference contender. The games played were: Woodlawn (2) scores 20-0; 26-13; Shady Grove (2) 19-0; 26-13; Lenwil (2) 7-0; 13-0. Two other games played (not conference games resulted in defeats — but did not mar the boys record. Freddie Mann, captain was presented with a trophy which he in turn presented to the school, Mrs. Katie M. Zell, principal, accepting.

Cash Registers Ring In Biggest Business Season

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23 (UP)—Cash registers have started ringing up what is expected to be the biggest Christmas season ever experienced by America's merchants.

While Christmas shoping traditionaly starts the day after Thanksgiving many store owners have tried to push the selling season back earlier this year — advertising in special yuletide catalogs even before Halloween.

Fuller employment and the longer period of yuletide promotion lead to estimate this year's Christmas spending will top last year's by per cent.

Before World War II the Himalayan kingdom of Nepal had permitted only 230 westerners to come within its boarders. Today it welcomes tourists.

Missouri Pacific May Dispose Of Bus Operations

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 23 (AP) — The Missouri Pacific Railroad announced today it is negotiating for sale of its bus-operating subsidiary, the Missouri Pacific Transportation Co., which operates in nine state.

Paul J. Neff, president of the railroad, said "negotiations are going on, and there may be a sale in the next few days." Prospective buyers were not named.

The railroad owns 100 per cent of the stock of the bus company, which officials said has been losing money since World War II and in 1955 had a deficit of $453,389.

The bus firm operates 170 buses over a 5,300-mile route in Missouri, Illinois, Arkansas, Kansas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Nebraska, Tennessee and Texas.

A hospital and medical clinic in Kayseri, Turkey which was established 750 years ago, in 1206, still stands.

Workman Killed

CLEVELAND, Miss., Nov. 23 (AP)—A Kansas construction worker, J. R. Barnes Jr., 20, of Greensburg, was killed last night when he fell 57 feet from a concrete bucket dangling from a grain elevator.

Police Chief W. C. Dempsey said officials of Chalmers & Barton Construction Co. of Hutchinson, Kan., told him Barnes was "playing" on the elevator and fell from the bucket when he waved to a friend on the ground.

The body was sent to Greensburg today for services and burial.

Number 8 of a series • Copyright 1956, Bureau of Advertising, American Newspaper Publishers Association

It takes a GIANT
to move mountains

It takes a giant to move mountains of merchandise, too. In the world of selling there is a giant who lives in every town—the newspaper.

Nothing develops the rich ore of responsive customers like the newspaper because:

1. Over 56,000,000 newspapers are sold every day.
2. Over 88% of U. S. homes got a newspaper yesterday.*
3. 64% of men and 73% of women read the general news pages with advertising.†

More and more, retailers, wholesalers and distributors are exploiting people's daily habit of newspaper reading by advertising in newspapers regularly.

If you want to move merchandise, you need a giant's help. You need the newspaper.

All business is local...and so are all newspapers.

Giant stripping shovel built by Bucyrus-Erie for Sunnyhill Coal Co., New Lexington, Ohio. Dipper scoops up 45 cubic yards at a gulp.

Two Area Firms Incorporated

Wade O. Martin, Jr., secretary of state, announced Friday that two area businesses had filed articles of incorporation with his office.

The Home Office Supply company, Inc., 115 Cotton street, West Monroe, was reported to have a capital investment of $50,000. It will deal in general office supplies.

Named as officers in the corporation were Carl W. Slakter, Mrs. Betty W. Slakter and Thomas W. Leigh.

In Farmerville, the Farmerville Insurance Agency, Inc., 700 Main street, reported a total capital investment of $100,000.

The Lakeshore Subdivision, Inc., of Monroe was reported to be dissolved by Martin. The company handled the real estate in the Lakeshore and Broadmoor subdivisions near Monroe.

Real Estate Transfers

Edward V. Waller sold to Frances Waller Holm the W½ of the SW¼ of section 5, the E½ of the SE¼, the SE¼ of the NE¼ and the NW¼ of the SE¼ of section 6 and the SW¼ of the NW¼ of section 5, township 16 north, range 1 east, for $1,000.
